Handbook

1999
The University attempts to ensure that the information contained in this handbook is correct as at 12 August 1998. The University reserves the right to vary any matter described in the handbook at any time without notice.
Equal opportunity

It is the policy of the University of Technology, Sydney to provide equal opportunity for all persons regardless of sex, race, marital status, family responsibilities, disability, sexual preference, age, political conviction or religious belief.

Free speech

The University supports the right to freedom of speech and the rights of its members to contribute to the diversity of views presented in our society.

Non-discriminatory language

UTS has adopted the use of non-discriminatory language as a key strategy in providing equal opportunity for all staff and students. Guidelines for the use of non-discriminatory language have been developed and all members of the University community are encouraged to use them.
Bachelor of Education in Special Education

Course code: TE12

Course coordinator: Joan Jardine

4th year conversion

This is a one-year full-time or two-year part-time course. The course is designed to meet the needs of graduates from a three-year Bachelor of Teaching or Diploma in Teaching. Teachers with a two-year Teacher's Certificate may also apply and will need to undertake additional units. School leavers and others beginning their tertiary studies should refer to Bachelor of Education in Special Education (TE20), four-year course, in the Initial Teacher Education Courses section of this book.

This course combines academic study and school experience in preparing students to teach people with mild to severe difficulties and disabilities. The course takes a non-categorical approach to disability, basing its approach on instructional need rather than etiology of disability. The needs of people of all ages are addressed with an emphasis on the school years. The Bachelor of Education in Special Education (TE12) has been designed to respond to increasing demands for staff with special education expertise in educational and community service systems. Completion of the course enables teachers to work in any special education setting other than those for persons with visual and/or aural impairment.

General information

WELCOME

Welcome to the University of Technology, Sydney (UTS), one of the largest universities in New South Wales – a university with an international reputation for quality programs and flexible learning. UTS develops, and regularly revises its programs of study in partnership with industry, government and professional bodies, so that its degrees are based on the latest professional standards and current practices. As a result, UTS produces graduates who are ready for work, and this is demonstrated in the high numbers of its students who enter the workforce within four months of finishing their degree.

UTS offers its 24,000 students a lively, supportive and diverse learning environment across three campuses, and a range of social, cultural and sporting facilities to enrich each student's experience. UTS regards learning as a lifelong experience, and offers a range of programs to cater for the educational needs of people at a variety of stages in their lives, and from diverse backgrounds and cultures. UTS welcomes school leavers and re-enrolling students, those returning to study after a break, those seeking to add to their existing qualifications, and those who wish to change direction or begin a new career.

ABOUT UTS

UTS offers over 100 undergraduate degrees and more than 280 postgraduate degrees, which are developed by the Faculties of Business; Design, Architecture and Building; Education; Engineering; Humanities and Social Sciences; Law; Mathematical and Computing Sciences; Nursing; and Science. Each of these faculties is responsible for a range of programs across a number of key disciplines, and many offer courses in conjunction with one another, or with the Institute for International Studies.

ABOUT THE UTS HANDBOOKS

Every year UTS produces 10 faculty/institute handbooks which provide the latest information on approved courses and subjects to be offered in the following year. These handbooks include comprehensive details about course content and structure, subject and elective choices, attendance patterns, credit point requirements, and important faculty and student information. Many of them also contain faculty policies and guidelines for participation in specific courses. This provides students with the necessary information to meet the requirements of the course, complete a program of study, and receive a degree.

UTS also produces a companion volume to these handbooks every year. The UTS Calendar contains the University Act, By-law and Rules, a list of courses offered across the University, and other useful University information. Copies of the faculty/institute handbooks and the UTS Calendar are held in the University’s libraries and faculty offices and can be purchased at the Co-op Bookshop.

The handbooks and Calendar are also published on the World Wide Web at:
UTS PRIORITIES FOR THE FUTURE

Flexible learning
The University of Technology, Sydney has made it a priority to develop a more flexible and responsive learning environment for its students. One of the ways UTS has achieved this is by restructuring some of its courses, giving students the opportunity to combine core studies with sub-majors or electives from across the University. This means that some students now have a choice of learning pathways (or subject combinations) which lead to a degree.

In an increasing number of UTS courses, some students also have a choice in the method of learning. For example, some subjects offer campus tutorials and lectures, others a mixed mode setting which combines intensive workshops, self-managed learning booklets, an interactive web site and phone links to other students.

UTS has also introduced greater flexibility in the time, rate and location at which students can learn, so that now many courses are offered in summer and winter schools, others allow students to use self-managed learning tools to learn in their own time. The implementation of work-based learning means that UTS is developing courses in conjunction with industry and business, so that students can learn at work, and be assessed on participation and proficiency in the workplace.

Flexible learning at UTS is also reflected in changes which have been made to assessment, enrolment and fee payments, which are being geared to make the systems more user-friendly. For more information about flexible learning alternatives, contact your Faculty Student Centre.

Internationalisation
At UTS students receive an education of international standing, because the University is committed to providing increased awareness and understanding of international issues for its students and staff. It achieves this by delivering and sharing its educational and research expertise overseas, expanding links with industry and business to include international relationships, and inviting students from overseas to gain a UTS award in Australia.

Some UTS students also have the opportunity to live and study overseas. Through the Institute for International Studies, students can study the language and culture of a non-English-speaking country or region of the world. Undergraduate and postgraduate programs in International Studies can be combined with a range of degrees from faculties across the University. For more information contact the Institute for International Studies.

email isinfo@uts.edu.au

Alternatively, students can undertake part of a degree overseas through the exchange student program. Contact the Faculty Student Centre or the International Programs Office for more information.

Overseas students who want to study at UTS must meet the normal entry requirements for the course and be proficient in English. For details about courses, fees and application procedures, contact the International Programs Office.

telephone 9514 1531
email Intlprograms@uts.edu.au

Research
UTS has developed a lively research culture which encourages interdisciplinary research and contributes to issues of international, national and local significance. UTS offers a choice of over 280 postgraduate courses including PhDs and Professional Doctorates. UTS promotes the formation of strategic partnerships with appropriate external organisations, and this helps students to make important links with the workplace before completing their studies.

Because UTS focuses on the needs of industry, business, the professions, cultural organisations and the community, its postgraduate courses are extremely attractive to employers and students alike. Postgraduate students are encouraged to be innovative and flexible in applying the knowledge gained during studies here, and these attributes make graduates well placed to handle the increasing complexities of globalisation, technological change and the workplace.
HOW TO APPLY TO STUDY AT UTS

Undergraduate applications
The NSW and ACT Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) processes most applications for undergraduate courses which start at the beginning of the year. Students are required to lodge these UAC application forms between August and October. To find out more about these courses and the application procedures, check the UAC Guide. Students can also apply for entry to some UTS courses by lodging a UTS application form directly with the University. These are usually courses that are not available to school leavers.

A small number of UTS courses also start in the middle of the year. Applications for these should be made direct to UTS in May. For more information contact the UTS Information Centres at the City campus on 9514 1222 or Kuring-gai campus on 9514 5555.

Postgraduate applications
Applications for postgraduate courses should be made directly to UTS. For courses starting at the beginning of the year, most applications are open from August to October, but some may have earlier closing dates. For courses starting in the middle of the year, applications close in May. For more information contact the UTS Information Centres at the City campus on 9514 1222 or Kuring-gai campus on 9514 5555.

International student applications
International student’s applications for both postgraduate and undergraduate courses can be made either directly to the International Programs Office or through one of the University’s registered agents. For courses starting at the beginning of the year, applications should be received by 31 December of the previous year. For courses starting in the middle of the year, applications should be received by 31 May of that year. For more information please contact the International Programs Office on 9514 1531.

Applications for non-award and external award study
Students who want to study a single subject at UTS which is not part of a UTS degree or qualification, must apply for non-award or external award study. There are four application periods, and closing dates vary for each semester. Some faculties may have special application procedures which will depend on the subjects chosen. For more information contact the UTS Information Centres or the appropriate faculty office.

Transition to university programs

UTS offers a free ‘Study Success’ program of integrated lectures and activities before semester begins, to help new students manage the transition to university study. Students are informed of academic expectations, the skills needed to be an independent learner, and learning strategies which can help them successfully manage the work load. To help students adjust to university life, they are familiarised with the campus, the services available, the learning assistance programs available and valuable information about how the university and faculties operate.

The program is run by university staff with assistance from current students and recent graduates. For more information contact Student Services Unit.

telephone: 9514 1177 (City)
or 9514 5342 (Kuring-gai)

FINANCIAL HELP

Austudy/Youth Allowance

Students under 25 years old, may be eligible to receive financial assistance in the form of the Youth Allowance, which replaced AUSTUDY for people in this age group from 1998.

Full-time students over 25 years old, may be eligible to receive Austudy which provides financial help to students who meet its income and assets requirements. Application forms and information about eligibility for Austudy are available from Student Services at Kuring-gai or City campuses.

Federal legislation sets strict requirements over which the University has no control. It is important for the students concerned to understand these requirements.

Students who receive Austudy and decide to drop subjects during the semester, need to be aware that to remain eligible for Austudy they must be enrolled in a minimum of 18 credit points, or have a HECS liability for the semester of .375. The only exceptions made are for students with disabilities which interfere with their studies, students who are single supporting parents or those who have been directed by the University to reduce their study load.

For more information, talk to a student welfare officer in the Student Services Unit.

telephone: 9514 1177 (City)
or 9514 5342 (Kuring-gai)

Application forms for both schemes should be lodged as soon as possible with any Centrelink office, or:

Abstudy

Abstudy assists Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander tertiary students by providing income support and other assistance. For more information about Abstudy, contact the staff at Jumbunna Centre for Australian Indigenous Studies, Education and Research.

Level 17, Tower Building
telephone 9514 1905.

HECS (Higher Education Contribution Scheme)

HECS is a financial contribution paid to the Commonwealth Government by tertiary students towards the cost of their education. HECS is payable each teaching period as a proportion of the standard annual charges set by the Commonwealth Government, and the amount paid will vary according to the number of credit points undertaken and the method of payment nominated. Many students choose to defer their payment until they have finished their degree and are participating in the work force. However, some pay the amount in full (up front) or pay part of the amount (partial payment). Some tertiary students are not required to pay HECS.

Federal legislation sets strict conditions for HECS over which the University has no control. HECS charges are based on the subjects in which students are enrolled on the HECS Census Date. It is important for students to realise that any reductions in their academic workload after the census date for a particular semester (e.g. by withdrawals or substitution of subjects with a lower credit point value) will not reduce their HECS liability.

For Autumn Semester the HECS Census Date is 31 March, and for Spring Semester the HECS Census Date is 31 August. HECS Census Dates for other teaching periods can be obtained from the UTS Information Centre.
EQUITY AND DIVERSITY

It is the policy of the University of Technology, Sydney to provide equal opportunity for all persons regardless of sex, race, marital status, family responsibilities, disability, sexual preference, age, political conviction or religious belief. UTS has a strong commitment to ensure that the diverse nature of the Australian society is reflected in all aspects of its employment and education.

The Equity and Diversity Unit provides a range of services for students and prospective students. These include community outreach programs to support the participation of disadvantaged students/under-represented groups; coordination of the inpUTS Educational Access Scheme for students who have experienced long-term educational disadvantage; coordination of financial scholarships and awards for commencing low-income students; coordination of the Women’s Re-Entry Scholarships for women who have been out of the workplace due to family responsibilities; and the provision of confidential advice and assistance with the resolution of equity-related student grievances, including complaints about racism, sexism, sex-based harassment, homophobia, pregnancy/family responsibilities, or other equity issues. The Unit also undertakes research, conducts training and develops policy and programs relating to equity, diversity and social justice issues.

MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

Welcome to the Faculty of Education.
The UTS Faculty of Education is unique in Australia because we offer courses that prepare students for work in the full range of educational contexts – from school and TAFE to workplace and community education. The Faculty also caters for study in specialised fields, such as music, art, special education, flexible learning, literacy and numeracy, TESOL, TLOTE, vocational education, community education, human resource development and Aboriginal education. We are the only faculty in Australia which has this range of courses. By offering students Bachelor’s degrees, Graduate Certificates, Graduate Diplomas, Master’s degrees, and the Doctor of Education and Doctor of Philosophy degrees, the Faculty recognises the need for lifelong learning and professional development.

The Faculty has recently developed its triennial plan 1998-2000 which is available on our web site http://www.education.uts.edu.au. The key directions outlined there include the development of flexible learning, workplace learning and internationalisation. We anticipate offering all our postgraduate courses in flexible mode by the end of the triennium. This will mean that all students will be offered the mode or modes of their choice – from weekly attendance to block attendance to fully distance mode using self-managed learning materials, supplemented by the use of the www. We envisage that students will be able to change their learning mode during their course as their circumstances dictate.

Developments in learning theory over recent years support the view that workplace and experiential learning are fundamentally important to the development of understanding. We believe that it is both possible and desirable to marry a university education with the specific objectives of organisations. For this reason we hope to be offering a number of our courses in and for particular institutions and firms within the triennium.

Over recent years we have attracted a quite large number of international students from Japan, Thailand, Korea, Singapore, Laos, Vietnam, China, amongst other countries. We also have courses running in Kuwait, Laos and Mexico. These students contribute to our own understanding of educational issues and help us to realise our aim to be global in outlook and we welcome them warmly.

The traditional barriers between the educational sectors are breaking down as are the divisions between higher education and the communities it serves. We believe with our unique range of courses, our international focus, our commitment to workplace learning and the offering of courses in flexible mode that we are in a good position to contribute to the education profession, broadly defined, as it seeks to meet the challenges of the changing global environment.

We have within the faculty Jumbunna CAISER, a centre with special responsibility for supporting Aboriginal students across the University. The University as a whole and this faculty in particular have a proud record of achievement with respect to graduating Aboriginal students – the highest number in Australia.

Professor Andrew Gonczi
Dean
FACULTY MISSION STATEMENT

The Faculty of Education provides a unique mixture of adult, vocational and teacher education. It is one of the largest faculties of education in Australia.

Within the University’s overall goals, the special mission of the Faculty of Education is to serve the community by providing higher education for professional practice in the full range of educational contexts – formal and informal, adult and school, vocational and general.

The Faculty of Education is committed to:

- promoting lifelong learning;
- connecting academic scholarship and research with practice;
- encouraging service and leadership in the community;
- developing students' capacity for both autonomous and group learning;
- promoting education as a vehicle for social justice.

INFORMATION FOR EDUCATION STUDENTS

The Faculty of Education is located at two different campuses of the University.

Adult Education (in Haymarket at the City campus) provides courses for adult educators who work in the industrial, commercial and public sectors, welfare, school and community settings, and vocational education.

Telephone: 9514 3900
Fax: 9514 3939
email: Information.Assistant@uts.edu.au
www: http://www.education.uts.edu.au

Teacher Education (at the Kuring-gai campus) provides pre-service courses for beginner teachers and postgraduate programs for experienced teachers.

Telephone: 9514 5621
Fax: 9514 5556
email: Maureen.Juckes@uts.edu.au
www: http://www.education.uts.edu.au

Centres

The Faculty has established several centres to pursue research, consulting and professional ventures. The following centres have been approved by the Vice-Chancellor:

Research Centre for Vocational Education and Training Centre for Research in Education and the Arts Centre for Language and Literacy
Centre for Training and Development Services
Centre for Popular Education

Student support

The Faculty’s assembly of students is one of the most diverse in UTS. It ranges from school leavers enrolled in their first degree, to experienced adult educators who are continuing their professional development through postgraduate study. Consequently, the Faculty delivers its courses in many different ways to meet these diverse needs.

The Faculty also helps students develop their learning skills, through services provided by the following support units:

- The Study Skills Unit at the Haymarket campus (provides services for staff and students in Adult Education).
- The ELSSA and Mathematics Study Centres at the Kuring-gai campus (provides services for students from all faculties operating at that campus).
- The Haymarket computer labs provide all Faculty staff and students with computer facilities and training and there are also audiovisual facilities available.
PRIZES AND AWARDS

The Faculty holds an annual prize-giving ceremony to recognise students' academic achievements.

The following prizes are awarded by the Faculty of Education:

The AITD Award

The Australian Institute for Training and Development (AITD) is a national professional association of people interested in the field of human resource development. AITD seeks to promote excellence in this field through conferences, workshops and the dissemination of information. As part of its interest in professional development, AITD has donated two prizes to the Faculty of Education.

The first AITD award is given to the student who is judged to have presented the best thesis project of the Bachelor of Education (Honours) in Adult Education.

The second AITD award is open to all final year students enrolled in the Bachelor of Education in Adult Education in the major of human resource development who apply to be considered for the award. The award is given to the student who is judged to have made the most significant contribution to the human resource development field of adult education as part of their studies.

The Gwen Muir Memorial Prize for Special Education

This prize was established in 1993 in memory of the late Gwen Muir, a teacher who had a lifelong commitment to the education of students with special needs. The prize was donated by Margaret Zell, a daughter of George Muir, a former Principal of Kuring-gai College of Advanced Education, to reward excellence in the field of special education. The cash prize of $250 is awarded annually to a student from either the Bachelor of Education in Special Education (TE12) or the Graduate Diploma in Special Education (TE53) who has the most distinguished academic record and who has demonstrated excellence in the practicum.

The Kevin Dawes Prize

This prize may be awarded annually to the most outstanding student in the Science elective strand and the four subjects in the Science Education sequence in the Bachelor of Teaching in Primary Education or Bachelor of Education in Teacher Librarianship courses. The first award was made in 1995. The annual cash value of the prize is $250.

The Phillips Prize

The Phillips Prize is awarded to the graduand with the most outstanding academic and professional record in the vocational education field of practice in the Bachelor of Education in Adult Education. This prize commemorates the distinguished contribution made by Donald Phillips to the development of technical teacher education in New South Wales – as a teacher, technical college principal, Assistant Director of the Department of Technical and Further Education, and as a member of the First Council of Sydney Teachers College. The first award was made in 1981, to a graduand of the Diploma of Teaching program. The annual cash value of the prize is $250.

The Sydney Mechanics' School of Arts Award

This award was established in 1990 from a donation of $15,000 from the Sydney Mechanics’ School of Arts. It is available for students in Adult Education who demonstrate superior achievement in academic studies and adult education practice. The annual cash value of the award is $1,000. The award winner also receives a medallion.

Keith Foster Fellowship

The Keith Foster Fellowship was established in 1992 to provide a University work and research placement for practitioners who are active in adult or vocational education. During their time at UTS, Fellows are expected to undertake a project of benefit both to UTS and their employer. In general, the Fellowship is from one to six months in duration.

Keith Foster retired from UTS in 1991 as an Associate Professor. The Fellowship commemorates his academic work and extensive contribution to developing the field of adult education at UTS and its predecessors.

ADULT EDUCATION

The adult education program comprises research, consulting, continuing professional education, and coursework in the fields of vocational education and training and Aboriginal and community education.

The coursework program provides initial and continuing professional development for practitioners in education and training for those who work in TAFE, industrial, commercial, public sector, welfare, school and community settings and in the defence services. A full range of courses are available leading to awards at the Advanced Diploma, Bachelor, Graduate Certificate, Graduate Diploma, Master’s and Doctoral levels.

Participants in courses in the field of community and Aboriginal education work in evening colleges, local learning centres and community-based services which perform an adult education role. Some of these participants are entering university study for the first time as mature-age students, others as graduates, all seeking an appropriate qualification as practitioners in adult education. Aboriginal staff members work mainly with the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students who are enrolled in a mixed mode version of the Bachelor of Education in Adult Education.

Staff who work in the field of community and Aboriginal education have teaching strengths in such areas as adult learning methodologies, program development and evaluation, research and policy, and political, historical and philosophical studies.

They reflect a commitment to the professional development of practitioners and to educational work with disempowered individuals or groups – the unemployed, prisoners, the aged, youth and migrants – who are clients of community-based adult education.

This field makes a significant contribution to adult education research in Australia. Besides the continuing need to document Australian practice, research projects have focused on such interests as adult learning and development, the professional development of adult educators, the adult education dimension of activism, vocational outcomes of ACE and a national project on the training needs of Aboriginal community adult educators. Current research interests include the nature of negotiated learning, team teaching, adult education and the labour movement, autobiographical and transformative learning and the educational dimension of community work.

Staff working in the field of community and Aboriginal education actively support the emerging professional associations in the field through joint activities with organisations such as the Australian Association of Adult and Community Education, the Asian and South Pacific Bureau of Adult Education, and the Evening and Community Colleges Association. They maintain close links with adult education colleagues in Australia and in the UK, Europe, the Americas and the Asia-Pacific region. Many staff are involved in the variety of research and consulting activities conducted through the Centre for Popular Education.

The field of vocational education and training provides a range of courses at undergraduate and postgraduate level to meet the needs of trainers, vocational educators, human resource personnel and consultants employed in private and public enterprises. The main areas for teaching and research focus on training trainers in industry, commerce, government departments and various kinds of organisations. Within the field, staff have interests in adult teaching and learning, program development, competency-based training and assessment, recognition of prior learning, experiential learning, workplace learning, work-based learning, health and safety, workplace learning, skill formation and technological change, vocational education and training policy, management of education and training, organisational development, lifelong learning, program evaluation and an understanding of the process of innovation and change as this impacts on the above.

Staff in this field have developed a broad-based model of competency-based training that integrates a number of competing perspectives. Such a framework includes a commitment to examining the social, political and economic and cultural contexts in which training is occurring and a realisation that this framework needs to be expanded into higher order key competencies such as critical thinking and problem solving.

Staff are also involved in a range of training and consultancy activities that meet the needs for short (two- to three-day) workshops provided through the Centre for Training and Development Services and longer term consultancy services to industry in the field of human resource development.
Many of the staff have published internationally and worked nationally and internationally on development projects. Staff research interests lie in the following areas:

- Competency-based training and assessment
- Workplace learning
- Industry training
- Vocational education
- Vocational and education training policies
- Access and equity
- Adults as learners
- Language of learning
- Cultural differences in training
- Internationalisation of VET
- Communication education in vocational education and training

There are substantial links between the staff in the field of vocational education and training and the Research Centre for Vocational Education and Training (RCVET).

There are three centres located at the Faculty’s City campus: The Research Centre for Vocational Education and Training (RCVET); the Centre for Popular Education (CPE); and the Centre for Training and Development Services (CTDS). They engage in research, consultancy, and continuing professional education in the fields of vocational education and training, human resource development, and Aboriginal and community education.

The RCVET provides a focus for research, teaching and the development of policy advice on vocational education and training. In 1995 the RCVET was awarded recognition and funding as a national research centre, by the Australian National Training Authority (ANTA). This support has enabled the Centre to broaden the overall scope of its research activities, and also to develop a focus on workplace learning and assessment. This specific area of research includes:

workplace training practices workplace assessment assurance of quality in workplace training access and equity in workplace training integration of different forms of training

The Centre for Popular Education at UTS was set up in mid-1996 to do research, consultancy and advocacy related to 'popular education'. This term, which may be new to many Australians, refers to education and learning which expands public knowledge of important social issues, extends democratic participation in all spheres of life and furthers social justice goals. It includes education and learning associated with social movements (for example, women’s, workers’, indigenous people’s and environmental movements), social justice issues (for example, gender and sexuality, anti-racism, human rights) and particular sites (for example, women’s and indigenous people’s organisations, workplaces, schools). Around the world, the term 'popular education' is increasingly being used by people who are interested in the role of learning and education in emancipatory social action.

The major current research interests of Centre members are:

- Workers' learning and education
- Adult learning and social action. (e.g. women’s, environmental, indigenous people’s movements, the struggle against HIV-AIDS, and urban resident action.)
- The mass media and adult learning

The Centre for Training and Development Services is a leading provider in Australia and abroad of continuing professional education courses and consultancy services in the field of training, adult learning and human resource development. Through the provision of education services and consultancy, it has developed strong working relationships with:

management
HRD (Human Resource Development) professionals relevant government departments and agencies professional associations and other universities in the human resource development field.

Training and Development Services has gained a wide range of experience in consultancy in training and development over the last decade. We have developed particular expertise in the fields of:

competency-based training competency standards development the development and quality auditing of competency-based assessment systems performance management management development approaches for developing learning organisations – including coaching, mentoring and work-based teams.
The Centre facilitates the exchange of knowledge and expertise between the academic community and human resource development professionals.

Language and Literacy Education

The Language and Literacy Program comprises teaching, research and consultancy in the broad area of language, literacy and numeracy education. Client groups are generally teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL), Adult Basic Education (ABE) and Languages Other than English (TLOTE) from both adult and the school sectors, within Australia and from overseas. An increasing part of the Program's work is with mainstream teachers/trainers in the school and post-school sectors, as well as in the workplace, who are concerned with the role of language in education.

Teaching Programs

The Language and Literacy Program is unique in the strength of connections made between educational and linguistic theory, and excellent teaching practice. The UTS postgraduate program in language, literacy and numeracy is the largest in Australia. Courses are offered at Bachelor, Graduate Certificate, Graduate Diploma, Master's, EdD and PhD levels. The range of client groups has led to delivery of courses in a variety of modes - weekly, block, off-campus, offshore and, since 1998, by distance mode - and with options either to specialise in TESOL, ABE or TLOTE, or to multiskill across these areas. Teachers might choose, for example, to specialise in one of the fields of practice; or to multiskill with numeracy plus TESOL; or perhaps combine TESOL plus TLOTE. Programs have been internationalised to meet the needs of overseas teachers of English. We offer extensive academic and language support to both international and local students. Members of staff are bilingual in the following languages: Thai, Lao, Japanese, German, French, Spanish and Arabic.

Research

The Centre for Language and Literacy provides a research and development focus for the program. It holds regular series of research seminars in Language in Education, which feature national and international presenters. The NSW Adult Literacy Research Network, funded by the National Languages and Literacy Institute of Australia, is located within the Centre. In 1996, the Centre hosted the prestigious 23rd International Systemic Functional Congress. Recent research projects include:

- The role of classroom talk in the construction of curriculum knowledge
- Effective communication in the restructured workplace
- An integrated national research strategy for adult ESL, literacy and numeracy
- Quoting, attribution and reference in academic discourse
- Effective pedagogy in numeracy for unemployed young people
- Teacher education and professional development in adult literacy and adult ESL

Language and Literacy staff are active in research. Their research interests include:

- Discourse Analysis Development
- First and Second Language
- Literacy and Critical Literacy
- Classroom Discourse
- Curriculum and Methodology
- Numeracy and Mathematics
- Language and Gender
- Maths and Gender
- CALL
- Development Studies
- Conversational Analysis
- Corpus Studies
- Computational Linguistics

In 1998, Language and Literacy research was designated a Faculty Research Strength.
Consultancy
Staff carry out consultancies on behalf of organisations such as the NSW Department of School Education, the Catholic Education Office, TAFE, AMES, the Australian Languages and Literacy Council, AusAID, and various industry bodies. Funding in excess of $5 million has been generated in 1995–97. Staff have been centrally involved in professional associations including the Association of Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages (ATESOL); Primary English Teachers’ Association (PETA); Modern Language Teachers’ Association (MLTA); the Association Internationale de Linguistique Appliquée (AILA) and the Australian Council for Adult Literacy (ACAL) and regularly contribute to the formation of government policy and planning in the area of language education.
Recent national and international projects include:
- Adult numeracy teaching: national professional development package
- How do adults develop literacy? Tracking and mapping language development
- Auslan teacher training: national workshops
- Laos: Lao–Australia English Language Project
- Cambodia: Computerisation project at the Royal University of Phnom Penh
- Thailand: English language teacher training at Ubon Ratchatani University
Dr Mike Baynham is Director of the Language and Literacy Program.

TEACHER EDUCATION
Teacher Education – located at the Kuring-gai campus of UTS – offers both undergraduate and postgraduate courses in teacher education. The undergraduate courses are designed to provide initial teacher education, and the Graduate Diploma in Education courses prepare university graduates to teach in secondary schools. Other postgraduate courses offered are for qualified and experienced teachers who wish to extend their professional skills, so they can take on new teaching roles.

The ELSSA and Mathematics Study Centres
The ELSSA (English Language and Study Skills Assistance) and Mathematics Study Centres serve students from all faculties at the Kuring-gai campus. They provide free academic support in the fields of language and learning, and mathematics and science. The Centres’ aims are to help students realise their academic potential, and to become self-reliant learners through using appropriate learning strategies. Students can visit the Centres at their own initiative, or when referred by academic staff. For inquiries regarding learning and language strategies, please contact Ms Caroline San Miguel or Ms Terri Morley-Warner 9514 5160. For inquiries regarding mathematics, science and learning, please contact Dr Jules Harnett 9514 5186.

Computing facilities for Teacher Education students
There are five computer laboratories for students’ use. Four of these have Windows-based machines installed and offer an excellent range of software. The largest lab is the Macintosh lab in which many of the courses are conducted. It uses a large-screen display for demonstration purposes. This lab contains 30 new networked multimedia computers, a laser printer and a colour scanner. Students have free access to this lab and a large range of software, when classes are not in progress. There is also a collection of educational software and a digital camera. Students have access to the Internet and their own email account from all the computers in the facility.
Referencing procedures

Teacher Education recommends the use of the referencing procedures set out in the Faculty of Education's Referencing Procedures Guide (Pettit and Whalan, December 1994). This guide is provided free of charge to all students.

Initial Teacher Education courses

Four new courses were introduced in 1997: Bachelor of Education in Primary Education, Bachelor of Education in Special Education, Bachelor of Education in Teacher Librarianship, and Bachelor of Education in Primary Education/Bachelor of Arts in International Studies.

The practicum provides an important focus for all courses. In the first three years, students participate in practice teaching experience and in the final year, participate in an extended novice teacher program.

People with a criminal record may be denied employment in schools. Such a decision would seriously affect the person’s career and future employment prospects.

The Bachelor of Education in Primary Education; Bachelor of Education in Special Education; Bachelor of Education in Teacher Librarianship; and Bachelor of Education/ Bachelor of Arts in International Studies share a common first year and a common core, consisting of Practicum Studies, Curriculum Studies and Education and Contextual Studies. This flexible structure allows students to change courses at the end of the first year, if they want to.

The diagram below shows how the four initial Teacher Education courses are related.

Each course has five strands:

- Practicum Studies
- Curriculum Studies
- Education and Contextual Studies
- Major Study
- Advanced Study Electives

Practicum Studies

The Practicum curriculum contains two elements which are interlinked. These are (i) the campus-based studies which examine the range of theoretical issues, skills and procedures central to effective pedagogical practice, and (ii) field experiences wherein students engage in a variety of professional interactions in schools and other educational settings. These combined elements foster the development of professional knowledge, skills and attitudes with which teachers should begin their careers.

Placement in a range of Sydney metropolitan schools will be a feature of all students’ experience. In addition, reciprocal arrangements with other universities (e.g. Charles Sturt) provide optional access in the third year to more remote rural settings.

As an alternative to the arrangements specified for the fourth year, students may apply to complete their field experience in one of Teacher Education’s existing international practicum programs: Project Pranakorn (Thailand) or the Lao People’s Democratic Republic.

BEd in Primary Ed
- Common core and Practicum 5 to 7
- Major Study
- Advanced Study Electives

BEd in Special Ed
- Common core and Special Education 1 to 6
- Special Education
- Practicum 5 and 6
- Practicum 7

BEd in Teacher Librarianship
- Common core and Issues in Teacher Librarianship 1 to 3
- Information Science 1 to 5
- Two Advanced Study Electives
- Practicum 3 and 6
- Practicum 7 for Teach Lib

BEd/BA in Int Studies
- Common core and Language and Culture 1 to 4
- Modernisation and Social Change
- Contemporary Society
- Practicum 5 to 7
- In-country Study
The Practicum Curriculum accords with the aims of the course as a whole through its continuing emphasis on pedagogical knowledge and skill development, reflection and self-evaluation. Through its provision of developmentally sequenced, integrated campus- and field-based experience, it promotes learning about learning, learning about self, learning about school life and learning about teaching. The Practicum Curriculum is inquiry-based and collaborative. It engages students, campus-based and school-based teacher educators, in forms of critical inquiry which lead to better understanding of the phenomena encountered. Through this, it seeks to develop in students a commitment to career-long professional development.

Faculty of Education - Teacher Education rules specify that failing teaching practicum for the first time should place a student on probation and failing teaching practicum for the second time should lead to exclusion. (FED/92/94)

All students participating in internship or associate teacher programs which require them to supervise students without the presence of a qualified teacher will be subject to a criminal records check by the NSW Department of Education. The Department, on the basis of the criminal records check, reserves the right to reject or suspend the participation of any student in such programs. It is expected that such security checks will also apply to schools other than NSW departmental schools.

Criminal records checks will be carried out only with a student's consent. Each student will be requested to complete a form which authorises a criminal records check for them to be undertaken. Any refusal by the student to undergo the check may result in that student being unable to complete the course requirements.

Curriculum Studies

The Curriculum Studies strand is designed to assist students in the development of a strong background of pedagogical content knowledge, specifically reflecting the second of our guiding principles: that beginning teachers need an understanding of children's learning, with an effective and developing knowledge of what they have to teach and how the subject matter changes over time. The subjects in this strand fall into the following curriculum areas:

- English Education
- Mathematics Education
- Music Education

- Personal Development, Health and Physical Education
- Science and Technology Education
- Social and Environmental Education
- Visual Arts and Craft Education.

Education and Contextual Studies

Subjects within the Education and Contextual Studies strand contribute to the aims and underlying developmental philosophy of the four BEd degrees by assisting students to develop qualities of lifelong learning, thinking and decision making in educational contexts throughout the four years of their theoretical study and practice. These subjects provide students with cyclical opportunities to make explicit and to interrogate their personal theories of learning through gradual consideration of the assumptions that underpin their beliefs. The subjects encourage students to draw on perspectives gained from all strands of their degree, so that in the latter part of their degree, students increasingly engage in refining and articulating their personal theories of learning, are able to justify them with reference to research evidence from classroom practice and can use supporting theoretical insights. With each opportunity to examine their beliefs about learning, students are expected to engage in analysis with increasing insight and commitment.

The subjects in this strand fall into two groups: Education Studies and Contextual Studies.

Education Studies

Students in all four courses will study the following subjects in their first and second years:

- Developmental Psychology
- Sociological Bases of Education
- Philosophical Bases of Education

Contextual Studies

Students in all four courses will study the following subjects in their first and second years:

- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander History and Cultures
- Australian Studies
- Information Technology
- Educational Research

During study of the range of subjects in the Educational and Contextual Studies strand, students will have opportunities to synthesise... their practical and theoretical understandings, analyse their views, test them, generate new positions and continually redevelop and retest their ideas, with deeper and deeper understandings of the philosophy, history and sociology of education emerging both through the curriculum areas as well as through the specifically designated Education Studies subjects. By the end of the fourth year, those students who anticipate further study should be at the cutting edge of thought in most of their subjects, ready to engage in MEd subjects or in a PhD or EdD if they are so inclined.

Major Study electives

The Major Study component of this course provides students with the opportunity to acquire some scholarly expertise and experience in a field of their own choice such that it might enrich both their teaching and their lives.

Undertaking a Major Study sequence requires the development of certain professional and scholarly skills. As each discipline has its own evolving language, there is a need to develop a fluency with respect to the technical terms and idioms peculiar to it. Students will become familiar with the literature of their chosen discipline and further develop their research skills.

The values, knowledge, competencies and skills acquired by students in the Major Study will be relevant to their professional teaching capacity, their personal achievement and their lifelong learning aspirations.

Not all Major Studies listed will be offered each year.

Some of the Major Study subjects have a prerequisite. Such subjects form part of a developmental sequence. The Major Study areas are:

- Art
- Children’s Theatre and the Creative Arts
- Educational Computing
- Education
- English
- History
- International Study
- Teaching LOTE
- Mathematics
- Music
- PDHPE (Personal Development, Health and Physical Education)
- Science and Technology

Art Major Study

Art theory with associated practical work will be explored through a thematic approach covering a range of times and cultures culminating in a self-directed unit of research. This Major Studies unit is aimed at developing awareness of the complexities of thought processes and the diversities of visual expression associated with art. Through detailed and scholarly investigation, this Major Studies sequence aims ultimately to improve the students’ ability to understand, make and appreciate art in its many forms both as a basis for future specialisation in the field and as enrichment in this vital area of classroom practice.

Art learning will be arranged under the following semester titles:

- Art Major Study 1: People in Art
- Art Major Study 2: A Sense of Place
- Art Major Study 3: Stories, Myths and Truth
- Art Major Study 4: Design and Power

Each semester will also highlight a particular aspect of art making and appraisal.

This Major Studies sequence is available to students within the Faculty of Education and from other faculties. External students may also take this Major Study on a fee-paying basis. While it is intended that the set of four subjects are taken in sequence, students may be given entry to Art Major Studies 2, 3 or 4 if they can demonstrate, to the art lecturer and Associate Dean, relevant background and expertise in visual arts.

Children’s Theatre and the Creative Arts Major Study

Children’s Theatre and the Creative Arts aims to develop knowledge and understandings of drama as a distinctive way of expressing and examining human behaviour. This essentially practical course is conceptualised within a theoretical framework which includes the study of drama as creative achievement and as the articulation of cultural and ideological aspirations and ideas. Its focus will be multidisciplinary and it will incorporate related creative arts including script-writing and adaptation, music in the theatre, visual arts as part of presentation, dance and movement, and multi-media. The primary focus will be on production, and on theatre as collaboration. The sequence of subjects will culminate in a performance for children which will not only be a valuable theatre experience for our students but will also serve as an important part of building and extending relationships between the University and the community.

Drama is a part of all cultures. Through drama people learn to communicate with and understand others. This communication and understanding can be cross-cultural. Drama is a significant key learning area for students and theatre and the creative arts have an important part to play in the life of a school. As well as major productions, teachers may need to be responsible for class presentation, and presentations for assembly and other special events.

Children's Theatre and the Creative Arts is based on the assumption that the acquisition of skills and understandings of this subject requires a disciplined, imaginative and intellectual approach that combines teaching/learning episodes with practical experience through rehearsal and performance. Students will study the theory of acting, the history of the theatre and stage-craft. Drama and theatre skills will whenever possible be practised in a context of authentic communication, not as isolated exercises.

Students will become familiar with a range of theatre techniques and styles which they may use for themselves in performance, in their teaching and as a valuable form of self-expression and communication with others.

Students may whenever possible be offered the option of studying the English major study subject 024414 Cultural and Textual Cross-Currents: New Representations and New Voices which focuses on film adaptations of literary texts, as part of Children's Theatre and the Creative Arts major study sequence.

The subject sequence is as follows:

- 024421 Children's Theatre & the Creative Arts 1: Overview of World Theatre; Production Roles; Script-writing
- 024422 Children's Theatre & the Creative Arts 2: Acting & Performing Skills; Genres for Children - pantomime, fairy tale etc
- 024423 Children's Theatre & the Creative Arts 3: Production and Direction - lighting, scenery, costuming etc
- 024424 Children's Theatre & the Creative Arts 4: Staging Performances - a performance for children

Educational Computing Major Study
The nature of teaching and learning with and about IT links this subject with studies in educational psychology and teaching methodology. Much of the individual content of the courses changes from year to year in order to maintain currency with latest developments in educational computing, so the course outlines should be considered as guidelines which suggest content of the course as it is currently run, rather than prescriptive guidelines as to what the course will contain in the future.

The subject sequence is as follows:

- 021411 Educational Computing Major Study 1
- 021412 Educational Computing Major Study 2
- 021413 Educational Computing Major Study 3
- 021414 Educational Computing Major Study 4

Education Major Study
The Major Study in education will involve students in the critical scrutiny of educational research, policy and practice. As students move through the semesters, the subjects will increasingly build on the foundational education disciplines that they will have encountered in the Education and Contextual Studies strand, namely, developmental and educational psychology, educational sociology and educational philosophy. The orientation of the studies will continually emphasise the students' future role as educational professionals committed to lifelong learning, searching scrutiny of current policy and practice, and continuous improvement, and this perspective will be increasingly emphasised.

The subject sequence is as follows:

- 023411 Education Major Study 1: History of Education
- 023412 Education Major Study 2: Moral Development Education
- 023413 Education Major Study 3: Changing Schools
- 023414 Education Major Study 4: Educational Policy Studies

English Major Study
From earliest times, humankind has sought to express its own story. The art of storytelling has its genesis in an oral culture, and is a part of all cultures. Storytelling inherently reflects the culture of which it is a part - its ideology (that is, its values, attitudes and beliefs) and its sense of identity. It serves to perpetuate those ideologies, and to 'pass them on' to those following.
However, as storytelling became a written art form, each culture developed its own patterns of narrative, that is, its own ways of telling a story. Western culture creates a narrative with an introduction, a middle and an end. This is not the pattern of, for example, Aboriginal storytelling, which remained an oral form and which achieves unity not with a conclusion but by being cyclical and repetitive. Nor is it true of the literature of some African cultures. So different cultures have different understandings—not so much of what literature is, but of the forms which it should take.

Not only that, but as world literature became more sophisticated, and accessible to a greater number of people, literature not only served to perpetuate cultural ideals and mores but to interrogate them. The ‘power of the pen’ is a reality that has become even more relevant in the contemporary world, especially if we read ‘pen’ as a metaphor for all forms of script including the visual media, which usually begins with some form of a written script. Literature gives voice; it also gives agency. The continuum of texts that represent literature not only reflect culture however, they also show language in context. They are examples of language being used for a particular purpose. They are a model of functional language. Teachers in particular need to understand at a deep level how language works, so that they may teach it in a meaningful way to their students.

English is unique as an area of study in that it reaches into all other learning areas. It is a tool and a language resource. To an English speaker, it is necessary for every learning activity. Yet language finds its strongest and most coherent voice in literature, and the texts of literature—books, poems, plays and essays—extend language study into the arts. Language then becomes more than a craft and a logistical tool, it becomes an expression of deep human thoughts and aspirations. It is in the texts of literature that language can be seen at its most meaningful and its most purposeful. The study of the textual artefacts of literature enables students to observe how culture, time and world events influence both how we read and how we write.

The foundation aim of each of the Major Studies in English is to develop a lifelong love of literature.

The subject sequence is as follows:

024411 English Major Study 1: Shapes and Patterns in Literary Narrative from Sendak to Shakespeare
024412 English Major Study 2: Images of Australia: The Place and the People. Literary representations in prose, poetry and drama
024413 English Major Study 3: The Literature of Protest: Changing the World
024414 English Major Study 4: Cultural and Textual Cross-Currents: New Representations and New Voices

History Major Study

The history sequence commences with the study of Australian history from its beginnings through to the twentieth century. It then looks at the broader canvas of European history in the twentieth century, before turning the attention of students to Asian history by selecting aspects of the Asian past which show continuities with the present and by extension links with multicultural Australian society.

The subject sequence is as follows:

029411 History Major Study 1: Australia to 1900
029412 History Major Study 2: Australia in the Twentieth Century
029413 History Major Study 3: Europe in the Twentieth Century
029414 History Major Study 4: Aspects of Asia from Ancient Times to the More Recent Past

International Major Study

The International Major Study offers students who wish to enhance their cultural awareness and understanding the opportunity to study at an overseas university for one semester. The content of the program at the overseas university will include:

- Study of the history, culture and society of the host country
- Study of the language of the host country
- Study of Education subjects offered by the host institution in the English language
- Visits to primary schools
- Teaching English language classes.
The International Major Study comprises one subject worth 24 credit points undertaken in Semester 5. A prerequisite for this subject is the satisfactory completion of all Semester 1, 2, 3 and 4 subjects. Travel, accommodation and living costs overseas are the responsibility of the student who will be provided with advice about estimated costs prior to enrolling in the International Major Study subject. The host universities for the International Major Study are in Sweden and Slovenia.

The subject is:
029410 International Major

Teaching LOTE Major Study
The subject sequence is as follows:

024451 Teaching LOTE Major Study 1: Second Language Development
024452 Teaching LOTE Major Study 2: LOTE Curriculum and Methodology
024453 Teaching LOTE Major Study 3: Developing Communicative Skills in a Second Language
024454 Teaching LOTE Major Study 4: Planning and Evaluation in Second Language Teaching

Mathematics Major Study
The Mathematics Major Study elective comprises a set of subjects which are intended to increase students' understanding of the nature of mathematics and its applications; to enhance students' mathematical thinking; and to promote awareness of the historical and social context in which mathematics is developed. The subjects chosen for this Major Study have been selected on the assumption that students studying these subjects may be expected to assume leadership roles in the area of mathematics education in the primary school and that these students will act as mathematics resource teachers in their schools. The content and approaches to these subjects reflect the context of learning in the primary school as well as providing students with a deeper insight and understanding of the complexity of advanced mathematical thought.

The content covered will encompass those areas which are regarded as most appropriate in a modern, technological world: the study of topics in discrete mathematics, statistics, and the social and historical context in which mathematics occurs.

Students electing to study the mathematics major will be required to have a minimum of 2 Unit Common Mathematics in their HSC, or equivalent. The mathematics studies, while having clear applications to the primary school, will be at an advanced level.

The subject sequence is as follows:
025411 Mathematics Major Study 1: Statistics
025412 Mathematics Major Study 2: Finite Mathematics
025413 Mathematics Major Study 3: The Historical and Social Context of Mathematics
025414 Mathematics Major Study 4: An Introduction to Graph Theory

Music Major Study
This subject provides the opportunity for students to undertake an in-depth study within a chosen field. It is especially relevant to the aims of the course in that this discipline forms an intrinsic part of a learning area in the primary school curriculum. The Music Major Study exposes students to the professional sphere of thought and practice within the discipline of music. The subject is relevant to the aims of the course in that its purpose is to produce, for the benefit of the teaching profession, graduates who have extended competencies and interests in the subject, such that they can be relied upon to organise and sustain the practice and teaching of music within a school or institute with some authority. It is concerned with an understanding of artistic trends and philosophical perspectives in relation to music, including socio-historical movements, contemporary idioms and the evolving languages peculiar to the field. It is also concerned with an understanding of the function of music in the ethnological and educational spheres.

The strands in this subject are Musicianship, Computer Studies in Music, History and Style, Practical Music and an Applied Study. Musicianship is concerned with the establishment of a thorough grounding in the basic skills, abilities and understandings, fundamental to the musician and the music educator. It offers the opportunity to develop competencies with respect to literacy, aural perception and keyboard awareness. History and Style takes an overall view of the history of music in Western civilisation and then looks at major trends, developments and influences relating to the art as well as practices in musical composition and analysis both past and present.
Computer Studies in Music introduces students to elements, concepts and skills involved in the notation of music and the creation and manipulation of synthetic music on computers and synthesizers. While Practical Studies in Music focuses upon developing skills relating to the rehearsing and conducting of ensembles, the Applied Study allows the student to undertake a unit of work in an area of personal interest.

The subject sequence is as follows:

026411 Music Major Study 1
026412 Music Major Study 2
026413 Music Major Study 3
026414 Music Major Study 4

Personal Development, Health and Physical Education (PDHPE) Major Study

The PDHPE Major Study subjects provide students with the opportunity to further develop their practical skills in teaching PDHPE in the primary school context. The subjects further enable students to explore the socio-cultural variables which influence participation in physical activity. By integrating micro teaching opportunities with research interests, students will develop the ability to undertake action research. Personal Development and Health issues will be explored as a medium for broadening students’ repertoire of teaching and learning strategies and to enhance their capacity to integrate syllabus content areas.

The subject sequence is as follows:

027411 PDHPE Major Study 1: Fundamental Principles of Sports Coaching 027412 PDHPE Major Study 2: Issues in Personal Development, Health and Physical Education and Sport
027413 PDHPE Major Study 3: Advanced Principles of Coaching
027414 PDHPE Major Study 4: Sports Administration in the School

Science and Technology Major Study

The Major Studies subjects in science and technology have been developed to reflect the principles of science and technology in the primary school. They provide students with a solid content base from which to draw as well as a working understanding of the processes and skills of science. The emphasis is on broadening and extending the student’s learning and understanding in science and technology through an integrated approach which removes the discipline boundaries. Each subject examines the world around us from different perspectives: the human body and how it works, the natural environment, the science and technology that we use in everyday life, the social and historical perspective of the interrelationship between science and technology, and the planet as a whole.

In and through all of these subjects a number of issues will be continuous – the relevance of science and technology to teachers and students at the primary level, gender, multicultural and environmental issues, the importance of Australian research and development in a world context.

As they are listed here the subjects follow a developmental sequence: from science immediately relevant to the student and moving eventually to a global view. There are no prerequisites which dictate a sequence of study, and therefore it is not essential that they be studied in any particular order.

Five subjects are presented.

Four of the five will be offered to each group of students.

The subject sequence is as follows:

028411 Science and Technology Major Study 1: The Human Body
028412 Science and Technology Major Study 2: Science and Technology in Daily Life
028413 Science and Technology Major Study 3: Issues in Science, Technology and Society
028414 Science and Technology Major Study 4: Planet Earth
028415 Science and Technology Major Study 5: Knowledge Engineering
Advanced Study Electives

The provision of Advanced Study Electives in the final semester of the Bachelor of Education in Primary Education and the Bachelor of Education in Teacher Librarianship programs provides students with a flexible approach to the selection of subjects which affords them opportunities to study an area of interest which may have developed as a result of studies in the previous three years. Students are able to specialise in an area of interest or select a range of subjects which will give them a broader perspective on education and teaching.

Students will select subjects from three strands which have been designed to cover a variety of disciplines and broad education contexts. Subjects have been divided into the appropriate strand.

Students must select one subject from Strand A, one subject from Strand B and one subject from Strand A, B or C. One subject may be taken from the Major Study electives or from outside Teacher Education with permission from the Associate Dean. Not all subjects will be offered each year. Third year Bachelor of Education students will be surveyed in Semester 6, when they will be asked to give preferences for subjects they would like to take as electives in their final year of the Bachelor of Education. This information, along with staff availability, will be used to determine which subjects will be offered in the final year.

Strand A: Advanced Education Studies

Subjects included in this strand aim to allow students to study areas of interest across a range of educational contexts, e.g. historical, social, comparative and technological. They cover aspects of research, practice and policy within an educational framework.

Subjects included in this strand are:

- Current Issues in Applied Educational Computing
- International Perspectives in Education
- Language, Literacy in Education
- Professional Ethics
- School and Community Relations
- Advanced Research Methods in Education
- Early Learning in the Primary School
- Education of Gifted and Talented Students
- Education Policy Studies
- Mentoring Programs in Primary Education
- The Culture of Childhood

Strand B: Advanced Teaching Studies

These subjects provide for a degree of specialisation in a curriculum discipline area in which students have a particular interest.

Subjects included in this strand are:

- Advanced Children's Literature
- Approaches to the Teaching of English
- Family History
- Internet and Electronic Information Networking
- Issues in Art Education
- Music and Society
- Teaching English to International Students
- Creativity: the Child and the Teacher
- Introduction to Teaching Movement Skills
- Mathematics: Gifted and Talented Students
- Mathematics: Remediation
- School Science and Technology Education
- Selected Topics in Science Education

Strand C: Interdisciplinary Studies

These subjects provide students with a broad range of contexts and perspectives on education and processes of education.

Subjects included in this strand are:

- Environmental Education
- Independent Study
- Learning Beyond the Classroom
- Sports Science and Education
- Studio Practice in Visual Arts
- Teaching Across the Curriculum
- Dance Education
- Feminist Studies in Science
- Music Education and the Computer
- Probability
- Initiatives and Innovations in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Education

Students engaging in an International Practicum are required to complete the Advanced Study Elective Teaching English to International Students in Semester 7. In Semester 8 these students will complete two Advanced Study Electives and the subject Analysing Current Issues in Australian Education.
Undergraduate courses

Bachelor of Education (Honours)

Course code: TE17

The Bachelor of Education (Honours) is a one-year full-time program for graduates of the Bachelor of Teaching in Primary Education.

Admission requirements for the Bachelor of Education (Honours) are as follows:

(a) Educational qualifications:

(i) successfully completed requirements for a three-year Bachelor of Teaching degree or some suitable initial teaching qualification as approved by the Associate Dean with a grade point average of credit level or better;

(ii) shown competence in the practicum as demonstrated by practicum reports or their equivalents;

(iii) completed the Bachelor of Teaching subject 023302 Basic Principles in Educational Research or its equivalent with a grade of credit level or better.

(b) An applicant whose tertiary education was conducted in a language other than English will be required to demonstrate proficiency in the English language. A minimum pass mark of 70 per cent in the Combined Universities Language Test (CULT) is required. In the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) a score of at least 7.0 is required, with the added component of a 6.0 score in writing.

(c) Admission with advanced standing may be granted with permission of the Associate Dean.

Course structure

Students must complete all components of the program. The program consists of coursework and an Honours thesis. The thesis component and Honours seminar are full-year subjects.

Elective subject

Any other related subject approved by the Associate Dean, with a value of five credit points.

Students will participate in the Associate Teacher program which is Mode A of the subject 023107 The Reflective Practitioner in the School. See Associate Teacher program under the Bachelor of Education in Primary Education (TE16) program.

In Semester 1 only 5cp are allocated to the thesis as students will be doing initial work on their thesis. The remaining 15cp are allocated to Semester 2 when the bulk of the thesis is completed.
Bachelor of Education (Honours) in Adult Education

Course code: TA24

Course coordinator: Dr Bob Pithers

Participants
This one-year full-time or two-year part-time course will allow students to work at a higher level of academic study. Many of the students who complete the Honours program may like to proceed to Doctoral programs or to the Master of Education (Honours).

Course aims
The course aims to provide via coursework and supervision the basic research competency skills and knowledge as well as critical feedback and collegiate support necessary to enable the development and completion of an honours thesis. It also allows study in a particular relevant area of student interest.

Admission
Applicants must have completed at least three years of the equivalent of a Bachelor’s degree in education.

- Subjects in the Bachelor of Education in Adult Education are not graded. For this reason applicants from within the Faculty will be assessed on their performance in designated subject/s in the latter part of their Bachelor degree using criteria specifically developed for Honours selection.
- Applicants from outside the Faculty where Bachelor degree subjects have been graded should submit details of all subject grades achieved.
- Other non-graded external applicants should submit a portfolio of examiner comments on work completed during the last year of their Bachelor course (especially for research subjects).

A subject in the Master of Education in Adult Education (excepting Independent Study Projects), Master of Arts in Language and Literacy or other Honours level equivalent subjects elsewhere within the University.

Assessment
Each thesis will be read by two internal examiners, judged to be experts in the field under examination, one of which may be the student’s supervisor. Coursework subjects will be assessed either ‘pass’ or ‘fail’.

The thesis

Selection and supervision
The topic of the proposed thesis is negotiated between the student, coordinator and the preferred supervisor and approved by the Honours Committee. The selection of an Honours supervisor involves consultations involving the student, coordinator and relevant available academic staff.

Length
15,000–20,000 words (approximately)

Major thesis assessment criteria
- Definition of research problem
- Critical review of the literature
- Data or information selection and analysis
- Cogency of argument
- Interpretation and assessment of findings
- Quality of presentation

Grading
The grading of the Honours award shall be:
- Class 1
- Class 2, Division 1
- Class 2, Division 2
- Class 3

Students admitted to the Honours year may take out the Bachelor of Education in Adult Education Pass degree.
Bachelor of Education in Adult Education

Course code: TA21

Course coordinator: Mr Clive Chappell

This course provides a coherent sequence of study to fulfil the theoretical and practical requirements for people who wish to develop their knowledge and skills as an adult educator. Underpinning this course are twin developmental themes of the student as learner and the student as professional practitioner in their own workplace. Students identify the major in which to apply their learning in relation to their workplace, in addition to studying the core subjects and choosing from the electives. The course is designed to be both flexible and responsive. Students will engage in a variety of learning activities, work with academic advisers, workplace practitioners and undertake individual and group learning projects. Theory and practice are integrated in the learning tasks, many of which are negotiated to meet individual needs, are oriented to their current and future needs and important for their professional and personal development.

An important outcome of this course will be the potential for all students who meet the degree course requirements to graduate with a recognisable adult-teaching qualification.

Course aims

The course promotes the development of adult educators and practitioners who:

- have a deep understanding of their own learning and a commitment to the learning of others;
- incorporate an informed professional approach which takes account of cultural and other diversity, the experience of the learners, and ethical standards for teaching and facilitating;
- understand their own workplace contexts;
- can provide effective opportunities for learning;
- are responsive to the human needs of the people with whom they work;
- can effectively design, implement and evaluate a range of teaching and learning strategies;
- integrate theory and practice;
- are critically analytical;
- are aware of globalisation and understand national and international perspectives;
- promote lifelong learning;
- have the capacity to research their own practice;
- are interested to increase/improve the standing of the profession.

Course structure

The Bachelor of Adult Education is a three-year degree comprising 144 credit points which full-time students would normally complete in three years. However it is possible to extend the time to complete the course by taking fewer than the full-time number of credit points. There are three components to this course:

1. Core subjects (48 credit points)

Core subjects provide a coherent theoretical framework covering knowledge, skills and attributes relevant to all professionals across the majors. Core subjects are compulsory and integrate elements related to cultural issues, respect for diversity, communication skills and skills for developing a reflective and responsive practitioner. They will deliberately contrast a range of perspectives in the area. They provide a theoretical base which is then applied in the more specific settings of each major and/or further developed in the electives.

2. Major subjects (48 credit points)

Students select one of the following majors:

- Aboriginal Program - a specialised program for Indigenous students which combines Aboriginal studies with the Community major and core subjects.
- Community Adult Education - for people working with adults in evening colleges, local learning centres, Neighbourhood centres, refuges and many other community-based services which perform an adult education role.
- Human Resource Development - which meets the needs of trainers, human resource personnel and consultants employed in private and government enterprises.
- Language, Literacy and Numeracy - for educators who work in a variety of public and private adult education institutions offering adults opportunities to learn and build on basic language, literacy and numeracy skills.
- Vocational Education - which provides specialised courses for teachers in the TAFE sector and the armed forces who have trade qualifications and five years industrial experience or equivalent.

Majors provide the contextual applications in which theoretical and practical learning from the core subjects can be examined, developed and applied to a specific workplace or cultural context. They feature aspects of practice which are particular to a given area of the profession. A large component of the majors are the learning themes of the supervised field experience identified as the semester’s focus. These themes complement the understanding gained from the core subjects and develop the student’s role as learner and practitioner in conjunction with relevant workplace experience.

Supervised field experience in each major includes a teaching practicum.

3. Electives (48 credit points)

3a. Individual program (48 credit points)

Electives, majors and individualised projects as well as the option to enrol in subjects in other schools in the University provide a rich and diverse source for other learning. Students may choose electives from their own or other fields of practice except for students in the Aboriginal block mode who will complete the Aboriginal Studies major as their electives. University majors in Aboriginal and Women’s Studies are offered to all students in conjunction with the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences.

3b. Language, Literacy and Numeracy extension program

Students in Language, Literacy and Numeracy Education will be required to take the subjects: Introduction to Language; Numeracy Awareness; Programming and Assessment in Language, Literacy and Numeracy; and Individualised Project 1 as part of their 48 credit points.

Advanced Diploma

Students in the Community Adult Education and Human Resource Development major may be able to exit with an Advanced Diploma in Adult Education after a structured sequence of studies of 96 credit points.

Assessment

Assessment will be criterion-referenced and on a pass/fail basis.

Admission

Admission will normally be on the basis of one of the following categories:

1. Higher School Certificate
2. Completion of an approved certificate or diploma course from TAFE
3. Possession of equivalent qualifications
4. Adult entrance with appropriate work experience

In addition, applicants will need to have access to an appropriate workplace for supervised work experience in their major.

Applicants whose qualifications and experience differ from those described above may be considered for special admission.

Study and writing skills tutorial assistance is available for students who require academic support on their entry to tertiary studies.

Exemptions through Credit Transfer and Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

This course recognises that many of the students who enrol are already considerably experienced and knowledgeable practitioners in the field. They may already have the content knowledge which is required to satisfy the requirements for the teaching qualification or they may have completed other subjects relevant to this course. Recognition may be given to prior credentialled and uncredentialled learning.

Attendance

A variety of attendance patterns are available for most majors, subject to adequate levels of interest.

Community Adult Education

- Full-time evening (2 nights per week plus 3 to 4 Saturday workshops)
- Full-time afternoon (1 afternoon plus 3 to 4 Saturday workshops)
- Part-time evening (1 night per week plus 2 to 3 Saturday workshops)
- Full-time Aboriginal block (5 weekdays, 3 times per semester) open to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students only

Human Resource Development

- Full-time evening (2 nights per week plus 3 to 4 Saturday workshops)
- Full-time afternoon (1 afternoon plus 3 to 4 Saturday workshops)
• Part-time evening (1 night per week plus 2 to 3 Saturday workshops)
• Full-time block (5 weekdays, 3 times per semester)
• Full-time block (4 long weekends per semester) held off-campus at the Police Academy at Goulburn

Language, Literacy and Numeracy
• Full-time afternoon (1 afternoon plus 3 to 4 Saturday workshops)

Vocational Education
• Full-time day (2 days per week)
• Full-time block, residential (5 weekdays 3 times per semester)

Bachelor of Education in Primary Education

Course code: TE19

This is a four-year full-time degree. It shares a common first year with the Bachelor of Education in Special Education, Bachelor of Education in Teacher Librarianship and Bachelor of Education/Bachelor of Arts in International Studies. These degrees also share a common core consisting of Curriculum Studies and Education Studies. All students will engage in the practicum program which is a focus of the proposed courses. The Bachelor of Education in Primary Education combines theory and practice in a course which prepares students for a career in education and, specifically, teaching in primary schools. The innovative practicum integrates the academic component with practical experience in schools. Students will have the opportunity to participate in practical teaching sessions, and study all six key learning areas taught in primary schools. In addition students will have the opportunity to graduate with a Major Study of their choice.

Students will have practice teaching experience in the first three years of the course and an extended novice teacher program in the fourth year. The coursework will have five strands as outlined below:

- Practicum Studies comprise university coursework and field-based experience.
- Curriculum Studies comprise subjects related to the primary school curriculum.
- Education and Contextual Studies comprise studies of education and contextual studies.
- the Major Study comprises a set of four subjects in a discipline study of professional relevance and of particular interest to the student.
- the Advanced Study Elective is a set of three subjects of particular interest to the student which may be taken from Teacher Education or, if from outside the Faculty, with permission of the Associate Dean.

Mode of entry into the Reflective Practitioner in the School

The Reflective Practitioner in the School is compulsory for all students enrolled in the Bachelor of Education Conversion Course. There are two components to be completed:

1. teaching experience
2. reflective experience

The manner in which students progress towards the completion of their degree will vary depending on the mode selected within this subject.

There are five modes of operation in the subject and these are based on the level of experience of students upon entering the Bachelor of Education course. In each mode there are two components which must be completed: a teaching component which relates to the amount of time students have taught in schools; and a reflective component in which students will engage in a program of systematic reflective inquiry on aspects of teaching and schooling relative to their teaching experience. Students should read the following descriptions to determine which mode they follow.

Mode A: Associate Teacher program – for all full-time students. This mode involves an extended teaching experience for a period of seven weeks in the same school.
Mode B: Part-time Teacher program – for part-time students who are beginning teachers not yet in permanent teaching positions. Such students may elect to do 40 days’ continuous or 60 days’ non-continuous teaching experience. If students are unable to complete the required number of days in the first year, they will be able to participate in the Associate Teacher program in their second year of enrolment.

Mode C: Full-time Teacher program – for part-time students who are experienced teachers in permanent teaching positions.

Mode D: Overseas Teaching program – for students who come from other countries and need to upgrade their qualifications to be able to teach in NSW. (Please note, students with overseas qualifications must discuss their qualifications with the NSW Department of School Education before enrolling in the Bachelor of Education conversion course.) (Not offered in 1999.)

Practice Teaching: As there are often considerable cultural, linguistic and managerial style differences between NSW and overseas schools, overseas-trained teachers can benefit considerably from a practice teaching session in a NSW school. Accordingly, as part of the compulsory subject The Reflective Practitioner in the School, these students are required to complete practicums with a specially chosen teacher. The same standards and competencies are required of these students as are required from all students in the B Ed program.

Mode E: Secondary or TAFE teachers with relevant teaching experience. (Not offered in 1999.)

Special arrangements will be made for qualified and experienced teachers who are not currently employed in teaching.

In the reflective experience component of the subject, depending on the mode, students will be engaged in reflective inquiry on aspects of teaching and schooling at a level commensurate with their experience.

Associate Teacher program

The Associate Teacher program is for a period of seven weeks in the same school. In the first phase students will be allocated to a school for the first two weeks of the new school year. During the second phase, students will return to the same school for a further five weeks. In between these two phases students will visit their school for five days which are negotiated by the student and colleague teacher.

As associate teachers, students will be appointed to a specific class to work jointly with the class teachers and will be responsible for planning and implementing the curriculum in three key learning areas. They will also fulfil such responsibilities as determined by the school principal to ensure they are fully participating members of the school staff. For example, they will support the teachers in preparing feedback to parents regarding pupil progress; they will attend staff meetings and curriculum team meetings; and they will assist in the organisation of excursions and extended field trips. They will also be required to systematically collect data which will be analysed and interpreted during the University-based second semester of the course.

Strand B (elective subjects)

All subjects have a credit point value of 5cp except where indicated. Not all subjects will be offered every year.

95556 Technology, Society and Change

Two subjects may be chosen from outside Teacher Education (with permission of the Associate Dean).

To complete the BEd course, a student must complete a minimum of nine subjects. In addition to these, some students whose qualifications and experience are not recent or who have specialised in secondary rather than primary teaching for example, may have to do extra elective subjects. Overseas-trained students, whose knowledge of current NSW curricula may be lacking, may be required to take up to six subjects from a range of appropriate key learning areas (including Maths and English) in the initial Bachelor of Education degree. This is designed to ensure that graduates are familiar with, and competent in, using current key learning area syllabuses.

Admission Requirements for Mode D

The minimum requirements for overseas-trained teachers requesting admission into the BEd program are:

- appropriate overseas teaching qualifications
- competence in both English and another language
- demonstrated efficiency in the English language with a score of at least 7.0 in the International Language Testing System (IELTS) or 70 per cent in the Combined Universities Language Test (CULT). An added component of 7.0 or 70 per cent in writing is required.

Note: Modes D and E are not offered in 1999.

Course code: TE20

This is a four-year full-time degree. Completion of the Bachelor of Education in Special Education enables teachers to work in special education settings as well as in regular primary classrooms. The course shares a common first year with the other Bachelor of Education courses offered by Teacher Education, as well as a common core in later years.

Students who choose this degree, major in Special Education and complete two practicums in special education classrooms. The rest of the program is the same as that taken by students enrolled in the Bachelor of Education in Primary Education.

The Bachelor of Education in Special Education combines academic study and school experience in a course which prepares students to teach people with mild to severe difficulties and disabilities, whose ages range from preschool to adult.

Bachelor of Education in Teacher Librarianship

Course code: TE14

Not offered in 1999.

This is a four-year full-time course offered jointly by Teacher Education and the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences. It prepares graduates for careers as primary school teachers, teacher librarians in primary schools, or as information professionals.

The course has the following components, Practicum Studies, Curriculum Studies, Education and Contextual Studies, Advanced Elective Studies (see Bachelor of Education in Primary Teaching) and Information Studies, which provide the theoretical and practical knowledge relating to the role of the teacher librarian as an information professional within the educational environment.

This program is well suited to the multidimensional role of the teacher librarian. The common first year of the Bachelor of Education enables students to gain a shared basic understanding of learning, teaching and the curriculum. Subsequently, the dual role of teacher and librarian for the information professional in the school is emphasised through the study of subjects in both teacher education and information studies during the remaining years of the course. Students develop competencies in education, librarianship and administration. Theory is complemented by practice in a practicum program which provides experience in both the roles of a student teacher and a student teacher librarian.

Bachelor of Education/Bachelor of Arts in International Studies

Course code: TE21

The combined degree in Education and International Studies aims to provide students with the professional education necessary for preparation for primary teaching, while at the same time providing an opportunity to acquire knowledge and understanding of another language and culture.

The Bachelor of Education/Bachelor of Arts in International Studies is a five-year degree. Students spend the fourth year of study at a university overseas. All existing arrangements for both the Bachelor of Education and the Bachelor of Arts in International Studies apply equally to the combined degree program.

In the first year, students undertake the same core Teacher Education program as other Bachelor of Education students. Then, in the second and third years, they continue their study of Teacher Education while studying a particular language and culture in preparation for spending their fourth year at a university overseas. The fifth year is spent completing the Teacher Education program. Combined degree students complete the same core strands of Practicum Studies, Curriculum Studies and Education and Contextual Studies as other Bachelor of Education students, but in place of the Major Study and Advanced Study Elective strands, they do the International Studies program.

The Bachelor of Education/Bachelor of Arts in International Studies includes academic study and school experience in a combined degree thus ensuring that students will be well equipped to meet the challenges of local and international teaching.

To graduate, a student is required to have completed 240 credit points of study: 144 credit points in Teacher Education and 96 credit points in International Studies.
The Teacher Education component will include three strands:

• Practicum Studies, comprising university fieldwork and field-based experience
• Curriculum Studies, comprising subjects related to the primary school curriculum
• Education and Contextual Studies, comprising studies in education and a variety of contextual studies.

The International Studies program requires undergraduates to study one major – a country or region of specialisation – over a minimum of three years. Each of the majors within the International Studies program has a value of 96 credit points, and includes 32 credit points (four subjects) of instruction in an appropriate Language and Culture; 8 credit points (one subject) on Modernisation and Social Change; 8 credit points (one subject) on Contemporary Society; and 48 credit points (two semesters) of study at a university or institution of higher education in a country of the major. In 1999, the following majors will be offered: Argentina, Australia and the Asia-Pacific Region, Chile, China, Croatia, East Asia, France, Germany, Greece, Indonesia, Italy, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, Mexico, Poland, Russia, Slovenia, South China, South-East Asia, Spain, Taiwan, Thailand, Ukraine and Vietnam.

There are no prior language requirements for the International Studies component of this combined degree, however, some majors within the International Studies program do have specific admission requirements. The Poland, Slovenia, Ukraine and Vietnam majors are restricted to students with a sound working knowledge of the language of their specialisation. The East Asia major is restricted to students with a sound working knowledge of one of the Cantonese, Chinese, Japanese or Korean languages. Students are admitted to the International Studies program with no guarantee of entry to a specific major, although every effort is made in trying to meet students’ preferences.

Each student’s choice of a major and subjects to study in the International Studies program requires the approval of the Board of Studies of the Institute for International Studies.

In exceptional circumstances, students may, with the approval of the Board of Studies of the Institute for International Studies, vary the designated subjects in their International Studies major. A list of approved substitute subjects may be found in the Institute for International Studies Handbook.

All students are required to complete four consecutive semesters of study of Language and Culture before proceeding to In-country Study. There are different classes available for students with different levels of language proficiency.

The Institute for International Studies makes the arrangements for students to spend two semesters of In-country Study at an institution of higher education in a country of their major. The costs of tuition and travel are borne by UTS. Students should be aware that the cost of living in some countries – notably in Argentina, Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong, France and Germany – is higher than in Sydney.

Language and Culture

Each individual student’s level of language proficiency when they enter the International Studies program determines what Language and Culture subjects they study. There are various levels of entry to the Language and Culture programs available, again dependent on the student’s level of ability. Most of the programs are available at the beginners’ and post-HSC levels, and some also cater to the needs of more advanced students.

In 1999, the following Language and Culture programs are available at UTS: Cantonese, Chinese, Indonesian, Japanese, Malaysian, Modern Standard Chinese and Spanish. In addition, arrangements have been made for the following language programs to be taught to UTS students at other universities in the Sydney area: Croatian, French, German, Greek, Italian, Polish, Russian, Slovenian, Thai and Ukrainian. Again, the selection of a Language and Culture program is determined by the student’s choice of major.

Modernisation and Social Change

Contemporary Society

In each major of the International Studies program, students take two specific subjects which provide an introduction to the history, politics, economics and society of the country or region of their International Studies major.

The first subject is Modernisation and Social Change, which provides an introduction to comparative social change in Europe, Latin America, East Asia and South-East Asia. All students take this subject to help them locate the culture of their major in its intellectual, social and political contexts.
The second is Contemporary Society, which provides an introduction to a specific country or region in order to ensure that students gain an understanding of its political, social and economic structures, and to identify its more dynamic aspects. No prior knowledge of the culture or skills in the language concerned are required, and all teaching is conducted in English.

The following Contemporary Society subjects are taken in each major:

- Argentina
- Chile
- China
- Croatia
- East Asia
- France
- Germany
- Greece
- Indonesia
- Italy
- Japan
- Korea
- Malaysia
- Poland
- Russia
- Slovenia
- South China
- South-East Asia
- Spain
- Taiwan
- Thailand
- Ukraine

Modernisation and Social Change is offered in collaboration with the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences. Contemporary Society subjects are taught by the Institute and are open to all UTS students.

In-country Study

Undergraduate students undertaking a combined degree with International Studies spend two semesters of In-country Study at a university or institution of higher education overseas, determined by the student’s International Studies major. The precise study content will vary with each major, student language proficiency, the host institution and the course of study. For most students, the first semester is devoted exclusively to language and culture studies, while the second semester, where possible, is geared to the student’s professional training.

Student placements at overseas universities and institutions of higher education are arranged, administered and assessed by the Institute for International Studies. All students are expected to fully complete their programs of In-country Study including all examinations and other requirements. However, assessment for In-country Study subjects is based on a combination of moderated assessment from the overseas institution and additional project work, with overall assessment administered by the Institute.

Should students encounter difficulties during their period of In-country Study, the Institute will maintain a system of pastoral care. In special cases provision will be made for students to vary their program of study to fit individual circumstances. Students would be expected to complete their International Studies program by taking alternative subjects from the ‘List of Approved Substitute Subjects’ in this handbook.

Students should be aware that the cost of living in some countries – notably in Argentina, Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong, France and Germany – is higher than in Sydney.

For undergraduates, the two semesters of In-country Study are full-credit subjects at UTS for which HECS is payable. However, there are no further tuition fees and the Institute for International Studies will provide travel subsidies. The Institute has been informed that students receiving Austudy in Australia are still eligible to receive it while they are engaged in a period of In-country Study.

Under normal circumstances, students can only proceed to a period of In-country Study within the International Studies program after they have successfully completed all earlier stages in the combined degree program or the Postgraduate Coursework Degree program (whichever is applicable). Students who have not successfully completed all earlier stages may proceed to a period of In-country Study only in exceptional circumstances and with the permission of both the Dean of the faculty in which their degree is based and the Director of the Institute for International Studies.

The Institute reserves the right to vary arrangements for specific In-country Study programs in the event that, in the Institute for International Studies’ judgment, conditions are considered unsafe, unstable or present difficulties or dangers to life or study.

Before students engage in a period of In-country Study, they may be required to meet appropriate financial and enrolment requirements. They are also required to agree to be governed by the Institute’s Conditions of Participation for a Period of In-country Study, and to abide by the regulations of the host institution and the laws of the host country.

1 Students who undertake an International Field Experience in Practicum 7 will complete the Advanced Study Elective Teaching English to International Students in Semester 9.

In the fifth year of their combined degree program, students could draw on and extend their in-country experience by tailoring Practicum 7 to their area of special interest. For example, students could carry out Practicum 7 at a site such as an ethnic school, an Intensive Language Centre or a ‘New Arrivals’ class. This would enable the students to use and further develop their knowledge of a particular language and culture.
International Studies electives

The Institute for International Studies offers electives in language studies and in the study of contemporary societies in parts of the non-English-speaking world. All subjects last for one semester and are worth eight credit points.

Language studies

All UTS students wishing to engage in language studies as a credited part of their degree are required to enrol through the Institute for International Studies, whether the language studies are undertaken on a UTS campus or elsewhere. The Institute offers some language programs at UTS, has made arrangements with other universities for languages to be taught to UTS students, and can make special arrangements for individual students to attend specific language programs where academic needs demand.

The level of language study is determined by the language proficiency of students before entry to the UTS program. There is a range of entry levels to the various programs available. Most are available at beginners and post-HSC levels, and some at more advanced levels.

The Institute is offering Language and Culture programs in Cantonese, Chinese, Indonesian, Japanese, Malaysian and Spanish on UTS campuses through arrangements with the Insearch Language Centre. Higher levels of these languages may be offered through arrangements with other universities in the Sydney area.

Croatian, French, German, Greek, Italian, Korean, Polish, Russian, Serbian, Slovenian, Thai and Ukrainian are offered to UTS students through arrangements with other Sydney universities. It is also possible for individual arrangements to be made to enable UTS students to study other language programs.

Contemporary Society

The Institute for International Studies offers a series of subjects that provide an introduction to the contemporary societies, political climates, economies and cultures of the countries of East and South-East Asia, Latin America and Europe.

There are no prerequisites for any of the Contemporary Society subjects in the International Studies program. All subjects are taught in English and are available as electives to all UTS students, with the permission of their faculties.

For more information contact the Institute for International Studies, 10 Quay Street, Sydney, NSW 2007; telephone 9514 1574, fax 9514 1578.

Bachelor of Teaching in Adult Vocational Education

Course code: TT24

Course coordinator: Vacant

This course is now only offered in an offshore mode.

This course is the equivalent of a three-year full-time initial teacher education degree and has been developed to meet the needs of non-graduate vocational educators in vocational and further education institutions. Students undertake two years of full-time study whilst concurrently employed in an appropriate teaching environment. It is anticipated that all applicants will have acquired formal vocational qualifications and substantial industrial experience prior to their entry to the course.

Course aims

- The development of a foundation of basic teaching skills in beginning vocational teachers.
- The development of flexible and adaptable vocational educators who can demonstrate higher order skills such as critical thinking and interpersonal communication and who are open-minded, self-reliant, innovative and reflective.
- The development of professional practitioners who are able to perform competently in a range of essential skill areas, respond to client requirements, transfer knowledge and skill to new areas, use educational technology, and provide appropriate learning experiences to a range of client groups.
• The provision of a sound basis of professional competence that will lead to an ongoing and integrated program of development throughout the careers of vocational teachers and trainers linked both to the range of tasks they are expected to perform and to their career options.

Course structure

The course is offered over two years. Subjects are divided into core subjects and electives.

COURSES OFFERED IN CONJUNCTION WITH OTHER FACULTIES

Bachelor of Arts in Human Movement
Studies/Graduate
Diploma in Education

Course code: BL14

This is a four year full-time course offered jointly by the Faculty of Education and the Faculty of Business. The first three years of the degree run concurrently with the Bachelor of Arts in Human Movement Studies and the fourth year runs concurrently with the Graduate Diploma in Education. Admission to the Graduate Diploma in Education may be subject to a quota and therefore offered on merit.

The course is designed for students wishing to undertake a career in the teaching of personal development, health and physical education. Graduates find employment in both private and public schools. The degree is fully recognised by the NSW Department of Education and Training.

Details and program outlines are contained in the 1999 Faculty of Business Handbook.

Bachelor of Science in Science Education

Course code: N003

This is a four year full-time course offered jointly by the Faculty of Education and the Faculty of Science. The course provides students with a degree in Science and a professional qualification in Education. The degree comprises three-and-a-half years academic studies and science education, and one-half year's industrial training in a scientific discipline. The normal pattern is for students to spend semesters 5 and 8 at the Kuring-gai campus studying education subjects, and the remainder of their degree is based at the Broadway campus.

The course is primarily a preparation for secondary school science teachers of chemistry, physics and geology. The degree is fully recognised by the NSW Department of Education and Training.

Details and program outlines are contained in the 1999 Faculty of Science Handbook.

Bachelor of Arts in Adult Education and Community Management/
Advanced Diploma in Adult Education and Community Management

Course code: tba

This is a three-year full-time course offered jointly by the Faculty of Education and the Faculty of Business. The development of a joint undergraduate award course for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people has been undertaken to address the professional development needs of indigenous people who are involved in community education and the management of community-based organisations. The course is underpinned by a coherent pedagogy which is practitioner centred and geared towards education at the post-compulsory level. It is designed for community practitioners who wish to reflect critically and systematically on their practice and to enlarge their professional knowledge.

The course comprises a total of 144 credit points and has the capacity to award an Advanced Diploma on exit after two-years full-time study of 96 credit points.

The course has been designed in two stages. Stage 1 comprises the first 96 credit points of the course and includes 30 credit points in Adult Education; 30 credit points in Community Management and 36 credit points in Aboriginal Studies. Students may elect to exit after successful completion of stage 1 with an Advanced Diploma in Adult Education and Community Management.

In Stage 2 of the course students complete 12 credit points in Aboriginal Studies and elect a further 36 credit points from either Adult Education or Community Management in any combination.
Postgraduate courses

Doctor of Philosophy

Course code: TA95

Course coordinator: Professor David Boud

This course is for participants who wish to prepare a Doctoral thesis in one of the fields of education taught within the Faculty. Prior to admission, candidates will be required to submit a two- to three-page outline of their area of research interest (normally following consultation with the Head of School and/or a potential supervisor). This may occur before a formal application is lodged but in any case should be attached to the application. Please refer to the list entitled 'Staff research interests and expertise' at the back of this handbook. There are no coursework requirements; however, coursework may be prescribed for some students as a condition of their candidature.

Eligibility for admission (University Rule 3.5.3)

1. To qualify for admission to a Doctoral degree program applicants shall:
   a. hold from this University a Bachelor’s degree with First or Second Class Honours (Division 1) or a Master’s degree;

   or

   b. hold from this University or another tertiary educational institution a Bachelor’s degree with Second Class Honours for which there is no division of Second Class Honours, and the Academic Board is satisfied that the standard attained by the candidate is equivalent to that which is required at this University for Second Class Honours (Division 1) or equivalent;

   or

   c. hold from another tertiary educational institution a Bachelor’s degree with First Class Honours or Second Class Honours (Division 1) or a Master’s degree approved by the Academic Board as a sufficient qualification for admission as a candidate;

   or

   d. be a graduate of this university or another tertiary educational institution and have after at least one year’s study in this University as a Master’s or Master’s qualifying student reached a standard equivalent to that of a Bachelor’s degree with Honours;

   or

   e. be a graduate of at least two years’ standing of this university or another tertiary educational institution whose research publications and written reports on work carried out by the applicant satisfy the Academic Board that he/she has the ability and experience to pursue his/her proposed course of study;

   or

   f. transfer from a Master’s degree.

2. a. Applicants will be required to provide satisfactory evidence of their ability to undertake advanced research appropriate to their Doctoral program.

   b. Where such evidence is not available the candidate will be required to undertake a prescribed course in research methodology appropriate to the relevant discipline.
Doctor of Education

Course code: TA96

Course coordinator: Dr Alison Lee

The degree of Doctor of Education is designed to meet the needs of practitioners by providing extended advanced study for those whose background and experience are appropriate for leadership in the various sectors of education (e.g. teachers, trainers, administrators, planners, managers and policy advisers in both school and post-school education, working in government, industrial, commercial or community settings). Its purpose is to enhance, through advanced coursework and research, the practitioner’s capacity to question, analyse, critique and develop the profession and its practices. It is a research-based degree since its purpose is to assist professionals in the field to become aware of the relationship between research and their professional activities in areas such as policy development and appraisal, innovation and administration.

The award is offered on the basis of six semesters of full-time study or its part-time equivalent. Candidates will be required to complete four compulsory semester-length subjects (nine credit points each) and an additional two elective subjects (six credit points each). They will also undertake a dissertation related to an issue or problem arising from practice. The dissertation will be 40,000–60,000 words and comprises two-thirds of the course load. For candidates who hold a Bachelor’s degree the minimum period of study is six semesters full-time or the part-time equivalent. For candidates who hold a Master’s degree the minimum period of study is four semesters full-time or the part-time equivalent. The maximum period of study is nine semesters full-time or its part-time equivalent.

The four compulsory subjects in the degree are:

- 016715 Analysing Professional Practice 9cp
- 016713 Lifelong Education, Research and Practice 9cp
- 023999 Research Literacies 9cp
- 016714 Dissertation Development and Appraisal 9cp

1 See the Teacher Education section of this handbook for subject description.

The two elective subjects are chosen from a range of subjects at Master’s or Doctoral level.

Admission requirements and prerequisites

Normal admission

Formal educational requirements:
Bachelor Honours Second Class (Division 1) or above or a Master’s degree in education or a related discipline.

Pre-entry occupational requirements:
Three years’ work experience in an education/training context.

Other prerequisites:
A capacity to carry out research, analyse educational issues, and apply reflective practice as demonstrated by course and/or workplace achievements. Students who meet this criterion but do not have a history of formal research subjects may be required to undertake specified research subjects at Master’s or Doctoral level.

An ability to nominate and justify an area of research suitable for a Doctoral dissertation in the Faculty.

Special admission

Applicants who do not qualify for normal admission may be admitted if they can demonstrate a history of achievement in research and policy analysis through, for example, scholarly publications or a major involvement in research projects.

Unsatisfactory progress

Candidates are requested to note that in accordance with University Rule 3.2.6.2 and 3.3.7.2 any postgraduate coursework candidate in the Faculty of Education who records failures in any one subject twice or in any two subjects will be deemed to be making unsatisfactory progress and may have his/her registration discontinued by the Faculty Board.
Master of Education (Honours)

Course code: TA83

Course coordinator: Professor David Baud

The Master of Education (Honours) is a two-year full-time equivalent research degree. The program comprises research coursework, participation in Faculty research seminars and a thesis of 50,000 words. The thesis work of MEd (Honours) candidates is generally closely related to the research interests of supervising members of staff in the Faculty's areas of research strength. Entry to the MEd (Honours) is by direct admission or through a 'research pathway' from the Master of Education in Adult Education by coursework. Direct admission requires the minimum of a Bachelor's degree, preferably with Honours or its equivalent. Entry from the Master of Education in Adult Education by coursework is based on the candidate demonstrating research potential in the research subjects and completing preparatory work for the thesis in consultation with a potential supervisor.

Admission requirements

Honours Bachelor degree or equivalent.

Master of Education (by thesis)

Course code: TA81

This course is for students who wish to undertake a major research project in one of the fields of education taught within the Faculty. Prior to admission, candidates will be required to submit a two- to three-page outline of their area of research interest (normally following consultation with the Head of School and/or a potential supervisor). This may occur before a formal application is lodged, but in any case the outline should be attached to the application. Please refer to the list entitled 'Staff research interests and expertise' at the back of this handbook. There are no coursework requirements. However, some may be prescribed for some students as a condition of their candidature.

Eligibility for admission (University Rule 3.4.2.1)

To qualify for admission to a Master's degree program applicants shall:

a. (i) possess a Bachelor's degree of the University of Technology, Sydney or (ii) possess an equivalent qualification or (iii) submit such other evidence of general and professional qualifications as will satisfy the Academic Board that the applicant possesses the educational preparation and capacity to pursue graduate studies; and

b. satisfy such additional requirements for admission to a particular program, if any, as may be prescribed by the Academic Board.

Master's degree (by thesis) – unsatisfactory progress

Candidates are requested to note that in accordance with University Rule 3.4.11.2 any Master’s degree (by thesis) candidate who has been required to undertake a program of subjects concurrently with his/her candidature and who fails to complete successfully any one of those subjects will be deemed to be making unsatisfactory progress and may have his/her registration discontinued by the Faculty Board.

Master of Arts in Children's Literature and Literacy (by coursework)

Course code: TE75

Course coordinator: Ms Rhondda Brit

See also the Graduate Diploma in Children's Literature and Literacy (TE50).

This is a part-time program normally extending over four semesters. In 1999, there is a possibility that the course will be offered in a mixed mode. Coursework subjects are the same for both the Graduate Diploma and the Master of Arts (MA), but MA students will be required to attain at least a credit average in the subjects studied in Semesters 1, 2 and 3. In Semester 4, Graduate Diploma students will complete an individual piece of work of approximately 5,000 words; MA students will complete a major study of approximately 15,000 words.

The course is designed for teachers, librarians, youth workers and others with a special interest in children's literature and literacy. It will be of value to teachers involved in the implementation of literature programs, teachers wishing to take up positions as reading specialists or curriculum advisers, school and children's librarians, and writers, editors and publishers of children's literature.

Entry requirements to the Graduate Diploma are a Diploma of Teaching or relevant degree and approximately two years' professional experience. Entry requirements to the MA are a relevant degree and approximately two years' professional experience. Applicants with a Diploma of Teaching may qualify for entry to the MA by successful completion of one year of the BEd.

Master of Arts in Language and Literacy (by coursework)

Course code: TA72
Course coordinator: Dr Mike Baynham

Participants
This course is designed for trained experienced teachers and consultants who wish to gain a higher degree focusing on language learning and teaching as well as language planning and policy issues. Students may focus on language, literacy or numeracy in one or more of the following areas: Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL); Teaching Languages Other than English (TLOTE) and Adult Basic Education (ABE).

Admission
Entry requirements are:
- Undergraduate degree or equivalent (essential)
- Teaching qualification (essential)
- At least three years' relevant teaching experience (essential)
- Concurrent relevant teaching experience (desirable)

Candidates who have completed the Graduate Certificate in TESOL or TLOTE (UTS) or equivalent may also be granted advanced standing of up to 12 credit points. Candidates who have completed the Graduate Diploma in TESOL, ABE or TLOTE (UTS) or equivalent may be granted advanced standing up to 24 credit points.

Course aims
- To enable students to achieve or consolidate specialist, professional competence as practitioners in teaching and programming for spoken and written language development in a language other than English.
- To provide students with the relevant theoretical underpinning and a critical perspective to this professional competence and reflective practice.
- To develop students' capacity for theoretically informed reflective practice.
- To develop students' understanding of the linguistic demands of teaching and learning and of issues in language development.
• To develop students' critical understanding of the socio-political context of their work and its impact on their practice.
• To develop or strengthen students' capacity to undertake a range of leadership roles in their field(s) of practice whether as curriculum developers, researchers, program managers, advisers or exemplary teachers.
• To provide a relevant theoretical underpinning to these roles, including an in-depth understanding of the role of language in educational practices and current issues in social policy.
• To equip students with skills, knowledge and critical perspectives to undertake theoretically informed research and curriculum development in their field(s) of practice.

Assessment

Assessment is criterion-referenced. This means that students will be assessed on whether they meet certain criteria, and graded 'pass' or 'fail' accordingly.

Attendance

TESOL and TLOTE pathways

In Year 1, students completing the course through part-time study would attend on a Thursday afternoon or evening. Students working in the adults sector would attend on Thursday 2.00 – 6.30 p.m. and students working in the schools sector would attend on Thursday 4.30 – 9.30 p.m.

In Autumn semester attendance is required for approximately four hours one evening per week with an additional optional tutorial on another evening. In Spring semester students will attend two hours a week for each lecture-based subject and by negotiation for other subjects.

ABE pathway

Depending on demand, this pathway will be available in Year 1 in two modes: by block attendance four times a year or by weekly attendance on Thursday 9.30 a.m. – 3.30 p.m.

Attendance in Year 2 will be on a Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday evening, depending on the student's choice of electives. Certain electives in Year 2 may be available by block mode.

Course structure

The Master of Arts in Language and Literacy would normally be completed in two years of part-time study. In some circumstances it would be possible to complete the course as a full-time student over a shorter period. Students must complete subjects totalling 48 credit points to be eligible for the award of Master of Arts in Language and Literacy.

Course aims

Underlying this course is a coherent pedagogy, which is practitioner-centred and geared towards education at the post-compulsory level. The aims of the course are for the student to:

- develop expertise in understanding and managing adult learning;
- acquire new and more advanced knowledge in designing, implementing, and evaluating educational programs for adults;
- use adult education to contribute to the development of a democratic and socially just society;
• expand and evaluate the personal capacity to be self-directed in learning;
• develop an analysis of the social, political and economic context of adult education;
• develop and apply techniques of critical inquiry to their adult education practice;
• conceptualise and criticise epistemological frameworks underlying theory and practice in adult education;
• exhibit scholarly rigour in research, critique, evaluation, design and implementation of adult learning;
• be a force for innovation in adult education;
• acknowledge the multiple perspectives that individuals bring to any learning situation as a result of their gender, ethnicity, class, age, sexuality and/or physical abilities.

Assessment
Assessment is either ‘pass’ or ‘fail’. The assessment load in each subject will be 7,000 words or the equivalent in other forms of work.

Attendance
The course will involve attendance on one evening each week through the academic year. Subjects are normally held on Tuesday from 4.30 – 6.30 p.m. and 7.00 – 9.00 p.m. and Thursdays from 4.30 – 6.30 p.m. and 7.00 – 9.00 p.m. A minimum of 85 per cent attendance is required for most subjects. A block program is also available.

Course structure
• Students must complete a total of eight subjects comprising 48 credit points including two core subjects: Understanding Adult Education and Training, and Research Perspectives in Education.
• Four subjects within a major will constitute a major. The majors are:
  Career Education/Counselling Educational Leadership
  Experience-based Learning
  Higher and Professional Education
  Human Resource Development
  Language and Literacy
  Open, Flexible and Distance Education Policy Studies
  Popular Education

Post-Compulsory and Vocational Education and Training

Independent study projects:
- allow participants to design their own learning experiences in negotiation with a member of academic staff;
- take a variety of forms e.g., a reading course, a field-based study, an action research project;
- must relate to an aspect of adult education not dealt with in other subjects in the course.

Master of Education in Teacher Education (by coursework)

Course code: TE84 (Coursework)

Course coordinator: Dr G Barnsley

Course code: TE82 (Special Education Specialisation)

Course coordinator: Dr J Jardine

Not offered in 1999.

Course code: TE85 (Visual Arts Specialisation)

Course coordinator: Ms A Bamford

Participants

This course is designed for people in teaching or related professions who wish to engage in further professional development. Applicants need (a) a Bachelor of Education degree or equivalent with a major in education, or (b) a first degree without an education major, and with a recognised professional qualification (for example Diploma in Education), or (c) a first degree without an education major, but professional experience equivalent to a recognised professional qualification. Successful applicants from groups (b) and (c) may be required to undertake additional education subjects.

Course aims

The Master of Education in Teacher Education applies intellectual rigour and theoretical sophistication in advancing the discipline of Education in a practical context. It aims to improve the profession of education, in the classroom, administration, policy making and educational research. It provides studies characterised by breadth and depth: breadth by enabling elective choice from a wide range of disciplinary areas; and depth by requiring understanding and skills of analysis beyond the undergraduate level.

The structure of the course is designed to cater for various needs and interests. Students may specialise in educational policy; planning and curriculum; special education; or visual arts.

Assessment

Student performance is graded according to the range of grades adopted by the University.

Course structure

Students may complete this course in one of three patterns: eight coursework subjects; or six coursework subjects and a minor independent study; or four coursework subjects and a major independent study.

Students who wish to undertake a minor or major independent study must complete a subject in educational research and must have completed two subjects which are related to the topic of the proposed study. Subject to approval, a number of subjects may be taken from other courses within or outside the University.

Subjects

Availability of subjects is dependent on resources and student numbers.

Subjects are grouped in four main areas but there are no constraints on student choice (apart from the exceptions noted above).

Master of Teaching in Science Teaching (by coursework)

Course code: T£83

Course coordinator: Associate Professor Mark Cosgrove

Participants
This course is three years part-time or equivalent, and is a postgraduate degree for science educators in early and mid career who wish to become professional and academic leaders in science teaching. Through a set of four coursework subjects and a thesis, participants will advance their theory and practice of science education, becoming knowledgeable, confident and discriminating science education researchers.

Course aims
In this course, students will:
1. advance their theory and practice of science education;
2. develop their knowledge of the evolution of the disciplines of science and of science education, up to and including the implications for science and science education of current and likely advances in computer and communications technologies;
3. articulate, understand the values behind, and address in their practice those issues which influence the science education enterprise; and
4. become knowledgeable, confident and discriminating science education researchers.

Assessment
Student performance is graded according to the range of grades adopted by the University.

Eligibility
Students seeking entry to the Master of Teaching in Science Teaching will be able to demonstrate a capacity for advanced study. They will normally be graduates with some years’ teaching experience. The minimal qualifications are a degree with science subjects at an advanced level, and a recognised teaching qualification, such as a Graduate Diploma of Education, or a four-year degree in science and science education.
Course structure
This course may be offered in flexible mode (during school holidays and weekends).
The course has a five-subject format, the individual subjects being:

- 028981 Advanced Science Education 8cp
- 028982 Research in Science Education 8cp
- 028983 Studies in the History of Science and Science Education 8cp
- 028984 Issues in Science Education 8cp
- 028991 Research Project 16cp

The first two listed subjects constitute the foundation of the course and are to be studied first.

Graduate Diploma in Adult Basic Education

Course code: TAZ2

Course coordinator: Ms Betty Johnston

Participants
This is a two-year part-time course for people wishing to gain a specialist qualification in the field of adult basic education. The course consists of eight subjects of which five are core subjects. Applicants must have a degree, diploma or equivalent qualification. Successful applicants who are not teacher trained will have to undertake the two practicum subjects which can be studied with the other subjects in the first year of the course. Graduates of the course work in a variety of public and private adult education institutions which offer opportunities for adults to learn and build on basic literacy and numeracy skills.

Articulation
The course articulates with other courses offered by the Faculty in the following way:

- students in the second year of the course may choose elective subjects from other courses offered by the Faculty;
- students may apply at the end of the first year to transfer into the Master of Arts in Language and Literacy;
- graduates of the course can apply for entry into the Master of Education in Adult Education. If accepted, applicants can apply for a maximum of 12 credit points advanced standing.

Course aims
The course is designed to help you:

- acquire a sound understanding of the teaching of literacy and numeracy to adults;
- develop competent adult teaching techniques;
- acquire skills in designing/implementing and evaluating a variety of learning activities;
- be able to organise, manage and provide advice in the delivery of adult basic education;
- critically evaluate research findings and theoretical concepts in adult teaching and learning as they relate to adult basic education;
- identify and evaluate the social, political and economic contexts of adult education;
- gain a broad understanding of the development of adult education in Australia and overseas;
- develop the capacity for self-directed learning.

Assessment
Assessment is either pass or fail and is related to attendance, teaching practice, participation in all components of the course and completion of learning assignments and contracts. Participants can negotiate some assignments with a staff adviser to meet with their own professional needs as well as the competencies required by the course. There are some set assignments.

Attendance
The course will be delivered in distance mode and weekly mode, and sometimes in block mode. The weekly mode involves attending one day a week in the first year (Thursdays 9.30 am-3.30 pm). Attendance in the second year depends on the subjects chosen and may involve day or evening classes across the week.

Graduate Diploma in Children’s Literature and Literacy

Course code: TE50

Course coordinator: Ms Rhondda Brill

See also Master of Arts in Children’s Literature and Literacy TE75.

This is a part-time program extending over four semesters. In 1999, it is possible that a flexible mode of delivery may apply. Coursework subjects are the same for both the Graduate Diploma and the Master of Arts (MA), but MA students will be required to attain at least a credit average in the subjects studied in Semesters 1, 2, and 3. In Semester 4, Graduate Diploma students will complete an individual piece of work of approximately 5,000 words. MA students will complete a major study of approximately 15,000 words.

The course is designed for teachers, librarians, youth workers and others with a special interest in children’s literature and literacy. It will be of value to teachers involved in the implementation of literature programs, teachers wishing to take up positions as reading specialists or curriculum advisers, school and children’s librarians, and writers, editors and publishers of children’s literature.

Entry requirements to the Graduate Diploma are a Diploma of Teaching or relevant degree and approximately two years’ professional experience. Entry requirements to the MA are a relevant degree and approximately two years’ professional experience. Applicants with a Diploma of Teaching may qualify for entry to the MA by successful completion of one year of the BEd.

Graduate Diploma in Education

Course codes: Science TE51; Mathematics TE56 (not offered in 1999); Personal Development, Health and Physical Education TE58

Course coordinator: Dr Janette Griffin

This is a one-year full-time or equivalent part-time course for graduates of universities, or those with equivalent qualifications, who wish to prepare for secondary school teaching. The course aims to produce teachers who are reflective in their practice, are able to cope with the changing nature of teaching, have interpersonal skills, are able to put current developments in learning and teaching into practice, and have a commitment to lifelong learning. Interviews may be part of the selection procedure. Students need to satisfy requirements in the following three strands.

Curriculum Studies

Elective Curriculum Studies are available in these secondary school key learning areas: Mathematics (TE56), Personal Development and Health and Physical Education (TE58), and Science (TE51). These subjects aim to prepare students to become effective educators in their key learning area, and to develop the professional insights and competencies necessary for a reflective practitioner teaching in the secondary school.

Students must elect to undertake studies in the area in which they have academic qualifications at degree level. Mathematics elective requires at least 2/9 of a degree in Mathematics (preferably a full major). Admission to the PDHPE elective requires a degree in Human Movement Studies or equivalent; and admission to the Science elective requires 2/9 of a degree in one Science discipline and 1/9 of a degree in another, provided that Physics and/or Chemistry are included.

Education Studies

Within the context of a study of the principles and patterns of human growth and development in the secondary years, Education Studies subjects in Semester 1 emphasise the ways in which learning occurs, students and teachers interact effectively and teachers best provide for special needs of students. In Education Studies subjects in Semester 2, students will acquire the knowledge and skills needed to understand and respond effectively to critical educational issues and to acknowledge and respond effectively to education as a social enterprise.

Practicum

The Practicum component includes both campus-based and field-based experiences. Students will be introduced to professional practice in the secondary school by drawing together the theory and practice necessary for an effective educational practitioner.

Graduate Diploma in Language Teaching

Course code: TA60

Course coordinator: Mr Liam Morgan

Participants
This one-year full-time course is an initial teacher training qualification for native or near-native speakers of Japanese who have an undergraduate degree and want to teach Japanese in secondary schools in Australia. Applicants must have appropriate levels of proficiency in English which will be assessed by interview.

Course aims
- To develop the level of English language competency needed to interact in a variety of roles and contexts within the Australian education system.
- To become familiar with the nature of Australian culture in general, and the culture of the Australian education system in particular.
- To develop a theoretical understanding of current language teaching issues.
- To understand current Japanese syllabuses and be able to interpret and implement them effectively at different levels.
- To develop sound teaching practice in program design, lesson planning and delivery, and materials development.
- To develop competencies in the applications of technology to language learning.

Assessment
Students are assessed in the following ways:
- learning journals;
- preparation of language teaching materials;
- written practicum supervision;
- weekly tasks;
- short reports/essays.
Assessment is either 'pass' or 'fail'.

Attendance
Attendance is 15 hours per week for lectures and five hours per week for designated school attachment days. There is a 45-day practicum which involves full-time attendance at schools.

Course structure
There will be regular school attachments involving a total of 25 days (including a two-week practicum) in Semester 1 and a four-week practicum in Semester 2.

Graduate Diploma in Music Therapy

Course code: TE59

Course coordinator: Dr Rosemary Johnston

The Graduate Diploma in Music Therapy provides the opportunity for suitably qualified people to acquire knowledge, develop specialist skills and gain required basic experience in preparation for a career as a music therapist.

Some subjects in the Graduate Diploma are provided by the Faculty of Nursing.

Applicants require a degree or equivalent in music, music education, nursing or another relevant field from a recognised tertiary institution. Should the applicant hold a degree in an area other than music, competencies in music must be of an advanced standard. Preference will be given to students who have also completed courses in Orff method, Dalcroze method, Nordoff-Robbins method or psychology which included cognition, perception, theories of learning and memory, neuropsychology, social psychology and statistics.

The Graduate Diploma in Music Therapy is a thorough study of the theory and practice of music therapy designed for those who wish to enter, or change to, a career in this profession. Graduates will be eligible for registration as music therapists with the Australian Music Therapy Association.

This course does not attract HECS charges and students are required to pay course fees. Course fee information is available during each application period. Further information can be obtained from the course coordinator.

Course aims

The course aims to develop skills in the design, implementation and evaluation of music therapy programs in a wide range of clinical and special education settings. It aims to develop a knowledge of clinical conditions and an understanding of how music can be applied in a therapeutic and special education modality. The course aims to develop musicianship skills to a level at which the applicant will be able to confidently devise and lead therapeutic music activities for select clients. The course aims to develop research interests in all aspects of music therapy.

Assessment

The result of assessment is either 'pass' or 'fail'.

Attendance

Attendance at lectures for a minimum of four hours each week is required.

Clinical practicum in institutions under supervision runs for 28/29 days per semester. Times for the clinical practicum can be negotiated.

Course structure

The course is offered over two years of part-time study.

Graduate Diploma in Teaching Languages Other than English (TLOTE)

Course code: TAL82
Course coordinator: Mr Liam Morgan

Participants
This course is designed for students who have an undergraduate qualification or equivalent and who are already working in or wish to work in the TLOTE field. The course is open to people with or without a recognised tertiary teaching qualification who wish to gain a comprehensive postgraduate, specialist qualification in teaching languages other than English.

Admission
Entry requirements are:
- Undergraduate degree or equivalent (essential)
- Teaching qualification (desirable)
- At least two years' successful study at tertiary level in a LOTE or equivalent (desirable)
- Relevant teaching experience (desirable)
- Concurrent relevant teaching experience (desirable)

Candidates who have completed the Graduate Certificate in TLOTE (UTS) or equivalent may be granted advanced standing.

Course aims
- To enable students to achieve or consolidate specialist, professional competence as practitioners in teaching and programming for spoken and written language development in a language other than English.
- To provide students with the relevant theoretical underpinning and a critical perspective to this professional competence and reflective practice.
- To develop students' capacity for theoretically informed reflective practice.
- To develop students' understanding of the linguistic demands of teaching and learning and of issues in language development.
- To develop students' critical understanding of the socio-political context of their work and its impact on their practice.

Assessment
Assessment is criterion-referenced. This means that students will be assessed on whether they meet certain criteria, and graded 'pass' or 'fail' accordingly.

Attendance
Attendance is on Thursday 4.30 – 9.00 p.m. The practicum will be negotiated with the coordinator and an adviser.

Course structure
The Graduate Diploma in TLOTE would normally be completed in two years of part-time study. In some circumstances it would be possible to complete the course as a full-time student over a shorter period. Students must complete subjects totalling 48 credit points to be eligible for the award of Graduate Diploma in TLOTE.

Graduate Diploma in Primary Music

Course code: TE54

Course coordinator: Dr Graham Barnsley

This course will not be offered in 1999.

The Graduate Diploma in Primary Music is intended for practising teachers in early or middle childhood who possess an initial teacher degree, or equivalent, which includes some music education components and wish to develop an expertise in primary classroom music teaching. Graduates of the full four-semester course will have pursued in-depth studies in the areas of theoretical and practical musicianship and music education so that they will be capable of implementing a school-based, sequential program in music education from K-6. Applicants must hold a relevant degree or diploma from a recognised tertiary institution.

Graduate Diploma in Special Education

Course code: TE53

Course coordinator: Dr Joan Jardine

This course is one-year full-time or equivalent. Academic study and school experience are combined to prepare students to teach people with mild to severe difficulties and disabilities whose ages range from pre-school to adult. The course presents a non-categorical approach to education for persons who need additional support. Support for students in mainstream classes and the provision of an alternative, functional approach to education are both examined. The Graduate Diploma in Special Education enables teachers to work in any special education setting other than those for persons with visual and/or aural impairment. Applicants are required to have satisfactorily completed an appropriate degree or diploma. Normally, this qualification will be a degree in education, or a degree with a major in education, but related degrees, such as those in nursing or speech pathology, or an arts degree with a relevant major, may be considered.

Course structure

The full-time structure of the course is as follows.

Semester 1
023852 Reading and Spelling Instruction for Students with Special Education Needs 6cp
023853 Written Text and Students with Learning Difficulties 6cp
023855 Instructional Issues in the Education of Students with Moderate and High Support Needs 6cp
023861 Practicum 1: Exceptional Teaching (includes field experience) 6cp
Semester 2

Graduate Diploma in Vocational Education and Training

Course code: TA05

Course coordinator: Ms Zita Wagner

Participants

The Graduate Diploma in Vocational Education and Training is a one-year full-time in-service course developed to meet the needs of graduate vocational educators. Applicants must have either an appropriate degree from a university or college of advanced education, or an appropriate diploma at an approved tertiary institution. In addition applicants must be concurrently engaged as a trainer/teacher/facilitator in a vocational education setting. Applicants with qualifications and experience other than those described above may be considered for special admission. It is expected that candidates will have formal vocational qualifications prior to entry to the course.

Course aims

The course aims to develop:

- the knowledge, skills and attributes to perform as competent vocational educators;
- the competencies related to self-direction in learning which will enable students to continue their professional development following completion of the course.

Attendance

There are two modes of attendance, as follows:

1. Weekly mode: 2 days per week (plus one day independent study per week)
2. Mixed mode: 3 x 5 day blocks per semester (plus one-and-a-half days’ independent study per week)

Each subject will offer structured independent activities to complete during the independent study days.

Graduate Certificate in Higher Education

Offered by the Centre for Learning and Teaching via the Faculty of Education

Course code: TOSO

Course coordinator: Ms Jo McKenzie

Course aims and structure

This course aims to foster university teachers’ critical reflections on their teaching and subjects from the perspectives of: their own experience; the experiences of their students; the insights of their peers; and the research on teaching and learning in higher education. It encourages teachers to develop a greater understanding of student learning in higher education and use this understanding to develop effective approaches to teaching including monitoring students’ learning, assessment, curriculum design and evaluation with a variety of students and in a range of contexts. The course is designed to enhance university teachers’ skills in, and attitudes towards, self-directed continuing professional development, and their understanding of the academic and higher education contexts within which teaching and learning occur. Participants in the course undertake negotiated projects and may choose to focus on a wide range of aspects of teaching and learning, including flexible and workplace learning.

It is a part-time course involving the equivalent of eight weeks full-time study which may be completed over two, three or four semesters. Participants may commence the course in either Autumn or Spring semester.

The course consists of three compulsory subjects which will comprise smaller modules:

<tr>
<td>01010</td>
<td>University Teaching and Learning</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>01011</td>
<td>The Academic Profession</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>01012</td>
<td>Student Learning and Evaluation</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Assessment

Participants are assessed in a variety of ways designed to enable them to achieve the objectives of the subjects and increase their familiarity with a diversity of assessment approaches, including self-assessment and peer assessment. Most assessment tasks are open to negotiation. There are no examinations. Participants will develop a reflective journal or academic portfolio as part of the overall course requirements.

Attendance pattern

Within the part-time course no regular attendance pattern is envisaged. Attendance will depend on the needs and the teaching timetables of the participants, but on average completion of the course over two semesters will involve participating in 16-18 face-to-face sessions spread throughout the year. Some subject components may involve online interaction as an alternative, or in addition to, face-to-face sessions but it is not intended to replace all face-to-face contact. The first course sessions are held before the beginning of Autumn and Spring semesters.

Admission requirements

The course involves participants in reflecting on their own practice in a university context. For this reason, applicants must be in full-time or fractional academic employment in a higher education institution or be a casual teacher and able to provide appropriate evidence that they will have regular university teaching commitments during course enrolment. UTS full-time and fractional staff and participants in the Internship program are exempt from paying course fees through sponsorship by the University. UTS casuals with ongoing contracts should contact the course coordinator to inquire about their fee status. All other participants are expected to pay full fees.
Graduate Certificate in Adult Education in Community Education

Course code: TA66

Course coordinator: Ms Jane Sampson

Participants
This one-year part-time course is for people who already have a tertiary qualification or equivalent and who are engaged in community adult education. Such people are likely to be working as facilitators and educators with adult education centres, evening or community colleges, Aboriginal communities and organisations, outreach organisations, welfare agencies, charitable organisations, community health organisations, advice centres, or groups engaged in social and community action.

Articulation
The course articulates with other courses offered by the Faculty in the following way:

- you may apply for and enrol in the Graduate Certificate and complete the course after one year;
- once you have completed the Graduate Certificate you may apply to enter the Master of Education in Adult Education. Subjects completed in the Graduate Certificate cannot be credited towards the Master of Education in Adult Education. If accepted you may exit either at the end of the first year with a Graduate Diploma in Adult Education (Community) or at the end of the second year with a Master of Education in Adult Education. As a result the Graduate Certificate is designed to offer you a one-year introduction to the field of community adult education in a way that will relate to your immediate professional needs. This may be all you want. However, if at the end of the course you feel you would like to continue studying community adult education as a field of academic inquiry, then the opportunity is there.

Course aims
The course aims to help you become an informed and effective community adult educator. By the end of the course you should be able to:

- describe and apply relevant theory drawn from the literature on adult learning to your practice as a facilitator of adult learning in community and social action contexts;
- describe and apply relevant theory drawn from the literature relating to developing, conducting and evaluating adult education programs in a community or social action context;
- demonstrate competencies related to self-direction in learning that will enable you to continue your development as community adult educators.

Process
Some of the course is prescribed and some learner-directed. This means that there are opportunities for students to pool information and ideas with other participants and to tailor study directly to professional, community and personal requirements.

Course components
Seminars are held on a weekday evening and are usually conducted as lecture discussions. Sessions last two hours. The seminars are used to examine the theory that informs community adult education practice. In Autumn semester the seminars are entitled Adult Teaching and Learning. You will be encouraged to examine certain adult learning principles and a number of adult learning theories. This will lead to a study of teaching and learning techniques that place an emphasis on facilitation and dialogue, and draw on the theory and practice of educators with experience in the fields of community development and social action. In Spring semester the seminars are entitled Developing Community Adult Education Programs. You will be encouraged to examine the theory and practice of designing and implementing a range of educational activities in differing kinds of community. By looking at the work of a number of adult educators you will be encouraged to develop your own theoretical framework to guide your practice.

Professional Skills is a composite activity requiring attendance on the same weekday evening as the seminars. Sessions last one-and-a-half hours. On alternate weeks a member of staff will lead using lectures and exercises to help you develop your facilitation and teaching skills. On the other weeks participants will be allocated into semi-autonomous study groups and asked to work on a number of learning projects which, within given parameters, you will be able to choose and design yourselves.

Workshops are held on four Saturdays during the year. Each study group is required to help in the design of one workshop. The workshops enable participants to supplement the content of the course and to practise planning, implementing and evaluating an educational activity.

Learning journals are kept by each participant throughout the course in order to record and reflect on their field work, community education practice and significant learning. The journals need to be completed according to a number of general criteria and sighted by a member of staff.

Assessment
Assessment is either 'pass' or 'fail, and is related to attendance, participation in all components of the course, the completion of the learning journal, and the completion of a number of learning contracts.

Learning contracts
These comprise the major written work for the course. They are negotiated by each participant with a member of staff. The idea is to get away from the set assignment and to make the coursework you do directly relevant to your own professional interests and work. You are required to complete four learning contracts during the course negotiated with your study group supervisor and with the seminar leaders.

Attendance
Attendance is one evening a week from 5.00 – 9.00 p.m. (usually Wednesday) and four one-day workshops which are normally held on Saturdays during the semester. In addition you will need to put aside a significant amount of time to research, read and write material related to your study groups, learning contracts and learning journal. The course places some emphasis on self-direction in learning. Staff are there to offer support and advice but the process of designing and planning your own learning can be difficult at first and if you have not experienced this kind of learning program before you may need to be ready for an initial period of adjustment.

Course structure
The course is offered over one year of part-time study.

Graduate Certificate in Adult Education in Training

Course code: TA65

Course coordinator: Ms Kate Collier

Participants
This one-year part-time course is for practising trainers and adult educators who already have a degree but who have no formal qualifications in training or human resource development. This course focuses on practical skills that are embedded in current theory about learning and teaching. The course is also available in-house to organisations providing there are sufficient participants.

Articulation
The Graduate Certificate articulates with other courses offered by the Faculty in the following way:

- you may apply for and enrol in the Graduate Certificate and complete the course after one year;
- once you have completed the Graduate Certificate you may apply to enter the Master of Education in Adult Education. Subjects completed in the Graduate Certificate cannot be credited towards the Master of Education in Adult Education. If accepted you may exit either at the end of the first year with a Graduate Diploma in Adult Education (Training) or at the end
Course aims
The aims of the course have been formulated to meet the specific needs of those practitioners who are required to develop their generic training competencies in adult teaching and learning, program development, and course assessment and evaluation.

As part of this adult education course participants will be provided with opportunities to:

• apply adult learning theory and principles to training practices;
• demonstrate a basic set of presentation and training skills that are appropriate to a wide range of adult learners and learn to critique their own practices;
• expand competence as self-directed learners through the use of a learning journal, learning contracts and participation in self-directed learning groups;
• gain experience in designing, developing, implementing and evaluating training programs that are based on a competency-based model of training;
• critically evaluate existing training practices in the light of competency-based assessment models.

Assessment
Assessment is criterion-referenced. This means that students will be assessed on whether they meet certain criteria, and graded ‘pass’ or ‘fail’ accordingly. It includes learning contracts, group-based assessments of workshops, and various forms of tutorial group evaluation. Individual coursework is done primarily through negotiated learning contracts.

Attendance
Attendance will be one evening a week from 5.00 – 9.00 p.m. (usually Wednesday). A minimum of 85 per cent attendance is required for satisfactorily completing this course. Compulsory attendance at two weekend (Saturday) workshops per semester is also required.

Course structure
The course will be offered over one year of part-time study. As part of this course all participants will be required to arrange industry-based ‘supervised practical’ experience.

Graduate Certificate in Adult Numeracy Teaching

Course code: TA86
Course Coordinator: Ms Betty Johnston

Participants
This one-year part-time course is designed for students who have an undergraduate degree or equivalent, and a teaching qualification. It is primarily intended for those people who have experience in education or training in some area, particularly but not only in the language and literacy area, and are interested in developing their knowledge and skills in adult numeracy teaching.

Admission
Entry requirements are:

• Undergraduate degree or equivalent (essential)
• Teaching qualification (1 year) (essential)
• Relevant teaching experience (desirable)
• Concurrent relevant teaching experience (desirable)

Articulation
The course articulates with other courses in the Faculty in the following way:

• all graduates from the course can apply for entry into the Master of Arts in Language and Literacy. If accepted, applicants can apply for advanced standing.
• all participants in the course may apply for entry to the GradDip AdultBasicEd. If accepted, applicants can apply for a maximum of 24 credit points advanced standing.
Course aims
The course aims to extend the skills and knowledge of teachers relating to two main areas, namely:

- a theoretical foundation of numeracy including:
  i) knowledge and conceptual understanding of mathematics relevant to the learners;
  ii) an awareness of numeracy as a critical social tool;
  iii) an appreciation of the nature of mathematics and its uses in society;
- practical methodologies for numeracy teaching based on:
  i) understanding of theories of mathematics teaching and learning and their implications in practice;
  ii) familiarity with numeracy teaching and learning resources and strategies.

Assessment
Assessment in the course will be on a criterion-referenced pass/fail basis consistent with all other courses offered by the School. There will be scope in many of the assessments for individually negotiated learning contracts, both as a means of encouraging self-directed learning, and of meeting participants' individual needs.

Attendance
The course is delivered in a combination of weekly, block and distance modes. Under some conditions, students may be able to do almost all the course by distance mode.

Course structure
The course will require successful completion of four 6 credit point subjects:

- 010157 Teaching and Learning in Adult Numeracy
- 015290 Mathematics for Numeracy Teachers (new)
- 015253 Practicum 2
- 015291 Mathematics in Social Contexts (new)
- or
- 015119 Theories of Numeracy

The course is designed to be flexible in its delivery. One of the subjects is currently available in distance mode, and three others are being developed to be available by distance. The enrolment requirements of Teaching and Learning in Adult Numeracy (010157) can be satisfied by attendance at the BEd Ad Ed subject Numeracy Awareness (015089), with assessment tasks varied to be in keeping with the graduate status of the Certificate.

Graduate Certificate in Dance Education

Course code: TE60

Course coordinator: Ms Deborah Clarke

The Graduate Certificate in Dance Education is a one-year, part-time course which will be offered in an alternative mode. It is designed for teachers, graduate students and community dance artists who are involved in providing educational opportunities for school students to study interrelated components of dance. Students will undertake a common core of subjects with opportunities to pursue individual areas of interest within each subject. The course will be delivered in a mixed mode using lectures and workshops including intensive weekend and/or school vacation blocks.

The aim of the Graduate Certificate in Dance Education is to develop participants' understandings of the roles, responsibilities and requirements of an effective dance educator in the school setting, by providing opportunities to draw upon, develop and consolidate their knowledge, skills and experiences.

To be eligible for admission to the Graduate Certificate in Dance Education applicants will be (a) graduates in a movement-based discipline or have qualifications and/or professional experience deemed equivalent, and appropriate, by the Associate Dean; and (b) experienced in the dance/movement area.

Course structure
The course consists of four subjects, within which there will be scope for students to pursue areas of interest. The subjects will have a weighting of six credit points each (total 24 credit points).

- 027901 Dance Method 1: Performance and Teaching
- 027902 Dance Method 2: Composition and Teaching
- 027903 Historical Perspectives: Appreciation of Dance in the 20th Century
- 027904 Issues in Dance Education
Graduate Certificate in Diabetes Education and Management

Course code: KN92
Course coordinator: Ms Linda Soars (Faculty of Nursing)

Participants
This one-year part-time course is offered jointly by the Faculty of Nursing and the Faculty of Education in collaboration with the Australian Diabetes Education Association. Applicants should have a degree or equivalent diploma. Registered nurses with appropriate nursing certificates and three years' experience may be deemed to have the equivalent of graduate status for the purpose of entry to the course. As practitioners in the field it will be assumed that applicants will have basic knowledge of the practice of diabetes education and management. Postgraduate course fees apply.

Course aims
The course trains appropriately qualified students for work as health professionals in the area of diabetes education and management. As specialists in diabetes education the graduates will be able to perform as specialist clinicians, leaders and informed users of research.

Assessment
Assessment will be graded. Three specific forms of assessment will be used in each subject:
1. a negotiated workplace learning project (40 per cent);
2. a practicum-based assessment (30 per cent);
3. assessment of a set of learning tasks incorporated in the self-teaching materials provided for each subject (30 per cent).

Attendance
The course will be delivered in mixed mode. This means it will use a mixture of intensive workshops, individual learning materials, telephone counselling, learning partnerships, negotiated learning contracts, workplace research and supervised practice in diabetes education centres.

Course structure
The course is offered over one year part-time and requires the study of four subjects in order to achieve a total of 24 credit points.

Autumn semester
- 92844 Clinical Management of Diabetes 6cp
- 015343 Teaching and Learning in Diabetes Education 6cp

Spring semester
- 92845 Primary Health Care 6cp
- 015342 Programming for Diabetes Education 6cp

Graduate Certificate in Experiential Learning

Course code: TA68
Course coordinator: Ms Ruth Cohen

Participants
This one-year part-time course is for people currently engaged in the practice of experiential learning in formal or informal education, facilitation of learning, training, educational design or educational management. Applicants must have at least 50 hours' prior experience either as a student or through responsibility for implementation of experiential learning, and an undergraduate degree.

Course aims
The course aims to introduce students to the theories and practices of experiential learning and equip them to be more effective teachers, trainers, facilitators, curriculum designers and/or managers of training in a range of contexts. It is designed to help students become more effective in their practice of experiential teaching and learning by understanding the nature and theory of experiential learning. Students will develop:
- ways of thinking and acting as an experiential adult educator based on the knowledge, skills, attitudes and ethical underpinnings of experiential learning;
- an informed and critical approach to their own practice;
- competencies related to self-direction, peer support and group work which enable them to continue their professional development following the completion of this course.
Course structure
The course is offered over one year of part-time study.

Autumn semester
015374 Foundations of Experiential Learning 6cp
015376 Program Design, Implementation and Evaluation of Experiential Learning 1 6cp

Spring semester
015375 Experiential Learning Strategies 6cp
015379 Program Design, Implementation and Evaluation of Experiential Learning 2 6cp

Assessment
Assessment is either ‘pass’ or ‘fail’.

Attendance
Four weekend days per semester.

Fees
Postgraduate course fees apply.

Graduate Certificate in Flexible Learning
Course code: TA62
Course coordinator: Dr Viktor Jakupec

Participants
This course responds directly to the needs of practising teachers, trainers, instructors and academics. Against the background of rapid educational, training and structural changes in public and private enterprise in the last few years this course will enable teachers and trainers to learn how to design, implement and facilitate innovative learning effectively. It will provide those who are concerned with changes in curriculum, delivery modes and assessment strategies with the ability to use technology as a tool to facilitate learning in a variety of educational and training environments and organisations. It will provide those who are concerned with changes in curriculum, delivery modes and assessment strategies with the ability to use technology as a tool to facilitate learning in a variety of educational and training settings including the workplace. This course is designed for teachers and trainers who are looking for the opportunity to address how they will facilitate flexible learning.

Admission
Applicants will need an undergraduate degree or a three-year diploma from a recognised tertiary institution, or such other qualification acceptable by the Faculty as equivalent. There is a provision for special admission for applicants who, while not meeting the requirements for admission on the basis of educational qualifications, can demonstrate appropriate prior knowledge and capacity for postgraduate study.

Course aims
The course aims to enable appropriately qualified students to develop:
- a working knowledge and understanding of major factors and strategies required to plan, develop and implement flexible learning in a variety of educational and training environments and organisations;
- an enhanced capability to contribute to workplace and organisational changes through flexible delivery of courses;
- the ability to provide flexible learning resources in a variety of organisational, training and educational settings;
- professional qualifications necessary for provision of flexible learning which will enable them to continue their professional development following the completion of this course.

Assessment
Assessment is either ‘pass’ or ‘fail’. Two specific forms of assessment will be used in each subject. These are:
- Discussion and literature review paper(s) based on learning tasks incorporated in the flexible learning materials provided for each subject. Students will be given flexibility to choose from a number of options.
- A negotiated learning project using the learning contract method as developed already within the Faculty.

Attendance
- One block meeting totalling two days’ attendance either in Sydney or at another designated venue in order for students to familiarise themselves with the content, structure, assessment strategies, and communication technologies used in this course; and/or
- tele-tutorials to be held at designated times; and/or
- synchronous and asynchronous electronic conferencing providing students have access to appropriate computer technology.
Students will be required to attend workshops in the form of computer laboratory sessions for the electives Computer Mediated Communication and/or Principles of Interactive Multimedia.

Graduate Certificate in Language and Learning

Course code: TA67

Course coordinator: Ms Pauline Gibbons
This course will not be offered in 1999.

Participants

This one-year part-time course will offer training for teachers in school and post-school sectors who do not wish to become specialist language teachers, but who wish to develop their skills and understanding of the role of language in their own subject areas/fields of practice. At the same time the Graduate Certificate can offer advanced standing to the second year of the Graduate Diploma in TESOL and therefore provide an alternative route to this degree or to the Master of Arts in TESOL.

Course aims

The course aims to increase the skills and knowledge of non-specialist language teachers in the role of language and literacy within their own subject or field of practice.

Graduate Certificate in Management Development

Course code: TA69

Course coordinator: to be advised

This course aims to provide students with state-of-the-art applied theory and practice in the field of management development. While the course builds on the expertise and experience of students, it is also geared to the needs of professionals contemplating a move into the field of management education. Graduates will be equipped to operate as management education specialists and human resource development consultants within their organisations and professional fields of practice. The learning of students in this course may serve as a basis for further formal or self-directed study in the future.

A consistent theme of the course is the need to provide practitioners with the opportunity to broaden their knowledge and understanding of wider management development issues through exposure to a range of viewpoints inherent in a program taught across two faculties.
Course aims
Completing this program should equip students with greater ability to articulate, at senior management level:

- the educational, training and managerial issues that are fundamental to the enhancement of management development in their organisations; and
- the strategic implications of organisation policies in the area of management development.

Course structure
The Graduate Certificate in Management Development involves two semesters of part-time study. A flexible structure has been adopted to provide students with a range of options around which they can complete a course that best meets their personal and professional needs.

Students must complete the two core subjects, one from each faculty, and two electives, one from each faculty, totalling 24 credit points.

Graduate Certificate in Managing Change in Education

Course code: TE61

Course coordinator: Professor Christine E Deer

Rapid educational and structural changes occurring in education in the last few years have resulted in people at every level of our education systems having to learn how to manage innovations effectively. Innovations have occurred in teaching and learning, in curriculum and assessment, in the use of technologies and in workplace structures.

This course is designed for people who are looking for the opportunity to address how they will manage change and learn about the changes in the context of their professions.

Assessment
Assessment in each subject will be graded. Two specific forms of assessment will be used in each subject:

1. a negotiated workplace learning project;
2. assessment of a set of learning tasks incorporated in the self-teaching materials provided for each subject.

Attendance
Students will be required to: (a) attend two block meetings totalling six days’ attendance in Sydney in order to complete the workshop and practicum requirements for the two compulsory subjects in the course; (b) participate in small group conferencing in their workplace and one-to-one learning with tutors via teleconferencing and where possible electronic exchange of data.

They will also be required to participate in mixed mode delivery of the other two subjects chosen to complete the course.

(a) Applicants for admission should have an undergraduate degree or a three-year diploma at tertiary level in a relevant field, or such equivalent tertiary qualification acceptable to the Faculty.

(b) Provision will be made for special admission for applicants who, while not meeting the requirements for admission outlined in (a) above, can demonstrate appropriate prior knowledge and the capacity for postgraduate study.

Course structure
The course will consist of four subjects. All students must take two core subjects in their first semester of enrolment: 023901 Managing Change in Education, and 023902 Workplace Reform and Changing Structures in Education.

In addition they must undertake two action-research subjects (normally two in their second semester of enrolment). Their choice of action-research subjects will be directly tied to their current and emerging workplace needs. The subjects, for the period 1999-2000, from which they will be able to choose, will include either:

(a) the following specially designed subjects:

023903 Managing Innovations: Curriculum Change 6cp
023904 Managing Innovations: New Technologies in Education 6cp
023905 Managing Innovations: New Approaches to Teaching and Learning 6cp
023906 Managing Innovations: Teaching and Learning for Informed Citizenship 6cp 023907 Managing Innovations: Changes in Assessment and Reporting 6cp

or

(b) following negotiation with the course coordinator, a student may choose a subject from another course in the Faculty of Education.

Subsequently new self-instructional packages will be developed and others deleted following the identification of current change ‘hot spots’ in education.

The course will be delivered for most subjects in mixed mode. That is, it will use a mixture of intensive workshops, a practicum program, individual learning materials, telephone counselling, learning partnerships and negotiated learning contracts involving workplace research.

Subjects will only be run, however, if there are sufficient numbers of students wishing to enrol.

Graduate Certificate in Public Education

Course code: TA64

Course coordinator: Mr John McIntyre

Participants
This one-year part-time course is for graduates in a range of disciplines who are either working in public education or related employment, including public relations, communications management or community education in government or non-government organisations. It is also suitable for graduates working in a paid or voluntary capacity in traditional public education agencies such as museums, libraries or broadcasting. It is preferred that applicants be working either in a paid or voluntary capacity in an area where they can design and implement public education activities.

Aims

- To develop the theoretical understanding and professional practice of graduates working in public education.
- To develop perspectives on public education drawn from policy analysis, public relations and communication management theory, adult learning and community education.
- To increase knowledge of the range and extent of public education as it is evident in a range of campaigns and activities in contemporary Australian society.
- To encourage the critical analysis of public education activities through appropriate case studies.
- To develop participants’ strategies for conducting public education work in their professional roles.

The developing nature of the field calls for appropriate professional development for practitioners. There is a need and an opportunity to engage critically with public education practice and influence its development through this course initiative.
Structure
The subject Perspectives on Public Education overviews the field and provides a range of theoretical perspectives on public education. The subject Communication Strategies for Public Policy develops expertise in designing and evaluating public communications to target audiences. The subject Adult Learning and Community Action examines community-based public education and principles of community adult education and informal learning. The subject Case Studies in Public Education comprehensively examines the nature and extent of public education and promotes critical analysis of public education programs and practices.

Autumn semester
011001 Perspectives on Public Education 6cp
011002 Communication Strategies for Public Policy 6cp

Spring semester

011004 Case Studies in Public Education 6cp

Graduate Certificate in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL)

Course code: TA54

Academic coordinators:
Adults strand: to be advised
Schools strand: Dr Jenny Hammond

Participants
This course is designed for students who have an undergraduate qualification or equivalent, a recognised tertiary teaching qualification, and who are either already working in or wish to work in the TESOL field.

Admission
Entry requirements are:
• Undergraduate degree or equivalent (essential)
• Teaching qualification (essential)
• Relevant teaching experience (desirable)
• Concurrent relevant teaching experience (desirable)

Course aims
• To enable students to achieve or consolidate specialist, professional competence as practitioners in teaching and programming for spoken and written language development.
• To provide students with the relevant theoretical underpinning to this professional competence and critical reflection on it.
• To develop students' understanding of the linguistic demands of teaching and learning, and of issues in language development.

Assessment
Assessment is criterion-referenced. This means that students will be assessed on whether they meet certain criteria, and graded 'pass' or 'fail' accordingly.

Attendance
There are two strands in the Graduate Certificate in TESOL: the adults strand and the schools strand. The adults strand is for students working in or wishing to work in the adult sector, and the schools strand is for students working in or wishing to work in the school sector.

Attendance for the adults strand is on Thursday 2.00 - 6.30 p.m. and attendance for the schools strand is on Thursday 4.30 - 9.00 p.m. This course may be offered in block mode where attendance is required three times per semester for three days each time.

Course structure
The Graduate Certificate in TESOL would normally be completed in one year of part-time study. Students must complete subjects totalling 24 credit points to be eligible for the award of Graduate Certificate in TESOL.

Subject descriptions

The subject descriptions below indicate the subject number and name, and the number of credit points for the subject (e.g., 3cp). For some subjects, there may also be practical components off-campus, and prerequisites or corequisites. Also shown are the method of assessment, the name of the subject coordinator (if known), and a brief outline of the content.

Prerequisites are subjects which must be completed before taking the subject referred to. Corequisites can be completed before or taken concurrently with the subject referred to.

Subjects offered by Adult Education are listed first, followed by Teacher Education and then those offered by other faculties.

Please note that not all elective subjects are offered every year.

UNDERGRADUATE SUBJECTS

012127
Psychology and Sociology of Learning I
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject provides the knowledge and skills to help teachers and trainers understand the major behavioural science approaches to issues in teaching and learning. It also covers the nature and principles of the learning process and the main social and cognitive variables affecting the teaching/learning process.

012128
Psychology and Sociology of Learning II
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 012127 Psychology and Sociology of Learning I
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject provides the knowledge and skills to help teachers and trainers understand the process of skills acquisition; the influence of motivation on learning; and a range of learner characteristics which affect learning.

012129
Technology and Media I
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
5cp; 4hpw
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject provides students with the initial computing and media competencies used in teaching, learning and training. These competencies would normally be developed in the computer and media rooms of the University. Students may use computers and equipment in other locations.

012130
Technology and Media II
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 012129 Technology and Media I
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject develops and integrates the students' computing and media competencies. These competencies would normally be developed in the computer and media rooms of the University. Students may use computers and equipment in other locations.

012135
The Workplace Context of Vocational Education I
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject aims to provide the knowledge and skills which will enhance the students' understanding of the Australian education system of which vocational education is a part. It also covers the workplace context of vocational education and key social, economic, political and technological developments which have had a major impact upon vocational education and the workplace.

The prime aim of this subject is to enable students to gain an understanding of the processes of interaction between vocational education and the workplace and other sectors of the education system.
012136
The Workplace Context of Vocational Education 2
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 012135 The Workplace Context of Vocational Education 1
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject aims to provide the knowledge and skills which will enhance the understanding of the Australian education system of which vocational education is a part. It also covers the workplace context of vocational education and key social, economic, political and technological developments which have had a major impact upon vocational education and the workplace.

The prime aim of this subject is to enable students to gain an understanding of the processes of interaction between vocational education and the workplace and other sectors of the education system.

Interpersonal Skills: Working with People
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 012139 Language and Interpersonal Skills
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject extends and develops the skills necessary for understanding and dealing with the various types of interpersonal problems in both the professional and personal spheres. Specific emphasis will be upon managing change. The elective will focus on areas relating to conflict management, negotiation, counselling and stress management.

012138
Interpersonal Skills: Working in an Organisation
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 012139 Language and Interpersonal Skills
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
In this elective, key interpersonal skills necessary for vocational educators to participate as pro-active and innovative members of an organisation will be developed and extended. The elective is designed to focus on developing strategies for the effective and efficient management of work-related problems and situations typically occurring in organisational environments.

012139
Language and Interpersonal Skills
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject provides a core for the professional development of vocational educators. It develops and extends the language and literacy and interpersonal skills necessary for vocational educators to become effective practitioners.

012140
Developing Vocational Education Programs
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject provides participants with the knowledge and skills to undertake the development of vocational education programs, in the context of contemporary developments in the Australian vocational education and training environment. Participants will focus on three areas of practice: needs analysis, program design, and evaluation.

012141
Learner Assessment in Vocational Education
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject develops practitioners who are competent in the assessment of learners and in measuring the achievement of educational objectives. It has been developed as a response to current developments in vocational education and training in Australia, especially the increasing responsibility for teachers and industry to assess achievement, and certify competency.

012142
Designing and Marketing Open Learning
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; corequisite: 012149 Technology for Open Learning (recommended, but not compulsory)
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject aims to develop participants' ability and understanding of designing, developing and managing open learning modules.
012143
Marketing Vocational Education Programs
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 012158 Principles and Practice of Vocational Teaching 1; corequisites: 012125/012126 Principles and Practice of Vocational Teaching 3 or 4; 012160 Principles and Practice of Vocational Teaching 2
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject provides the knowledge and skills to help vocational educators plan and develop basic strategies necessary for effectively marketing courses to potential clients.

012144
Adolescent and Adult Development
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 012127/012128
Psychology and Sociology of Learning 1 and 2
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject aims to provide an understanding of adolescent and adult development to assist those teaching students of different ages and stages of development. This understanding will allow the selection of teaching strategies, management styles and the design of curriculum experiences appropriate for these groups. It is also intended that the course provide insights to assist vocational educators to better understand themselves and their own development.

012145
Learning Styles, Cognitive Processing and Adaptive Teaching
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 012127/012128
Psychology and Sociology of Learning 1 and 2
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject aims to develop vocational teachers’ understanding of individual differences among learners and appropriate adaptive teaching measures that may be implemented for assessed deficits and needs.

012146
Introduction to Research Methods in Teaching and Learning
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 012127/012128
Psychology and Sociology of Learning 1 and 2
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject develops inquiring practitioners who are competent in the analysis and solution of practical problems relating to educational issues. It has been developed as a response to current developments in vocational education and training in Australia, where problem solving and critical thinking are perceived as key competencies for educators and technical instructors.

012147
Counselling and Advising Students
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 012127/012128
Psychology and Sociology of Learning 1 and 2
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject provides advanced knowledge and skills to assist vocational educators in understanding and coping with a range of student problems which affect learning. The range of students undertaking vocational education has increased and so has the range of problems likely to be encountered in the learning environment. Consequently there is a need for educators to be prepared to respond to the challenges to be faced if students are to achieve their full potential.

012148
Computer-based Learning Techniques
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 012129/012130
Technology and Media 1 and 2
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject introduces students to the principles, practices and techniques of computer-based learning, and illustrates the way in which computers can be used to provide alternative delivery modes of learning. The emphasis is on learning through the experience of developing a prototype computer-based learning package.

012149
Technology for Open Learning
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 012129/012130
Technology and Media 1 and 2; corequisite: 012142 Designing and Marketing Open Learning (recommended but not compulsory)
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject aims to explore the range and feasibility of delivery modes based on technology, suitable for open and distance learning.
Computer-managed Learning
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 012129, 012130
Technology and Media 1 and 2
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject develops the competencies required to design and develop a computer-managed learning system suitable for adult learners and competency-based training. These competencies would normally be developed in the computer and media rooms of the University. Students may work in other locations.

Teaching Others to Use Technology
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 012129
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject involves the analysis and application of the special techniques required by TAFE teachers and trainers to teach others to use technology. These competencies would normally be developed in the computer and media rooms of the University. Students may work in other locations.

Writing for Specific Purposes
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 012139
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject provides further insights into how written language works. It will focus on specific kinds of written language relevant to teaching/learning contexts and to participants' professional lives. Participants will develop their own writing skills as well as strategies to enable their students to write more successfully. The elective builds on basic teaching and communication skills.

Teaching in the Multicultural Classroom
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 012139
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject extends and develops the personal skills necessary for understanding and teaching in contexts where there are students from a range of backgrounds and cultures. The elective will focus on teaching and learning strategies which are appropriate and necessary in a multicultural society.

Competency-based Training in Vocational Education
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 012140
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject aims to enable participants to develop further their knowledge and skills in the area of competency-based training. It is offered as a response to the emphasis being placed on competency-based training in vocational education. An understanding of changes in conceptions of competence and methods used to assess competence is essential if competency-based training programs are to deliver workplace competence.

Program Development Workplace Project
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 012140
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject aims to enable participants to develop their knowledge and skills in the areas of needs analysis, design and evaluation of vocational education programs in the workplace context.

The Sociological Context of Vocational Education
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 012135
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject aims to develop a critical awareness of contemporary Australian society with the purpose of enhancing an understanding of the social and political context of vocational education. This subject will also provide an introduction to analysing sociological research.
012158
Principles and Practice of Vocational Teaching I
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
9cp; 4hpw
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes

The aim of this subject is to develop a foundation of basic teaching skills, supported by current theories of teaching, planning and assessment in vocational education. It focuses on establishing knowledge, skills and attitudes that are basic to the development of effective vocational educators within a framework of the teacher as a problem solver/decision maker. The practical problems encountered in vocational teaching will be the focus of integrating theory and practice.

012159
Field Practice I
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
24cp; 4hpw
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes

This subject aims to provide the knowledge, skills and professional attitudes essential for the personal and professional growth of a vocational teacher/trainer in contemporary Australian society. Using a number of appropriate development activities, this subject aims to develop awareness of the teacher/trainer's own needs, appreciation of how others learn, and the recognition of their role in facilitating the learning of others in specific vocational contexts.

012160
Principles and Practice of Vocational Teaching 2
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
8cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes

The aim of this subject is to enhance the vocational teacher's professionalism and flexibility by:

- increasing competence and confidence in using a greater range of contemporary teaching/learning strategies across different contexts;
- enabling them to ensure that students who enter vocational education under equity and access provisions have their learning needs met when the individual differences within a learning group are considered as part of the planning process;
- developing competence in the delivery and management of vocational education programs with particular reference to competency-based and self-paced learning.

Field Practice 2
BTeach, Adult Vocational Education
12cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes

This subject aims to extend the knowledge, skills and professional attitudes essential for the personal and professional growth of a vocational teacher/trainer in contemporary Australian society by:

- developing competence in the facilitation and assessment of student-centred learning strategies appropriate to vocational education contexts;
- demonstrating competence in identifying and critically evaluating professional issues in their vocational areas.

As part of this, students will be required to provide evidence, through video tapes, reports and evaluation, that they have successfully applied student-centred learning concepts and strategies in realistic vocational education settings. Students will also negotiate a major project which will focus on increasing their own professionalism as vocational educators.

014100 Educational Media
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell

This course examines the usage of audiovisual media in the classroom and in other learning contexts, and the roles that audiovisual media play as tools for effective communication and learning. Production methods for many types of audiovisual resources will be explored, and skills will be introduced in the areas of computer-based presentation and basic video production.

015001
Language, Culture and Communication I
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: RWickert

This subject introduces participants to a social theory of language. This theory highlights the relationship between culture, context and language. An understanding of this approach to language provides participants with an important tool for understanding the language of learning and also for understanding their own use of English in a range of contexts. In addition this subject will introduce multiculturalism in terms of policy and what it means to take on a cultural perspective in adult education and training. The subject will end with a consideration of the implications of these understandings for curriculum and assessment that need to be integrated in the fields of practice subjects.

015002
Adult Teaching and Learning
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: M Newman
This subject introduces participants to the major schools of teaching and learning theory that inform the practice of adult education in its major forms in Australia. It examines a number of key practitioners and theorists who have contributed to, or are identified with, the various schools.

015003
Portfolio Development
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
This subject deals with current developments in the theory and practice of recognition of prior learning in industry and formal education. It will involve participants in identifying and documenting their prior learning and developing a portfolio of this learning. Some participants may wish to use the documented outcomes of this subject to support their claims for recognition of prior learning.

015004
Language, Culture and Communication 2
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp; prerequisite: 015001 Language, Culture and Communication 1 (or equivalent) subject coordinator: S Sounders
This subject develops knowledge and skills in interpersonal communication for adult educators who work effectively in face-to-face situations as teachers of adults, coordinators of teachers or managers of adult education organisations. Participants extend their understanding of the relationship between culture, context and language by exploring contemporary perspectives on the nature of human communication and by applying selected communication strategies to enhance teaching and learning.

015005
Psychological Perspectives on Adult Learning
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
This subject aims to provide participants with an understanding of the major psychological approaches to issues in adult learning and teaching. These include processes for developing cognitive skills, variables affecting acquisition, retention and transfer and a range of learner characteristics that affect learning. Participants will be encouraged to apply this understanding to their teaching practices.

015006
Program Development and Needs Analysis
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: Z Wagner
This subject aims to provide participants with the knowledge and skills to develop and implement adult education and training programs in the context of the contemporary education and training environment. It enables students to critically evaluate these processes within the context of teaching and learning.

015007
Adult Learning in Social Context
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: S Saunders
This core subject aims to assist the educator of adults to understand how adult learning is shaped by social context, and to understand and respond appropriately to social influences on their professional practice. Context is examined at different levels of the group, the organisation, community and society, introducing the participant to a range of social theories and perspectives.
015009
Analysing Current Issues in Australian Education
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: K Nicoll
This subject examines key issues which impact on Australian educational provision. It is designed to: provide an overview of contemporary issues in education and their relation to developments in the wider Australian society; consider how these are reflected in educational policy and practice across the sectors throughout the life span; and provide frameworks for the critical analysis of these issues and policies to give opportunities for participation in scholarship and debate within the educational community.

015011
Research and Inquiry
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: B Pithers
The subject will offer a range of perspectives on research from the contexts of adult and vocational education. It will deal with a range of different types of research (formal, policy-related and informal) and illustrate different research paradigms and perspectives. It will also form one pathway to a research-based Honours year. The subject will extend the participant’s ability to evaluate current research and to reflect critically upon their practice by developing their understanding of research and inquiry processes.

015012
International Perspectives on Education
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
There are a range of educational issues that are the common subject of research and policy debate in countries across the world. Such issues are shaped by social, political, historical and economic forces. Participants will study these issues and the forces which shape them. Participants will be encouraged to undertake regional case studies in the Asia-Pacific region.

015017
Community Practicum
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: M Newman
This subject helps students survey and examine the range of practice in adult and community education. This subject will help the students identify and study the range of ways practitioners teach and learn and plan programs in community settings.

015018 Workplace Practicum
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: T Holland
This subject draws on theoretical principles and practical skills considered in other subjects to further develop practical HRD skills. A major component of this subject is the requirement for students to successfully complete an observed practicum conducted in their workplace working with a group of trainees/staff members. Students will develop skills in reflecting on and critically analysing aspects of their own practice and will enhance their own skills in and understandings of the nature of effective HRD practice.

015019
The Language Literacy and Numeracy Learner
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: J Widin
This subject focuses on the factors which influence individual adult learners of language and numeracy. These factors are studied in four areas: social, cultural, psychological and educational. Participants will explore influences on their own learning and will research and describe the experience of an individual learner in the field of language literacy and numeracy. In exploring their own learning, participants will consider the literacy demands of university study and develop skills in reading and writing for academic purposes.
015020

Field of Practice Specialist Knowledge I (VOC ED)

BEd (Adult Ed)

6cp

subject coordinator: B Gowing

Participants will explore ways in which their own background, prior knowledge, resources and work requirements shape their experience as an adult learner and influence their approach to the tasks they encounter at work. The learning activities in this subject support the transition from a focus on self as a competent practitioner to a focus on self as a learner, in order to provide a sound educational base for facilitating the learning of others.

015021

Adult Educational Practices I

BEd (Adult Ed)

6cp

subject coordinator: M Newman

This subject will draw on the theoretical principles explored in core subjects to develop the practical teaching and facilitation skills of participants in their roles as adult educators for their particular field of practice. The relationship of teaching to learning will be explored in one-to-one and group learning sessions.

015022

Human Resource Development Practices

BEd (Adult Ed)

6cp

subject coordinator: T Holland

This subject will extend students' understanding of the theoretical principles which inform human resource development practice. It will allow participants to apply their understandings and develop their practical training, development and facilitation skills. The relationship of teaching to learning will be explored in the context of participants' concurrent role in the workplace and as teachers and learners.

015023/24

Teaching and Learning in Practice (LLN, VOC ED)

BEd (Adult Ed)

6cp each

subject coordinators: J Widin/B Gowing

This subject will draw on the theoretical principles explored in core subjects to develop the practical teaching and facilitation skills of participants in their roles as adult educators for their particular field of practice. The relationship of teaching to learning will be explored in the context of participants’ concurrent roles in the workplace and as teachers and learners. This relationship will be explored in one-to-one and group learning sessions.

015031

Language Literacy and Numeracy Practicum I

BEd (Adult Ed)

6cp

subject coordinator: J Widin

This subject aims to develop initial practical teaching skills with a focus on classroom management, lesson planning and evaluation. The development of these skills is assisted by observation and analysis of lessons given by experienced teachers in the field of language literacy and numeracy, by self-evaluation and peer evaluation, by discussion with cooperating teachers before and after teaching sessions and by the keeping of a reflective journal.

015032

Field of Practice Specialist Knowledge 2 (VOC ED)

BEd (Adult Ed)

6cp

subject coordinator: B Gowing

This subject enables the student to explore the field of practice from the perspective of practitioner and educator in the field. Students will examine current developments in the nature and scope of their specialization and how this relates to their role as adult educators and reflective practitioners. Students will review the diversity of roles within their field of practice, the range of practices and the diversity of clients.

015033

Program Planning in Community Settings

BEd (Adult Ed)

6cp

subject coordinator: M Newman

This subject introduces students working in community settings to the practice of planning strategies and programs to help people learn. Students will study various methods for identifying education needs in community settings and a wide range of possible teaching and learning strategies. Emphasis will be placed on helping students make informed decisions about choosing an appropriate combination of needs-analysis techniques and teaching and learning strategies. This subject has a focus on practice and is a stepping stone to the more theoretical core subject Program Development.

015034

Program Delivery and Evaluation
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: T Holland

This subject provides the opportunity for students to examine and apply models of program delivery to their own workplace. Through workplace activities and negotiated learning tasks, students will develop expertise in implementing, managing and evaluating training programs.

015043

Language Literacy and Numeracy Practicum 2
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: J Widin

This subject provides students with an opportunity to extend the expertise developed in Practicum 1. It focuses on practical teaching skills including classroom management, and the development and evaluation of teaching and learning activities. Students will observe and analyse lessons given by experienced teachers in their field. They will also undertake supervised classroom teaching and complete a reflective practicum journal.

015044

Field of Practice Specialist Knowledge 3 (LLN, VOC ED)
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: B Gowing

This subject enables students to develop greater understanding of the competencies of a practitioner and adult educator by supporting them in critically examining their field of practice in a range of practical ways. It will identify the professional forces which provide support for the field, examine career options, explore fields of practice which differ from their own specialism, and provide further opportunities for applying methods of program delivery and assessment of learning in specific learning contexts.

015046

Influences on the Contemporary Workplace
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: T Holland

This subject investigates some current issues impacting on Australian organisations and on human resource development practice. Students will examine the implications of such trends for their own practice within organisations and identify competencies required of experienced HRD practitioners to meet the challenges of the workplace context. Students will also have the opportunity to participate in a workplace-based project addressing an issue currently confronting their organisation.

015047

Workplace Context (LLN)
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: J Widin

This subject expands on some of the current issues in education and training and locates them in the workplaces of participants. Participants will examine the impact of social, industrial and political influences and the impact of current government policies on their own workplaces, and analyse the position of their own workplace in relation to the Training Reform Agenda.

015052

The Professional Practitioner (VOC ED)
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: B Gowing

This subject explores the nature of professional practice for the adult educator in a variety of contexts. Participants will explore the ethical dimensions of professional practice, the roles and responsibilities of the professional practitioner and the nature of professional development.
015054
Organisational Learning: An Experiential Approach
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: E Leigh
This subject is the ‘capstone’ subject for the HRD strand of the Bachelor of Education. As such it provides an interactive learning environment, using a structured simulation to represent a hypothetical organisational setting within which students work together to develop an understanding of the forces at work within groups and organisations. It provides resources for learning about professional development and organisational learning interventions to support and sustain continuous improvement and lifelong learning.

015056
Organisational Learning: An Experiential Approach (VOC ED)
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: E Leigh
This subject focuses on the practitioner in the context of working with (or for) large or small organisations. Such organisations may have a variety of purposes, but the usual role for the participant as practitioner is that of facilitator and provider of teaching and learning experiences. This subject addresses the knowledge, skills and attributes which a competent practitioner needs to work effectively in such contexts.

015060
Field of Practice Specialist Knowledge 4 (VOC ED)
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: B Gowing
This subject extends the participant’s exploration of the field of practice from their perspective as a competent practitioner who is also an educator of others in the field. The main focus is on developing greater awareness of the role of continuing professional education to specialisms, and on helping the participant develop their own skills as contributor to this aspect of their specialism.

015066
Leading and Facilitating Change
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: T Holland
This subject is designed to provide the knowledge, skills and attributes necessary for adult educators to monitor and facilitate changes in their own organisations. There will be a focus on how theories, models and current research about change management impact on the participants’ field of practice.

015069
Designing and Delivering Open Learning
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
This subject is designed to extend the adult educator’s competence in the design and delivery of adult education. It is focused specifically on developing understanding and skills in designing and delivering open learning.

015070
Adolescent and Adult Development
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
An understanding of adolescent and adult development, especially of intellectual, cognitive and personality development, will help adult educators understand their own learning and the learning of others. Issues in adolescent and adult development will be taken into consideration with regard to the design, development and presentation of courses to people of differing ages. Furthermore, an understanding of issues raised can provide more objective evidence for participants who wish to reflect not only on their own development but also on that of their clients.

015071
Women and Education
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: S Knights
This subject offers an opportunity to study the roles of women as learners, teachers and managers in adult education in the community and workplace. Drawing on a range of literature from adult education and women's studies, participants will explore the implications of feminist approaches to learning. The subject also covers issues relating to women's participation in adult education in Australia and internationally, and women's contribution to theory, policy and research in adult education.

015072
Developing Interpersonal Communication
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp; prerequisites: 015001 Language, Culture and Communication 1 (or equivalent); 015004 Language, Culture and Communication 2 (or equivalent)
subject coordinator: S Saunders

In this subject the focus will be on extending adult educators' understanding of the interpersonal dimensions of the communication process and assisting them to develop the interpersonal skills of others. Both oral and written dimensions will be analysed, including development of public speaking, self-presentation and helping skills. This subject forms part of a major sequence of study in communication development studies, providing specialist knowledge for adult educators wishing to teach/train in the area of communication studies.

015073
Developing Group Communication
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp; prerequisites: 015001 Language, Culture and Communication 1 (or equivalent); 015004 Language, Culture and Communication 2 (or equivalent)
subject coordinator: S Saunders

In this subject the educational process will be examined from a communication perspective to assist adult educators to facilitate the learning and performance of groups and teams. In particular, adult educators will investigate a variety of group process techniques to enhance quality and productivity, increase member satisfaction and motivation, improve performance as a group member, achieve and maintain cohesiveness and interpret communication interactions within the group. This subject forms part of a major sequence of study in communication development studies, providing specialist knowledge for adult educators wishing to teach/train in the area of communication studies.

015074
Developing Systems Communication
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp; prerequisites: 015001 Language, Culture and Communication 1 (or equivalent); 015004 Language, Culture and Communication 2 (or equivalent)
subject coordinator: S Saunders

In this subject the focus will be on exploring the influence of a range of dynamic features of human systems on communication. In particular, theoretical approaches in communication relating to the functioning of education and training in organisational contexts will be investigated. This will assist adult educators to develop, apply and evaluate strategic interventions to facilitate their own and others' learning in systems such as community and/or workplace settings. The subject forms part of a major sequence of study in communication development studies, providing specialist knowledge for adult educators wishing to teach/train in the area of communication studies.

015075
Independent Study Project in Communication
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp; prerequisites: 015001 Language, Culture and Communication 1 (or equivalent); 015004 Language, Culture and Communication 2 (or equivalent) and at least one of the following subjects: 015072 Developing Interpersonal Communication (or equivalent); 015073 Developing Group Communication (or equivalent); or 015074 Developing Systems Communication (or equivalent)
subject coordinator: S Saunders

In this subject participants will design and negotiate their own study project in consultation with a member of academic staff. Possible areas of study are: interpersonal communication; group communication; systems/organisational communication; or another approved area which extends understanding of adult education and the learning process from a communication perspective. The subject forms part of a major sequence of study in communication development studies, providing specialist knowledge for adult educators wishing to teach/train in the area of communication studies.

Organising Community Adult Education
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
This subject is designed to develop participants' knowledge and understanding of community adult education organisations. The principles and practices which underpin the distinguishing characteristics of these organisations will be critically examined.

015085
Structures and Processes in Community Education
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
This subject will encourage participants to evaluate and apply management skills, structures and processes which are appropriate to different models of community education organisations.

015086
Introduction to Language
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: J Widin
In order to be an effective language and literacy teacher, it is important to develop an understanding of the nature of language and language variation. This subject aims to develop such an understanding by introducing participants to the study of language. It contrasts language theories and explores their practical implications. It focuses, in particular, on a functional model of language in order to study texts that are relevant to participants' work contexts.

015087
Social Perspectives on Language, Literacy and Numeracy
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: J Widin
This subject aims to provide an introduction to key concepts in social approaches to language, literacy and numeracy. It provides participants with the opportunity to relate the theoretical material to their own language, literacy and numeracy practices and explore the implications for teaching.

015088
Teaching Language and Literacy
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: J Widin
This subject will build on concepts introduced in the prerequisite subjects, 015086 Introduction to Language, 015087 Social Perspectives on Language, Literacy and Numeracy, as well as the core subject 015001 Language, Culture and Communication! and the field-of-practice subject Reading and Writing for Specific Purposes. It will introduce participants to the range of written and spoken text types relevant to the needs of their participants. The subject will focus on the social purposes of different text types, how text types differ in generic structure, and how text types have different linguistic features relevant to their social purposes and their context of situation. Participants will be introduced to relevant methodologies for the teaching of language and literacy, which draw on an understanding of language, text and context.

015089
Numeracy Awareness
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: J Widin
This subject aims to provide participants with an introduction to issues about the nature of numeracy, how people generate and use mathematics in society, and how they most constructively learn it.

015090
Programming and Assessment in Language, Literacy and Numeracy
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: J Widin
This subject aims to provide participants with the knowledge and skills to develop and implement language, literacy and numeracy programs in adult education contexts. It will locate language, literacy and numeracy assessment and program development practices within the broader context of approaches to curriculum introduced in the core subject 015006 Program Development and Needs Analysis. Participants will examine and evaluate assessment methods and procedures to use in developing coherent programs.
015091
Promoting Workplace Learning
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
Attending to, and providing adequate resources for, workplace learning are acknowledged as vital components of organisational survival, change and growth. Various factors often combine to generate resistance to provision of on-time, effective training and learning programs which could support organisational goals. This subject addresses the needs of adult educators who are interested in or are required to develop, promote and market learning programs within or for their organisation.

015092
Industry-focused HRD Strategies
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
Current developments in workplace learning are focusing attention on the ways in which specific industries and enterprises are providing for skill and knowledge development. This subject provides an in-depth analysis of national trends and future possibilities through reference to industry-specific case studies and the results of relevant research projects.

015093
Ethics, Workplaces and the HRD Function
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
People with responsibility for workplace education are likely to encounter a range of sensitive issues related to questions of ethics and morality. Their role may involve educating adults about the management of values conflicts, and the nature of the boundaries between public and private domains of ownership of knowledge, intellectual capital, copyright and confidentiality. This subject will encourage participants to explore their own values and beliefs while developing an understanding of current legal and ethical practices in Australian business.

015094
International Trends in Workplace Education
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
This subject provides a comparative examination of workplace education and training programs across national boundaries. It pays particular attention to relationships among such factors as employment policies, school and post-school education programs and provision of workplace-based training activities. Government initiatives and the policies and practices of multinational entities will also be examined.

015095
Applying Experiential Learning in the Workplace
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
Adults gain experience from many sources. The impact of such experience cannot readily be accessed through conventional teaching and learning strategies. This subject provides an introduction to ways in which prior experiences can be utilised to assist adults to learn. The subject explores methods for helping adults extend and adapt knowledge and behaviours to suit current work and life settings.

015096
Simulations and Games: Theory and Design
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
There are thousands of structured activities called either simulations or games. Each one has been developed to meet particular needs and draws on a range of theoretical frameworks to shape its final form. This subject introduces a number of current theoretical frameworks and assists participants to develop skills in the selection, design and construction of activities suitable to their particular needs.
HRD Strategies for Individual Development
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
Mentoring, coaching, job rotation, workplace projects and the use of learning plans, learning contracts and reflective journals are all ways in which organisations can provide support for individual learners. Each approach has resource implications. This subject identifies and explores the benefits and limitations of these and related strategies.

Developing the Learning Organisation
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
Do organisations learn? Yes, and not just as separate individuals within them, but as entities whose membership changes, but which themselves retain the collective wisdom of past experience. This subject reviews current writing and research on the question and assists participants to explore the implications for their own organisation.

Multi-literacies in the Workplace
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
New forms of work, the changing nature of organisational structures and expectations about productivity will require adult educators to possess quite a different range of literacy and communication technology skills and knowledge. This subject is designed to develop an understanding of a range of pragmatic and critical skills required to comprehend, analyse, develop and respond to the complex, multi-layered forms of information now being encountered in graphic, visual, verbal, written and electronic forms.

Foundations of Educational Multimedia 1
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
This subject will introduce the broad field of educational multimedia. Topics will focus on the history of the field (from overhead projector to Internet), basic theory and models (behaviourism, cognitivism, instructional design), tools for development (authoring tools, application packages), elements of educational multimedia and essential skills for its development. This subject will introduce approaches to using educational multimedia from the teacher's perspective, examining the options for curriculum, instructional development and presentation and emphasising the opportunities provided by multimedia which can enhance the teaching and learning process.

Foundations of Educational Multimedia 2
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp; prerequisite: 015101 Foundations of Educational Multimedia 1
subject coordinator: P Russell
To extend the background of the field of technology within education and training, this subject will focus on the theories of learning and their link to the development of multimedia applications. Particular emphasis will be placed on differentiating behaviourism, cognitive styles and constructivism in the context of adult learning and the use of educational multimedia.

Foundations of Educational Multimedia 3
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp; prerequisites: 015101 Foundations of Educational Multimedia 1; 015102 Foundations of Educational Multimedia 2
subject coordinator: P Russell
This subject will introduce participants to the basic elements of multimedia with specific reference to hardware, software and design. Participants will be introduced to the hardware (platforms, CD-ROM, networks, audio) software (authoring, graphics, modelling), communications (distance education, the Internet) and design (layout, screen design, interface metaphor, navigation).
015104
Educational Multimedia Design I
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
This subject will detail the major design issues associated with educational multimedia applications. This will include topics on instructional design, rapid prototyping, layered design, graphics design, interface design, navigation and user control. Consideration will also be made of the specific processes involved in designing educational multimedia applications, including audience analysis, outcomes and assessment, content analysis, interactive options, evaluation and implementation.

015105
Educational Multimedia Design 2
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
prerequisite: 015103 Educational Multimedia Design I
This subject will address issues in technology design, including development and delivery configurations, cross-platform implications, colour and resolution, CD-ROM production, Internet design, sound engineering, video capture and performance. Participants will work with the integration of multimedia elements (graphics, audio, video, animation) into sample applications, including communications systems such as traditional distance education, open learning, satellite, interactive television, local networks and the Internet.

015106
Educational Multimedia Design 3
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp; prerequisites: 015104 Educational Multimedia Design I; 015106 Educational Multimedia Design 2
subject coordinator: P Russell
This subject will develop skills in assessing the educational effectiveness of multimedia applications, including evaluation during the development process and evaluation of the outcomes of its implementation. Attention will be given to appropriate techniques for successful evaluation.

015110
Aboriginal Cultures and Philosophies
BEd (Adult Ed)
8cp
subject coordinator: J Newman
This subject will introduce participants to Aboriginal culture and social organisation as expressions of Aboriginal cosmology. Contemporary Aboriginal culture will be presented as an evolving response to colonialism and as an assertion of cultural empowerment.

015111
Issues in Aboriginal Education
BEd (Adult Ed)
8cp; prerequisite: 015100 Aboriginal Cultures and Philosophies
subject coordinator: J Newman
This subject provides opportunities for participants to develop a critical understanding of a range of issues concerning Aboriginal education. It explores the historical background and contemporary factors affecting Aboriginal education.

015112
Aboriginal Initiatives in Education: Towards Community Control
BEd (Adult Ed)
8cp; prerequisite: 015110 Issues in Aboriginal Education
subject coordinator: J Newman
This subject provides opportunities for participants to explore critically Aboriginal initiatives in education. The major thrust of this subject will be carried out by field visits and each participant will complete an extended internship.

015113
Teaching Aboriginal Studies
BEd (Adult Ed)
8cp
subject coordinator: J Newman
This subject provides an opportunity for students to become competent teachers of Aboriginal studies in a practical hands-on way. This subject will explore a number of ways of translating social content in learnable/teachable episodes.
015114
Aboriginal Studies
BEd (Adult Ed)
4cp
subject coordinator: J Newman
This subject will introduce students to Aboriginal culture and social organisation as expressions of Aboriginal cosmology. Contemporary Aboriginal culture will be presented as an evolving response to colonialism and as a reassertion of cultural empowerment.

015115
Introducing Aboriginal Cultures and Philosophies
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: J Newman
This subject introduces students to Aboriginal culture and social organisation as expressions of Aboriginal cosmology. Contemporary Aboriginal cultures will be presented as an evolving response to colonialism and as a reassertion of cultural empowerment.

015124/015131/015138/015148/015323/4
Individualised Project 1/2/3/4/5/6
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp; prerequisite: 015135 Developing Individualised Projects
subject coordinator: S Knights
Individualised projects are a feature of the Bachelor of Education in Adult Education. They are delivered through the learning contract method. A learning contract is a structured method whereby each participant in consultation with a staff adviser designs and implements manageable learning activities. The emphasis is on making the activity relevant to those professional and personal needs of the student which are consistent with the aims of the course. Successful completion of Developing Individualised Projects is a prerequisite for Individualised Projects in the Bachelor of Education in Adult Education.

015140
Aboriginal Studies Project
BEd (Adult Ed)
8cp
subject coordinator: J Newman
This subject provides an opportunity for students to carry out a major project in Aboriginal studies under the supervision of a member of academic staff, either in groups or individually. Students negotiate the project through a learning contract.

015141
Human Resource Development Strategies
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: T Holland
This subject examines the diversity of practices that contribute to effective human resource development in organisational settings. It extends students' skills in developing practical, targeted, human resource development strategies which are appropriate for... individual, team and organisational development. It also introduces concepts of learner and performance assessment.

015142
Participatory Action Research Project
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: M Newman
Participatory action research combines three main activities: research, education and action. Participatory action research has a rich tradition in adult education and draws on a range of drama and art tools and strategies that educators can use when helping people address issues in the community.

015143
Context and Strategies in Education
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: M Newman
A challenge for adult and community educators is how to use education as a way to help people critically evaluate and understand themselves, and the world around them, and to see themselves as active participants in that world. Community educators often work to help disempowered individuals and groups – for example, the unemployed, young people, prisoners, the aged, victims of discrimination – come to see themselves as creators of culture, history and an alternative social vision. This subject aims to help educators to develop their capacity to work with critical and activist forms of education and learning which contribute to social justice.

015144
Education and Cultural Diversity
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: M Newman
Australia is one of the most culturally and linguistically diverse countries in the world and is still in the process of developing appropriate ways of responding to this diversity in terms of equity and social justice; and in terms of valuing and maximising the advantages of such diversity. Adult educators working in a range of community and Aboriginal contexts need therefore to develop an understanding of their own and others' cultures in order to operate effectively and flexibly within such a culture of change.

015162
Competency Assessment in the Workplace
BEd (Adult Ed)
6cp
subject coordinator: T Holland
This subject aims to provide participants with the knowledge and skills to develop and implement workplace assessment strategies in order to measure both the achievement of learning outcomes and competent performance in the workplace.

015183
Administration of the Training Function
DipAdultEd (Training)
6cp; 2hpw
This subject deals with the coordination and administration of training. It covers training policy formulation, budgeting, scheduling of programs, workshop administration and database management. The issue of change management is also covered, and a number of general human resource issues that constitute the context of training (such as wages and salaries, EEO regulations, appraisal and occupational health) are introduced.

015189
Adult Education Practices 2
BEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Mike Newman
In this subject, the relationship of teaching to learning will be explored in the contexts of participants' concurrent roles in the workplace and as teachers and learners. This relationship will be explored in one-to-one and group learning events.

015290
Mathematics for Numeracy Teachers
GradCertAdultNumeracyTeaching
6cp
subject coordinator: B Johnston
This subject enables participants to revisit basic mathematical concepts such as numeration and the decimal system, measurement, chance and data, algebraic expressions and elementary functions in a learner-centred, self-paced manner in order to develop participants confidence and strategies in learning mathematics. A short introduction to standard spreadsheet package will be included.
Participants in this subject will be able to experience models of good numeracy teaching practice which they will be able to critique and adapt in their other subjects and in their own practice.

015291
Mathematics in Social Contexts
GradCertAdultNumeracyTeaching
6cp
subject coordinator: B Johnston
This subject takes participants on a journey through theories about numeracy, with a particular focus on numeracy as a critical social tool. It examines evidence through case studies of how numeracy practices are socially situated, and the games of power around numeracy practices.

015309
Computing for Adult Educators
BEd (Adult Ed)
4cp
subject coordinator: P Russell
This subject aims to develop the participants' competence in using basic computer software applications suitable for adult educators, and to expand their understanding of computer systems. It covers graphics, word processing, spreadsheets and databases; computer hardware systems; computer operating systems; computer memory and storage systems; computer network systems; and the educational uses of computers.

015336
Training and Development Practicum
BEd (Adult Ed)
8cp
subject coordinator: T Holland
This subject forms a key part of the training and development concentration for students who are undertaking courses other than the BEd. It provides an understanding of the practical application of training methods and training course-design principles to workplaces.

015338
Language and Learning
6cp
This subject will cover:
• the socio-cultural issues involved in teaching in linguistically and culturally diverse classrooms;
• an introduction to the language of education;
• theories of language development and learning.

015339
Curriculum and Pedagogy 1
6cp
This subject will cover:
• the pedagogical issues involved in teaching in linguistically, culturally and socially diverse classrooms;
• issues in curriculum planning, programming, organising and assessing learning in such classrooms;
• the role of the teacher and models of teaching and learning in such classrooms.

015340
Functional Grammar
6cp
This subject will provide participants with an understanding of language as a resource for making meanings. Using a systemic functional linguistic model it will:
• show how linguistic choices are related to the context in which they occur;
• describe aspects of context (genre and register) in detail;
• show how texts are structured to achieve social purposes.
Participants will develop a range of linguistic tools with which to analyse the spoken and written text in their own teaching area.

015341
Curriculum and Pedagogy 2
6cp
In this subject participants will be able to select an option specifically related to their specialised area of teaching. These options will be drawn from the courses at the University or from other equivalent professional development courses. Examples of such options for 1998 will be:
• Accessing Learning: a Catholic Education Office/Association of Independent Schools professional development course on the role of language in the key learning areas at secondary level. (This course has approval to be offered through the Centre for Language and Literacy as a continuing professional education course.)
• Language in the Primary Classroom: a professional development course on the role of language in the primary classroom. (This course has approval to be offered through the Centre for Language and Literacy as a continuing professional education course.)
• Working Together: a NSW TAFE professional development course for vocational teachers on the language and literacy demands of vocational areas.

015344
Women and Education
BEd (Adult Ed)
8cp
subject coordinator: S Knights
This subject offers an opportunity to study the roles of women as learners, teachers and managers in adult education in the community and workplace. Drawing on a range of literature from adult education and women's studies, participants will explore the implications of feminist approaches to learning. The subject also covers issues relating to women's participation in adult education in Australia and internationally, and women's contribution to theory, policy and research in adult education.

015355
Gender at Work
BEd (Adult Ed)
4cp
subject coordinator: S Knights
Gender is a central organising principle of work. This subject examines patterns of women's and men's participation in paid work and the social, historical, economic and political factors implicated in these patterns. Segmentation in the labour market and segregation in the workplace are analysed with particular reference to gender inequalities and relations of power. The subject critically evaluates assumptions about gender which are fundamental to the way work is organised, both at the wider social, and at the individual level. Various explanations for the gendered nature of work are evaluated and particular emphasis is given to the experiences and meanings of work in men's and women's lives, and to the relationship between work and personal identity. The subject also evaluates anti-discrimination legislation, equal employment opportunity and affirmative action programs as strategic interventions which are aimed at degendering the institutions and conditions of work.

015380
Thesis
BEd(Hons)
30cp
This subject is designed to develop the competencies necessary to plan and write an Honours thesis. It also aims to critically develop the knowledge and skills required to critique research proposals, plans and outcomes. It contributes to the course aim by developing critical thinking about applied research as well as academic thesis writing skills.

015381
Thesis development and Appraisal
BEd(Hons)
6cp; 3hpw
subject coordinator: Dr R Pithers
This subject aims to provide participants with the basic research competencies necessary to devise, plan, carry out and report on a small scale research study in adult education. As such it is a subject which focuses on the practical research knowledge (eg. construction of a survey) and skills (eg. 'data' analysis) deemed necessary to achieve the production of an honours thesis.

020202
Art and Craft Education 2
BEdT Lib, BTeach/BA
3cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 020201 Art and Craft Education 1 subject coordinator: Anne Bamford
Students will explore three-dimensional art through a range of group and individual experiences. They will examine cross-art links with special emphasis on art and drama, including puppetry, costumes and masks. Problem-solving techniques involving new materials will be acquired, adapted and used. Drawing skills and the development of sequential learning programs will be extended. Students will appreciate 3D art forms in the community. Assessment will be in both theory and practical work.

020211
Visual Arts and Craft Education
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BTeach/BA
6cp; 3hpw for two semesters
subject coordinator: A Bamford
Visual arts and craft is an essential component of primary education. This year-long subject aims to develop skills and positive attitudes in an intellectual, practical and aesthetic context. Students will study theories and research on child art development and apply this knowledge to the development of imaginative, exciting and sequential learning programs in visual arts and craft. Students will explore the nature of art. A range of making and appraisal activities enable students to gain a detailed understanding of the diverse and comprehensive nature of visual arts in the classroom. Students will develop competencies in both two- and three-dimensional forms, and be encouraged to reflect upon the importance of art in the total education of the child.

020301
Aspects of Australian Art
BTeach/BEd T Lib general studies elective
3cp
subject coordinator: A Bamford
Develops a knowledge of Australian art history; enables students to recognise art and artists' styles; develops an awareness of the changes in attitude towards art and culture; explores an area of artistic interest; teaches participants how to use this information as a basis for classroom use; and develops an understanding of factors relating to the arts.

020404
Art Studies 4
BTeach/BA
elective major; compulsory attendance
4cp; 3hpw; prerequisites: 020401 Art Studies 1; 020402 Art Studies 2; 020403 Art Studies 3
subject coordinator: A Bamford
Developing scholarly insights and understanding of aspects of Asian art (with specific reference to Australia’s near neighbours) will be the focal point of this subject. Intellectual, practical and artistic content will be explored, as will aspects of cultural forces that may relate to the teacher in a multicultural society. Assessment will be in both theory and practical work. Not offered in 1999.

020405
Art Studies 5
BTeach/BA
elective major; compulsory attendance
4cp; 3hpw; prerequisite: 020404 Art Studies 4
subject coordinator: A Bamford
Students should develop a basic understanding of aesthetics relating to art by investigating the validity of, and exploring the possibility of, applying such concepts to art. An educated awareness and understanding of the various concepts of art should allow concise and critical judgment to occur, both in theoretical discussion and in practical application to art forms. Assessment will be in both theory and practical work. Not offered in 1999.

020411
Art Major Study I: People in Art
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: A Bamford
By studying a single theme in art, students will explore change and continuity in visual expression. Students will gain an understanding of the complexity and diversity of imagery on the theme of people, and develop investigative skills and practical techniques that allow scholarly analysis of art. Art will be viewed as a form of social and personal communication that serves a range of purposes. Through the theme of ‘People in Art’ students will explore aspects of human existence and identity that will inform personal explorations in art and teaching practices.

020412
Art Major Study 2: A Sense of Place
BEd (Prim)
6cp; 3hpw; prerequisites: 020411 Art Major Study 1 or 020413 Art Major Study 3
subject coordinator: A Bamford
A sense of place is an important part of national and personal identity. This subject explores our physical, spiritual and artistic link to the land through the study of both traditional and contemporary visual impressions of landscape. Through both practical and critical activities, students will reflect upon personal perceptions of ‘place’ and will develop strategies that enable children to respond creatively to the environment. Students will examine public art in the environment with special reference to sculptural forms.
020413
Art Major Study 3: Stories, Myths and Truth
BEd (Prim)
6cp; prerequisites: 020411 Art Major Study 1 and/or 020412 Art Major Study 2
subject coordinator: A Bamford

All people seem to have a need to tell stories though visual means. The narrative qualities of art will be explored to provide insight into the personal, social and cultural forces that shape society. Particular emphasis will be placed on Asian Pacific art and culture. Students will look at both traditional and contemporary stories that are told through art and how these impact on concepts of truth. As educators in a multicultural society, students will develop strategies to encourage children to interpret art and express personal stories through art. Students will compare Western traditions of beauty with those of other cultures and will recognise style and nationality in art forms.

020414
Art Major Study 4: Design and Power
BEd (Prim)
6cp; prerequisites: 020411 Art Major Study 1; 020412 Art Major Study 2 and/or 020413 Art Major Study 3
subject coordinator: A Bamford

Students will develop an understanding of aesthetics as it relates to visual arts. Through problem-solving activities, students will document the design process as it applies to art production and the education of children. Analysis of all facets of the commercialisation of art will form the basis for the development and marketing of practical visual arts 'products'. Students will be encouraged to investigate the creative potential of a range of new technologies. The political and social power of art will be examined and, as a culmination of the Art Studies strand, students will research one interest area of art in depth and present these findings in a written paper and a major work exhibition.

020701
Aspects of Art/Craft Education
BEd (Prim) FIT P/T
general elective, compulsory attendance
5cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 020201/2 Art and Craft Education I and 2 or equivalent
subject coordinator: A Bamford

This subject develops and expands knowledge of art/craft teaching strategies within both normal and special classes; investigates and evaluates the usefulness of aspects of the visual arts syllabus; develops understanding of the reasons used for developing school-based policies for visual arts; provides additional skills and experience with visual arts media and programming. Assessment will be in both theory and practical work.

020702
Teaching Visual Arts
BEd (Prim) FIT P/T
advanced teaching study
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: A Bamford

This subject examines educational trends and philosophies behind the visual arts syllabus; explores the aims of visual arts K–12; fosters an understanding of processes and learning experiences used in visual arts education and relates these to the artistic development of children; extends ability to utilise a variety of media; formulates methods of assessment and evaluation in visual arts education; develops understanding of school-based policy in visual arts; develops awareness of visual arts resources in the community; and develops the student's confidence in visual arts expression.

020703
Issues in Art Education
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed) BEd T Lib
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: A Bamford

This subject examines educational trends and philosophies behind art education practice; investigates the usefulness of various aspects of visual arts syllabuses; develops strategies for accommodating the needs of individual learners in visual arts; explores school-based policy and program development; extends skills in a range of media; reflects on current practices in art education; makes a comparative study of art policy and practice; and looks at needs-based learning in art and craft.
020704

Studio Practice in Visual Arts

BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib

advanced study elective

6cp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: A Bamford

Studio Practice in Visual Arts studies the art of contemporary Australia from the perspective of artist, critic, historian, contextualist and curator. Students will be directly involved in making art, speaking with artists and visiting exhibitions. Through a detailed study of the personal and varied nature of the creative process, students will reflect on the current nature of art education in schools and will analyse possible alternative strategies based on the working models of artists. This subject highlights individual approaches to art and is applicable to students with a range of artistic understanding and experience.

021311

Information Technology

BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA

4cp; 2hpw; for two semesters

subject coordinator: J Eklund

This year-long subject aims to encourage students to develop a broad knowledge of the uses of computers in the school environment and for their own productivity. Students will gain an understanding of basic techniques in using the computer as an information-handling tool in an educational setting and enhance their skills in the use of computer software to increase their personal productivity, particularly with respect to the essay requirements of Year 1 of the degree as a whole. Students consider applications in the key learning areas, identify the strengths and weaknesses of computers in the classroom, and become aware of problems of access to computers in the primary school. The content focuses on word processing, graphics, databases, and using software across the curriculum.

021411

Educational Computing Major Study 1

BEd (Prim)

6cp; prerequisite: 021311 Information Technology or equivalent

subject coordinator: J Eklund

This is a hands-on workshop-based subject which introduces the LOGO-based authoring environment Microworlds Project Builder.

Students gain skills in using the application and develop a 'project', a LOGO-based teaching and learning package which is suitable for a primary class. This project is situated in the context of the primary key learning area, literature on LOGO and learning, and a unit or lesson plan.

021412

Educational Computing Major Study 2

BEd (Prim)

6cp; prerequisite: 021311 Information Technology or equivalent

subject coordinator: J Eklund

This subject focuses on the use of integrated packages as information-handling and problem-solving tools, with specific reference to educational context. Students are introduced to the Clarisworks spreadsheet and further work is done on the Claris database modules, and students prepare solutions to information-handling problems found in the context of a business or other enterprise. A folio of work is submitted as a complete solution to a range of problems that the business encounters, and this is presented to the group. This is a practical course on the application of spreadsheets, databases and graphics which is presented in a thematic way. Students are assessed by two short tests, a folio of work and a presentation.

021413

Educational Computing Major Study 3

BEd (Prim)

6cp; prerequisite: 021311 Information Technology

subject coordinator: J Eklund

Communications technology and the classroom, the Internet, the World Wide Web. This subject examines the role of communications technology in changing classroom environments. It focuses on the integration of the Web into the teaching of a variety of subjects. Students learn elementary HTML and cooperatively create a Web site with links to subject-specific resources, and the creation of support materials for classroom implementation. This course is largely delivered via the Internet with a two-hour face-to-face session each fortnight. Students must spend at least four hours per week with Internet access for successful completion.
021414

Educational Computing Major Study 4
BEd (Prim)
6cp; prerequisite: 021411/12/13 Educational Computing Major Study 1, 2 or 3
subject coordinator: Eklund

This one-semester subject examines the role of computers in the classroom and the school. Focusing on policy and current practice, it is a practical subject which relates closely to practicum experiences. Students examine a range of resources and teaching strategies for introducing computers across the Primary Curriculum. Lab management, using applications software, the school's computer policy, training staff, and implementing effective lessons using computers are some of the topics covered.

021701

Computer-based Learning
BEd (Prim) FIT P/T
advanced teaching study
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Eklund

This subject is an introduction to the use of computers in instructional programs. Students will develop skill in designing suitable teaching sequences and writing programs to accomplish the objectives of the sequences; gain knowledge of the range of computer facilities available for use in schools; and develop the ability to evaluate and effectively use commercially available programs.

021702

Current Issues and Applications in Educational Computing
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib
advanced study elective
6cp; 3hpw; prerequisite: not available to students who have completed any subject in the Educational Computing Major Study sequence
subject coordinator: Eklund

This one-semester subject provides an overview of current issues and applications in the use of computers in schools, focusing on primary schools. It introduces a variety of applications software which have been covered in greater detail in the Educational Computing Major Studies. The course excludes students who have completed any of the courses in Educational Computing in the Major Studies. It covers teaching and learning with 1,000, the use of integrated packages such as Clarisworks, curriculum documents and policy statements, the Internet and implications for teaching and learning, and changes in school use of technology.

021791

Computer-mediated Learning
BEd (Hons)
5cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 021301 Introduction to Computers in the Classroom or equivalent subject coordinator: Schaverien

This subject extends students' understanding of learning by considering the possibilities in computer-mediated learning offered by advanced technologies. Students will explore a range of advanced technologies for learning (including the Internet, the World Wide Web, email, computer-based games, toys, simulations and tutoring systems) and develop their insights into the implications of these technologies for what it might mean, now and in the future, to know and understand.

022601

Learning Beyond the Classroom
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib,
advanced study elective
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Griffin

An important component of teaching involves taking students outside the classroom. Research increasingly shows that teaching strategies need to be specifically developed for these learning environments, and that classroom teachers are often not aware of the range of options available for making these experiences meaningful. This subject will investigate the research base and then look at applications of its findings. The subject will include considerable 'learning outside the classroom'.

022602

Independent Study
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib
advanced study elective
6cp; 1hpw equivalent; normal prerequisite: Educational Research subject coordinator: Deer

This subject allows students to develop their own learning project in consultation with a member of the academic staff. The project may take the form of a reading course, a field-based study or an action-research project relating to an aspect of primary school education.
022603
Teaching Across the Curriculum
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BTeach/BA
advanced study elective
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisite(s): successful completion of curriculum subjects
subject coordinator: R Johnston
This one-semester subject will focus on the practical and creative ways in which teachers can incorporate all aspects of the curriculum into integrated units. It is based on the philosophy that learning is most successful within meaningful contexts and when it is holistic rather than fragmented. The course will be taught by a team of lecturers working together to demonstrate teaching/learning episodes where the different disciplines connect. Ways in which cross-curricular teaching can be programmed and evaluated will also be explored.

022701 Educational Drama
BEd (Prim) F/T P/T
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: P March
This subject develops an understanding of current issues in the theory and practice of educational drama; evaluates the significance of play and its value in education; examines the nature and utilisation of the creative learning process; examines the nature and function of drama as a creative and performing art and as both a learning process and a teaching medium; explores the potential utilisation of drama in the classroom and across the key learning areas; develops materials and strategies for drama which meet the demands of the syllabus for the Creative and Practical Arts; and extends the basic skills required to work in drama for a variety of educational contexts.

023105
Practicum 5: Designing and Implementing Educational Programs for Learners
BTeach/BA
4cp; 2hpw; plus practical experience
subject coordinator: L Brady
This subject interprets the programming implications of school policy statements within the context of school management plans; analyses and processes key elements involved in programming, such as rationale, content, methods, assessment and evaluation; assists in the design of teaching programs based on the above elements and appropriate to nominated year levels and school contexts; and determines the physical and human resource implications of developed programs.
Not offered in 1999.

023106
Practicum 6: Providing for Individual Differences in Learners
BTeach/BA
5cp; 2hpw; plus practical experience; prerequisites:
023105 Practicum 5; 023511 Developmental Psychology
subject coordinator: A Scully
Assists students to become aware of and to take account of the broad range of individual differences among children in primary schools; examines the research and practices which influence planning and the teaching of children when a range of difference is evident; extends the students’ knowledge of and understanding of relevant government policy statements; and guides student practice in planning, teaching and managing individuals within the context of a whole class.
Not offered in 1999.

023107
The Reflective Practitioner in the School F/T
BEd (Prim) F/T, BEd Hons
8cp; 2hpw, over one semester
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject is structured in such a way that students will meet on a regular basis over the period of the in-school teaching experience.
They will engage in ongoing professional development, reflect on their own classroom practices and discuss ways in which decision­ making processes within the school are influenced by external and internal factors.
Students will engage in investigation and analysis of the following:
1. current workplace conditions;
2. internal and external factors influencing current structural/organisational features
   – this will take into account the social, political, cultural and economic factors influencing the decision-making process;
3. the impact of school planning processes on classroom practices in relation to curriculum, evaluation and pedagogy.
Mode A: Associate Teacher program
In the first instance the student will be allocated to a school for the first two weeks of the new school year. This will enable the student to perceive the ways in which schools accommodate the needs of new staff and new pupils and manage their induction into the school. Students will act as associate teachers and will assist in the identification and diagnosis of learning needs which lead to effective programming. They will keep a journal which will take particular note of processes used for undertaking needs-analyses and teacher programming and planning.

During first semester students will return to the school to which they have been assigned for a further six weeks. As associate teachers they will be responsible for working alongside experienced teachers as junior partners. They will take responsibility for planning, implementing and evaluating learning experiences in a variety of key learning areas, one of which must be mathematics or science education, as well as acting as team members in the remaining key learning areas. Students will engage in ongoing professional development through attending and contributing to staff meetings, cluster and regional meetings and parent interviews.

Note: The Department of School Education requires that all participants in the Associate Teacher program are subject to a criminal record check. Students who have already received an employment number with the NSW Department of School Education have already had a criminal check and been approved to work in NSW schools.

The Reflective Practitioner in the School P/T
BEd (Prim) P/T
8cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Walker

The subject will be structured in such a way that students will be reflectively engaged with their own practices. They will be required to complete a series of tasks which will lead them to acquire understanding of the insights that develop.

Students will engage in investigation and analysis of the following:
1. current workplace conditions;
2. internal and external factors influencing current structural/organisational features.

This will take into account the social, political, cultural and economic factors influencing the decision-making process;
3. the impact of school planning processes on classroom practices in relation to curriculum, evaluation and pedagogy.

Reflection in action will involve students in a significant amount of individual study. Students in Modes B, C, D and E will meet together over a series of seminars across the full year to discuss and evolve a collegial critique of their practices.

Mode B: Part-time Teacher program
The Part-time Teacher program is for part-time students who are beginning teachers but are not yet in permanent teaching positions. These students can elect to do 40 days’ continuous or 60 days’ non-continuous teaching experience or, if unable to complete the required number of days in the first year, they will be able to participate in the Associate Teacher program.

Mode C: Full-time Teacher program
The Full-time Teacher program is for part-time students who are experienced teachers in permanent teaching positions.

Mode D: Overseas Teacher program (Not offered in 1999)
For students who come from other countries and need to upgrade their qualifications to be able to teach in NSW. (Please note, students with overseas qualifications must discuss their qualifications with the NSW Department of School Education before enrolling in the Bachelor of Education conversion course.)

Mode E: Secondary or TAFE teachers with relevant teaching experience. (Not offered in 1999)
Note: Special arrangements will be made for qualified and experienced teachers who are not currently employed in teaching.

023111
Practicum 1: Beginning Teaching – Issues in the Primary School
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
8cp; 4hpw
subject coordinator: S Schuck

This one-semester subject will provide the broad conceptual basis for understanding that the study of primary schooling integrates, both implicitly and explicitly, a number of disciplinary perspectives, which in turn influence the educational practices conducted...
SUBJECT DESCRIPTIONS

therein. Further practicum curriculum subjects will focus on the requisite skills required of the practitioner. This subject will have laid the foundation which will allow such skills to evolve in reflective ways which transcend the technical. Field-based experience will provide the basis for examination of the roles of the primary school teacher, the relationship of teacher to learner, and the diversity of learning experiences offered by the different disciplinary areas.

023112 Practicum 2: Developing Classroom Management

BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
8cp; 3hpw; prerequisites: 023111 Practicum 1: Beginning Teaching – Issues in the Primary School; 023511 Developmental Psychology
subject coordinator: A Scully

This subject will provide students with a knowledge and skill base which will enable them to make informed and appropriate educational decisions as they relate to daily classroom life in the primary school. The skills associated with classroom management are central to effective teaching practice. On this premise, this subject will engage students in critical examination of human motivation, lesson planning and presentation, and of the theoretical underpinnings of classroom management practices. The subject, through an integration of learning experience on the campus and in the field, will engage students in the development, practice and evaluation of fundamental skills of classroom management.

023113 Practicum 3: Promoting Student-centred Learning

BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
8cp; 3hpw; prerequisite: 023112 Practicum 2: Developing Classroom Management
subject coordinator: L Brady

This subject enables students to: account for the broad range of individual differences among primary school students; appraise the basic principles of student-centred learning; synthesise a range of pedagogical skills which meet the needs of individuals in small group and whole class contexts; understand and apply the theories of small group functioning; and justify the inclusion of more student participation in the teaching/learning process.

023114 Practicum 4: Managing Learning Difficulties

BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
8cp; 3hpw; prerequisite: 023113 Practicum 3: Promoting Student-centred Learning
subject coordinator: N Todd

This is a linked one-semester subject, which has two interrelated strands: a campus-based strand, and a school-based strand. The campus-based component examines strategies for teaching students with learning difficulties in the regular classroom. It explores methods of assessment, programming and classroom organisation. In the school-based component, students are expected to continue to refine their teaching skills as practised in previous field-based experiences. In addition, they will be expected to focus on how they can modify their approaches to ensure that students with learning difficulties are accommodated within the context of the program. To achieve this outcome, students are expected to transfer learning from the academic component of the subject to the field.

023115 Practicum 5: Designing Educational Programs

BEd (Prim), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: L Brady

This subject aims to analyse and process key elements involved in programming, such as rationale, content, methods, assessment and evaluation, and interpret them within the context of school management plans. Students learn to design teaching programs based on the above elements and appropriate to nominated year levels and school, and to examine the different techniques of program evaluation.

023116 Practicum 6: Assessing and Evaluating in Education

BEd (Prim), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: Practicum 5: Designing Educational Programs
subject coordinator: K Forster

This subject is intended to investigate and improve practical decisions of teachers regarding their own teaching and their students’ learning. In particular it will examine the decisions made in schools about the assessment of students' learning. In this context, emphasis will be placed on the aims of student assessment, appropriate strategies, the interpretation and reporting of student achievement, and implications for subsequent action. In addition, broader issues relating to the evaluation of curriculum and teaching practice at classroom and school level will be examined and a range of evaluative strategies will be explored.

Practicum 7: Reflecting on Educational Practice
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
8cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Walker
This two-semester subject will be structured in such a way that students will: reflect on teaching practices; analyse the school as a workplace; examine, test and evaluate their theories of teaching and learning; explore educational problems; and critically evaluate methodologies to solve educational problems.

023301

Introduction to LOTE Methodology
BTeach, BEd T Lib; BTeach/BA
general studies elective
3cp; 3hpw
subject coordinator: L Morgan
This subject is designed to provide an introduction to issues concerned with the teaching of languages other than English in the school with particular reference to the K–6 generic LOTE syllabus. Particular attention will be paid to developing successful strategies for the teaching of languages other than English, including the development of communicative classroom activities. The subject will provide an introduction into the theories of second language acquisition and examine the application of these theories in the classroom. A number of current LOTE policy issues such as satellite delivery and continuity of LOTE programs will also be examined.

023302

Basic Principles in Educational Research
BEdTUb, BTeach/BA
general studies elective
3cp; 1hpw full-year subject
subject coordinator: L Schaverien
This subject assists students to develop an active researcher's orientation towards learning and teaching. It begins with an exploration of myths about learning, to provoke students' imagination and develop their critique. Students are helped to generate and to recognise purposes for research through the development of this study and by hearing from active researchers into learning and teaching. Guided by the purposes of research, students are assisted to select, use and refine research strategies, to evaluate the findings yielded and to formulate further questions. Over the year, students will begin to develop and refine their repertoires of effective electronic searching and there will be opportunities to communicate research findings to others in writing and by oral presentations.

This subject is designed as an essential preparation for the BEd Honours course but is available to all third-year Bachelor of Teaching students.

023303

Basic Principles in Educational Research
BEdTUb, BTeach/BA
general studies elective
3cp; 2hpw; over one-semester
subject coordinator: L Schaverien
This subject is the same as 023302 except that it is studied for 2hpw; over one semester.

023411

Education Major Study 1: History of Australian Education
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject, using the approaches and methods of history as a discipline, allows students to gain an overview of the development of Australian education from 1788 to the present. Students will be given the opportunity to use and assess both primary and secondary documentation as sources of information.

023412

Education Major Study 2: Moral Development
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: L Brady
This subject enables students to: develop and refine a definition of morality and the morally educated or morally autonomous person; understand and implement the currently practised major approaches to moral education, such as trait approach, values clarification, cognitive developmental theory and role play; examine the implications of these approaches for classroom management; and to suggest ways of integrating the major approaches to moral education across both approaches and key learning areas.

023413 Education Major Study 3: Changing Schools
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: K Forster
This subject seeks to provide student teachers with an understanding of change in schools. Students will critically examine the processes involved in successful innovation based on current research in the field and actual cases in NSW education. In doing so, they will develop the skills and knowledge appropriate for seeking and implementing change in schools. The approach taken by this subject rests on an acknowledgment that educational situations are dynamic and that continual modification of one’s approach is part of the professional role of the teacher and the continued effectiveness of the school.

023414
Education Major Study 4: Educational Policy Studies
BEd (Prim)
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Walker
This one-semester subject will be structured in such a way that students will: understand the policy process; examine educational policy theory; explore the relationship between educational problems and policy; become aware of links between educational research and policy making; identify strategies with which to conduct an analysis of policy; and evaluate current educational policy as a strategy to solve educational problems.

023500
An Introduction to Developmental and Educational Psychology
BA(HMS) F/T
4cp; 3hpw
subject coordinator: A Scully
This subject aims to help students understand that principles derived from developmental and educational psychology contribute substantially to their effective functioning as people and as leisure and tourism professionals. It aims to do this by giving them a systematic general view of human growth and development and by showing that effective instructional techniques can assist individuals in reaching their developmental potential. Learning activities in this subject will engage students in consideration of cognitive, physical and affective aspects of human development. Students will also be engaged in critical consideration of instructional procedures and learning activity in the leisure context.

023503
Philosophical Bases of Education
BEd T Lib, BTeach/BA
3cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 023502 Social Bases of Education
subject coordinator: K Forster
This subject considers a range of educational issues and teaches students to use them as the basis for analysis of current theory and practice; presents a reasoned and logically supported position in relation to those issues; and moves towards a commitment to specific, relevant policies and practices.

023505
Educational Research
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BTeach/BA
4cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: L Schaverien
This year-long subject aims to develop students’ understanding of research through their active participation in it. With the support of the lecturer, individual students will undertake a sustained research investigation of a particular avenue of interest to them, within a broad and fruitful research focus of relevance to the class community. This investigation will require students to generate ideas for a project, refine a question to investigate, choose and/or develop an appropriate methodology, and conduct, analyse and report their findings. In addition to developing students’ appreciation of research by doing it, the subject will deepen their understanding of the broad spectrum of educational research paradigms. This subject is designed as an essential preparation for the BEd Honours course but is available to all third year Bachelor of Education students.
023506 Philosophical Bases of Education (revised)
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
4cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Forster
This course is directed towards assisting teachers to be effective and thoughtful decision makers. Such decision making implies a reasoned and informed approach to teaching based upon an understanding and evaluation of relevant arguments and underlying principles. Students will develop and clarify their own philosophy of education by examining the arguments and principles involved in some current educational issues. In so doing, it is expected that students will develop logical skills needed for effective decision making.

023511
Developmental Psychology
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
4cp; 3hpw; prerequisite: 023504 Theories of Learning
subject coordinator: A Scully
This subject will provide students with an understanding of the discipline of developmental psychology and associated basic principles. The subject will engage students in a systematic examination of human growth and development as they apply to early and middle childhood. It will demonstrate the link between education and development, and it will equip students with basic data-gathering skills which they will be expected to apply within the subject, and in their practice as developing primary teachers. In doing so, this subject will develop a professional knowledge base about children in the early and middle childhood years which will assist the student in making sound educational decisions.

023512
Sociological Bases of Education
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
4cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Walker
This one-semester subject enables students to: appreciate the nature of social relationships in the school and how these affect teacher and student behaviour; understand social theories; understand how social characteristics influence the educational outcomes of certain social groups; understand the part that the socialisation process plays in shaping educational outcomes; and study the direction of social change, the implications of these for change in schools and the interaction between schools and society in this context.

023600
Current Issues in Australian Education
BEd (Prim) F/T P/T
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Forster
This subject is designed to provide an overview of contemporary issues in education and their relation to development in the wider Australian society; to consider how these relate to educational policy and practice across the sectors of society, throughout the life span of the individuals; and to provide opportunities for participation in scholarship and debate within the educational community.

023601
School and Community Relations
BEd (Prim) F/T P/T
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Forster
This subject analyses the concept of community and its relevance to Australian society and education; gives the student an understanding of policies of community involvement and participation in Australian schools by examining their social context; explores the implications of community involvement and participation with regard to school governance; and develops an understanding of the process of relating to the wider community.

023602
The Social Context of Childhood Stress
BEd (Prim) F/T P/T
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject recognises the rights of children and their care providers; identifies potential stress-making conditions for children in contemporary Australian society; analyses the theory and implications of social reports, policy documents and the law relating to particular groups of children; and identifies government and community agencies providing child support services.
023603

Educational Evaluation
BEd (Prim) FIT PIT 5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Forster

This subject emphasises evaluation as a systematic means of improving teaching practices; examines ways in which pupil performance and teaching and curriculum practices can be described and reported upon; considers current issues related to learning outcomes as measured by standardised tests and the underlying assumptions regarding measurement; explores the distinctions between program and project evaluation, formative and summative evaluation; and familiarises students with the range of strategies for collecting and interpreting evidence, and the consequences of these for practice.

023604

Language and Schooling
BEd (Prim) FIT PIT 5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: P March

This subject explores the investigative, expressive and poetic functions of language within the framework of disciplines and subjects studied in the primary school curriculum; consolidates understandings of the Whorfian hypothesis that language constructs the world view of individuals; and discusses critically such concepts as codes and control, genres, language and empowerment, in integrative and synthesising ways.

023606

Curriculum Development and Management
BEd (Prim) FIT PIT 5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: C E Deer

This subject considers contemporary issues and trends in curriculum development and develops skills in the application of appropriate models of curriculum development and organisation to the design of school-based curriculum. Competency in school-based curriculum development will be fostered by group workshop activities and field studies.

023607

Teachers as Professionals
BEd (Prim) FIT PIT 5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Forster

This subject is designed to assist teachers to reflect critically upon their status and role as professionals. In doing so they will consider implications for educational policy and practice in areas such as professional-client relations, accountability, collaboration with colleagues and professional development. They will also examine the need for, and nature of, an appropriate code of ethics for teachers.

023608

Implementing Educational Change
BEd (Prim) FIT PIT 5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Forster

This subject provides teachers with skills and knowledge appropriate for seeking and implementing change in schools. This will entail developing skills in negotiating and working with others in the school community for goals related to the betterment of the school, and in presenting submissions to educational authorities. Students will also identify the requirements of successful implementation of educational innovations and develop the ability to effectively evaluate an educational innovation.

023610

Individualising Learning
BEd (Prim) FIT PIT 5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: C E Deer

In this subject students will: interpret, analyse and evaluate published materials on assessment and teaching strategies as related to individualising instruction; identify the learning needs of individuals through the application of appropriate assessment procedures; prescribe learning goals according to the perceived characteristics of the learner; and plan appropriate intervention strategies based upon assessment of the learning needs and abilities of the individual and the availability of teaching resources.
023611 Supervision in the Practicum
BEd (Prim) FT/P/T
5cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: a recognised pre-service teaching qualification
subject coordinator: A Scully
This subject is concerned with developing a range of basic supervisory skills which will enable the classroom teacher to contribute positively and effectively to the development of professional competency in student teachers. By the end of the subject, students should be able to demonstrate knowledge, understanding and skill in interpersonal communication and a variety of supervision techniques. In addition to this, students will develop an awareness of the competencies by which students are assessed throughout the practical experience program.

023614
International Perspectives on Education
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib
6cp; 3hpw
subject coordinator: L Schaverien
This one-semester subject aims to engage students actively in gaining first-hand knowledge of contemporary educational ideas and systems and their development in other countries and cultures, by utilising the resources of the Internet. Students will undertake a sustained study of aspects of education in a country of their choice, as well as a comparison and contrast, across countries, with respect to particular, significant and contemporary educational issues. This subject will be of particular interest to students in the Bachelor of Education/Bachelor of Arts in International Studies, but other students wishing to develop a culturally sensitive view of learning and teaching and those wishing to engage in global discussions of educational issues will also find it valuable.

023615
Professional Ethics
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Forster
This subject aims to encourage students to acquire a critical understanding of the ethical implications of viewing themselves as professionals in such areas as professional-client relations and accountability. Students will critically examine alternative ethical theories as a basis for professional decision making, apply ethical perspectives to specific cases relating to the responsibilities of professionals, and look at the conflicts that arise between these responsibilities. Students will also reflect on the need for and nature of an appropriate code of ethics for teachers.

023620
Analysing Current Issues in Australian Education (revised) BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed)
4cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Forster
This subject is designed to: provide an overview of contemporary issues in education and their relation to development in the wider Australian society; consider how these relate to educational policy and practice across the sectors throughout the life span; and provide opportunities for participation in scholarship and debate within the educational community.

023621
School and Community Relations (revised)
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Forster
This subject will focus on the relationship between a school and its community. Community involvement and participation in schooling are receiving official endorsement at all policy-making levels in Australia. Students will analyse and discuss problems of implementation of such policies. They will study varied interpretations and forms of the school and community concept and they will address the information needs and skills necessary for teachers to develop links with the community.

023690
Language and Education Honours
BEd(Hons)
5cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: admission to BEd(Hons)
subject coordinator: P March
This subject helps students understand the relationship between language, culture and learning. It will draw attention to the notion that specific disciplines operate within specific language frameworks and that teaching and learning within the discipline are governed by, and responsive to, that language framework.
The subject explores how language is used and varies according to purposes in terms of both structure and agency.

023698
Honours Seminar
BEd(Hons)
5cp; 1hpw equivalent for two semesters;
corequisite: 023699 Honours Thesis
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject provides opportunities for Bachelor of Education (Honours) students, by way of lecturer consultation and seminars, to identify and progressively develop a thesis topic, and, ultimately, justify the thesis on the basis of argument and evidence.

023699
Honours Thesis
BEd(Hons)
20cp; full-year subject; prerequisite: admission to BEd(Hons); corequisite: 023698 Honours Seminar subject coordinator: Chair, Honours Committee of School
This subject aims to provide students with the opportunity to demonstrate a high level of competence in research on an issue related to education and/or professional practice. It is only available to students enrolled in the Bachelor of Education (Honours).

023800 Mainstreaming
BEd (Prim) FIT PIT
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject aims to increase teacher-students' skills in managing and teaching children with learning problems in the regular classroom. The acquisition of these skills will be related to a study of current issues and policies of mainstreaming.

023801
Preventing and Remediating Reading Difficulties
BEd (Prim) FIT PIT
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: J Jardine
In this subject students will examine a range of instructional approaches to reading, at the word, sentence and discourse level, which have been shown to be effective in preventing and remediating reading difficulties in the classroom. Students will also analyse causal accounts of reading failure, address the issues associated with assessing reading ability and performance, and investigate the validity of alternative treatments which are alleged to increase reading performance.

023813
Managing Behavioural Difficulties
BEd (Spec Ed)
5cp; 3hpw
subject coordinator: M Goninan
Participants will identify classroom conditions that promote on-task behaviour; design behavioural programs using research-based technology; monitor and evaluate programs intended to increase appropriate behaviour.

023821
Special Education 1: Managing Challenging Behaviours
BEd (Spec Ed)
6cp; 3hpw
subject coordinator: M Goninan
This one-semester subject develops an understanding of the theoretical approaches to programming for students who have challenging behaviour. It will also explore the ways in which these approaches have been researched. It examines the criteria for selecting different preventive and management approaches. Students will be given the opportunity to discuss concepts raised in the lecture/workshop sessions, from the perspectives of their experiences in the practicum. The subject is compulsory for those seeking accreditation to teach in special education.

023822
Special Education 2: Preventing and Remediating Difficulties in Reading and Writing
BEd (Spec Ed)
6cp; 3hpw
subject coordinator: J Jardine
This subject examines the teaching of early reading and spelling to students who fail to learn from normal instructional techniques. Participants analyse and evaluate research on reading and spelling acquisition, apply the findings to the instructional needs of students, and examine and evaluate diagnostic and assessment tools both formal and informal in reading and spelling.
023823

Special Education 3: Educating Students who have Difficulties with Written Text
BEd (Spec Ed)
6cp; 3hpw; prerequisite/corequisite: 023822

Special Education 2: Preventing and Remediating Difficulties in Reading and Writing subject coordinator: Jardine

This subject examines ways in which teachers can support and assist students who have difficulty in understanding their school texts and in school writing tasks. Strategies for increasing comprehension, and their applicability to classroom situations, are investigated. The effectiveness of various approaches to facilitating writing is evaluated and attention is given to both upper primary and high school reading and writing, with an emphasis on non-fiction content areas.

023824

Special Education 4: Numeracy Instruction for Students with Learning Difficulties and Disabilities
BEd (Spec Ed)
6cp; 3hpw

subject coordinator: N Todd

In this subject participants will critically examine key issues, research and approaches in numeracy instruction for students with learning difficulties and a range of disabilities. They will be provided with information and experiences which will assist them to determine and utilise appropriate assessment tools and develop programs based on the assessment results. Participants will examine adaptation of mainstream mathematics curricula and functional numeracy based on individualised ecological inventories. The role of language in numeracy instruction is also examined, and appropriate and motivating activities and teaching strategies to assist students to effectively learn will be investigated in detail.

023825

Special Education 5: Educating Students with Moderate and High Support Needs
BEd (Spec Ed)
6cp; 3hpw

subject coordinator: N Todd

In this subject participants will critically examine key issues and approaches in the education of people with moderate and high support needs. The assessment of models and tools appropriate for students with moderate and high support needs will be a component of this subject. Use of assessment data to develop individual education programs to meet students' needs across a range of curricula domains will also be examined. Participants will be given the opportunity to evaluate commercially produced curricula. This subject also involves examination of a variety of transition processes that persons with high support needs may be involved in throughout their lives.

023826

Special Education 6: Educating Students with Delayed or Disordered Communication
BEd (Spec Ed)
6cp; 3hpw

subject coordinator: J Jardine

In this subject participants will acquire an understanding of language delays and deficits in the context of current theories of language acquisition in oral and non-oral forms; evaluate the validity, reliability and educational usefulness of commonly used methods of assessment; consider the issues and procedures involved in the choice of a communication system; and identify effective facilitation methods for both oral and non-oral language in a wide range of contexts.

023831

Special Education Practicum I: Assessment, Programming and Evaluation
BEd (Spec Ed)
6cp; 4hpw

subject coordinator: M Goninan

This subject integrates lecture/workshop and field experience components to develop an understanding of the theoretical approaches to programming for people who have learning difficulties and disabilities. It stimulates thinking about the ways in which these approaches have been researched. It explores research designs used in special education, and analyses their validity and efficiency.
023832
Special Education Practicum 2: Collaborative Participation in Inclusive Service Models
BEd (Spec Ed)
6cp; 4hpw
subject coordinator: M Goninan
This subject will examine ways in which services are provided to students with special needs. It will utilise practicum experiences and lecture/workshop sessions to explore delivery systems. In addition, it will focus on how service deliverers and clients can work together to achieve optimum results. There will be a specific focus on the development of collaborative strategies, and an analysis of how these strategies can be used in inclusive service delivery models.

023861
Practicum 1: Exceptional Teaching
BEd (Spec Ed)
6cp; 4hpw
subject coordinator: M Goninan
This subject integrates lecture/workshop and field experience components to develop an understanding of the theoretical approaches to programming for people who have learning difficulties and disabilities. It stimulates thinking about the ways in which these approaches have been researched. It explores research designs used in special education, and analyses their validity and efficiency.

024205
English Education: Drama
BEd T Lib, BTeach/BA
3cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 024202 English Education: Writing; 024203 English Education: Reading
subject coordinator: P March
This subject introduces students to the current issues in the theory and practice of educational drama; evaluates the significance of play and its value in education; examines the nature and utilisation of the creative learning process; examines the function of drama as a learning process and a teaching medium; identifies and explores the basic skills required to work in educational drama; and develops a variety of drama materials and strategies which can be utilised to meet the demands of the English syllabus to promote and develop literacy.

024211
English Education 1
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd/BA
6cp; 3hpw for two semesters
subject coordinators: R Johnston, R Brill
This year-long subject aims to introduce students to the central role played by language in children's intellectual, social and emotional development and to its essential role in all of the key learning areas. A functional view of language underpins the course. This view of language is concerned with relationships between context, language structure and meaning. Students will closely examine a range of factors which influence the acquisition of literate behaviour prior to formal schooling as well as in the emergent literacy and early school curriculum. Children's literature will be used as one context for examining the way language works, as well as providing an opportunity for examining the importance of books for young children and response theory and its implications for the teacher. A broad range of genres will be covered and the crucial importance of language in the key learning areas will be explored.

024212
English Education 2
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd/BA
4cp; 2hpw for two semesters; prerequisite: 024211 English Education 1
subject coordinator: P March
This year-long subject is a follow-on from English Education 1 and focuses on the development of reading and writing K-6. A functional view of language underpins the course. Students will be actively engaged in analysing different texts and contexts and will develop proficiency in planning, implementing, monitoring and evaluating literacy development of children K-6. Students will also be engaged in reading and writing activities of their own. Through a functional approach to learning language, students will come to appreciate a diversity of language contexts within a multicultural society and gain increasing facility in describing how language works, not only in reading and writing but across all of the key learning areas.
024213

English Education 3: Teaching ESL
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: either 024211 English Education 1 or 024212 English Education 2 subject coordinators: L. Ljungdahl, R. Johnston
This one-semester subject develops an understanding of the implications of a multicultural society for TESOL teaching; examines the socio-cultural basis of language and the implications for language methodologies; explores appropriate language pedagogy relevant to the field of TESOL; examines ways of promoting a positive learning environment for the language development of the bilingual/multilingual student; examines assessment techniques for spoken and written language; examines the effectiveness of a language teaching program within the school context; and develops a language for learning across the key learning areas.

024214

English Education 4: Educational Drama
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
4cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: P. March
This one-semester subject will develop a foundation knowledge in the theory and practice of educational drama; explore a variety of drama strategies as an approach for developing literacy; investigate the role of the teacher in developing literacy through drama; develop educational drama resources and teaching materials suitable for use in the school; evaluate the acquired knowledge through talk, reading enactment and writing; and examine the role of educational drama across the key learning areas.

024222

English Education 2A
BEd/BA
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 024211 English Education 1 subject coordinators: P. March/R. Brill
This year-long subject is a follow-on from English Education 1 and focuses on the development of reading and writing K–6. Students will also be engaged in reading and writing activities of their own. Through a functional approach to learning language, students will come to appreciate a diversity of language contexts within a multicultural society and gain increasing facility in describing how language works, not only in reading and writing but across all of the key learning areas. Critical reflection of the role of language in their In-country experience will provide for students the opportunity to better understand the demands of reading, writing and learning in a second language.

024404

English 4: Revolution and Romanticism
BTeach/BEd T Lib
elective major; 4cp; prerequisite: one of 024401–024403 English 1/213
subject coordinator: R. Johnston
This subject introduces students to the social and intellectual forces which shaped English literature in the late 18th and early 19th centuries and compares them with the forces which have shaped modern Western society. It also considers the aesthetic theories which emerged from these social and intellectual forces and examines their embodiment in the literature of Romanticism, and considers relationships between the literature and culture of the Romantic period and that of our own time.
Not offered in 1999.

024405

English 5: Elizabethans and Jacobeans: The Emergence of Modern Language and Literature BTeach/BEd T Lib
elective major 4cp; prerequisites: two of 024401–024404 English 1/213
subject coordinator: R. Johnston
This subject introduces students to the pre-Renaissance ‘world picture’, and considers the social and intellectual forces which began to modify this picture in England in the 16th and 17th centuries, leading to modern concepts of the nature of human beings, society and the universe. It also studies some of the major works of English literature of the Elizabethan and Jacobean periods, in this context, and brings out their relevance for an understanding of modern society, and considers some of the major critical approaches to Elizabethan and Jacobean literature (especially Shakespeare), thus developing an awareness of the way each age interprets the culture of the past in terms of its own needs and insights.

Not offered in 1999.

024411

English Major Study 1: Shapes and Patterns in Literary Narrative from Sendak to Shakespeare

_BEd (Prim)_

6cp

_subject coordinator: R Johnston_

This one-semester subject will introduce the concept of literature as a continuum which includes the fairy tales of the Brothers Grimm and the novels of the Bronte sisters, the children's stories of Maurice Sendak and the plays of William Shakespeare. It will develop and encourage theoretical understandings of literary concepts, of narrative, and of narrative and character patterns and archetypes. A wide range of children's books and other literary texts will be studied, with particular reference to the prescribed texts. Students will be expected to develop and demonstrate an understanding of a range of literary concepts and research skills in the fields of literature and literary theory.

024412

English Major Study 2: Images of Australia: The Place and the People. Literary Representations in Prose, Poetry and Drama

_BEd (Prim)_

6cp

_subject coordinator: R Johnston_

This one-semester subject will introduce a broad study of Australian literature, within a context of the literature of place. There will be considerations of such concepts as: Australia as an alien place, as the place of 'exiles at home'; the bush mystique and the dream of paradise; Aboriginal and multicultural Australia; literary representations of the Australian male ('mates' and the 'dinkum Aussie') and female (a crisis of identity for 'the drover's wife'); mindscape and landscape; and the notion of a 'subjective Australia'. Prose, poetry and drama will be studied. A wide range of material will be discussed, but there will be particular reference to the selected texts. Students will be expected to develop and demonstrate an understanding of a range of literary concepts and research skills in the fields of literature and literary theory.

024413

English Major Study 3: The Literature of Protest: Changing the World

_BEd (Prim)_

6cp

_subject coordinator: R Johnston_

This one-semester subject will introduce considerations of literature not just as art but as agency. The voices of writers have not only changed old worlds, they have shaped new worlds. This course will focus on such changes. Texts as diverse as _Hard Times_ (Dickens) and _One Flew over the Cuckoo's Nest_ (Kesey) will be studied, as will the Romantic poets, T.S. Eliot, George Orwell and Alexander Solzhenitsyn. Two Shakespearian plays will also be studied within a framework of Elizabethan concepts of world order. A wide range of material will be discussed, but there will be particular reference to the selected texts. Students will be expected to develop and demonstrate an understanding of a range of literary concepts and research skills in the fields of literature and literary theory.

024414

English Major Study 4: Cultural and Textual Cross-currents: New Representations and New Voices

_BEd (Prim)_

6cp

_subject coordinator: R Johnston_

This one-semester subject will focus on two different types of appropriation. Firstly, it will study the appropriation of English by the indigenous populations of post-colonial countries, as the chosen language of their unique cultural voice. Secondly it will study the appropriation of texts of the literary 'canon' by moviemakers as they 'take over' and rewrite literature texts for the screen. Several texts will be studied and comparisons will be made between the original texts and cinematic versions of, for example, Shakespeare's plays and the novels of Jane Austen. How these different versions reflect on the original will be explored. A wide range of material will be discussed, but there will be particular reference to the selected texts. Students will be expected to develop and demonstrate an understanding of a range of literary concepts and research skills in the fields of literature and literary theory.
024421

Children's Theatre and the Creative Arts I
BEd (Prim)
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinators: P March and R Johnston
This one semester subject will introduce knowledge and understanding of drama in an historical and cultural context. Its focus is practical and multi-disciplinary and will include the study of the roles of a production process, as well as script-writing and adaptation.

024422

Children's Theatre and the Creative Arts II
BEd (Prim)
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinators: P March and R Johnston
This one semester subject will introduce the student to acting techniques and skills required to perform for children at different stages of development: developing imagination, audibility, voice production, concentration and an awareness of the skills involved in interpreting a role and developing a character. It will also examine some of the genres suitable for presenting to children: pantomime, fable, fairy tale and modern social realism.

024423

Children's Theatre and the Creative Arts III
BEd (Prim)
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinators: P March and R Johnston
This one semester subject will develop understanding about the roles of the producer and the director in the performance process. Other creative arts skills will also be developed as students explore the use of lighting, scenery and costuming for performance. A cross-discipline approach will be utilised as the notion of theatre as collaboration will be highlighted.

024424

Children's Theatre and the Creative Arts IV
BEd (Prim)
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinators: P March and R Johnston
This one semester subject will focus on working towards and presenting a performance for children. The performance may include the multi-disciplinary skills of dance and music and will partially involve the children in the performance so that they will be able to have a total theatre experience. The performance will bring together the students' acting skills, knowledge of theatre forms and expertise in stage management, lighting, scenery and costuming.

024451

Teaching LOTE Major Study 1: Second Language Development
BEd (Prim)
6cp; prerequisite: competence in a language other than English
subject coordinator: L Morgan
This subject is designed to provide an introduction to major theories of second language development. This will include topics on learner differences, observation strategies and social factors affecting second language development. The subject will also focus on issues relating to bilingualism and classroom research into the teaching and learning of languages other than English.

024452

Teaching LOTE Major Study 2: LOTE Curriculum and Methodology
BEd (Prim)
6cp; prerequisite: competence in a language other than English
subject coordinator: L Morgan
This subject is designed to provide an introduction to the methodology of teaching languages other than English. It includes an overview of past and present trends and examines fundamental goals of language learning. The practical application of these theories to the design of communicative tasks is examined in detail.

024453

Teaching LOTE Major Study 3: Developing Communicative Skills in a Second Language
BEd (Prim)
6cp; prerequisite: 024452 Teaching LOTE Major Study 2: LOTE Curriculum and Methodology
subject coordinator: L Morgan
This subject is designed to develop skills in the design of tasks that promote the communicative use of language. This is considered in the context of developing learners’ communicative skills in the written and spoken language, taking into account diverse ranges of abilities and learning styles. The selection, evaluation and exploitation of authentic texts are also studied.

024454
Teaching LOTE Major Study 4: Planning and Evaluation in Second Language Teaching
BEd (Prim)
6cp; prerequisite: 024453 Teaching LOTE Major Study 3: Developing Communicative Skills in a Second Language
subject coordinator: L Morgan
This subject surveys the development of the theoretical basis of LOTE syllabus development in Australia and explores practical issues relating to programming and planning in the LOTE classroom. The subject also examines a range of evaluation procedures and issues relating to the development of valid and reliable assessment schemes in second language teaching.

024701
Approaches to the Teaching of English
BEd (Prim) F/T P/T
5cp; 4hpw for seven weeks
subject coordinator: R Johnston
This subject will evaluate current theories and pedagogies with respect to the teaching of English. An exploration of the English K–6 Syllabus will take place. A functional model and functional grammar will be considered together with ways of integrating English into any already crowded curriculum. Literary theories as they relate to the use of literature in the classroom will be explored. An appreciation for the diversity of language learners and the importance of catering for individual needs will be fostered.

024702
Issues in the Teaching of English (K–6)
BEd (Prim) F/T P/T
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: R Brill
This subject examines the role of the teacher in the development of language skills; examines language across the curriculum; examines the relationship of literature and language, and applies the above factors to specific areas of English curriculum.

024703
Teaching English to International Students
BEd (Prim) F/T P/T
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: R Brill
Offered Autumn semester only.
Compulsory for students wishing to teach English in Inner Mongolia, China and Laos. This subject develops an understanding of the development of a second language, examines a range of practices for teaching English to speakers of other languages and promotes awareness of cultural and linguistic diversity. It requires students to implement an English language program of work with international students. This practical teaching experience can be conducted overseas or at a local site in Australia. Preparation for the practical teaching experience includes an introduction to the culture and language of one of the overseas sites.

024705
Advanced Children's Literature
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 024211 English Education 1; 024212 English Education 2
subject coordinator: R Johnston
This one-semester subject will develop advanced understanding of children's literature texts and of creative and innovative ways to present these texts in a classroom. It will explore the historical sources of children's literature, and will make special reference to the development of Australian children's literature. A wide range of material will be discussed, but there will be particular reference to the selected texts. Students will be expected to develop and demonstrate an understanding of a range of literary concepts and research skills in the fields of literature and literary theory.

024711
Language, Literacy and Education
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib
4cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 024211 English Education 1; 024212 English Education 2
subject coordinator: R Brill
This one-semester subject will consolidate knowledge and teaching applications of the nature of language and literacy in educational practice. It will focus on the nature of language, and on the social factors which affect it. These include age, class, ethnicity and gender. It will also explore the relationships between language and power, and the significance of this for classroom teachers.

024712
Approaches to the Teaching of English (revised)
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: P March
This one-semester subject will evaluate current theories and pedagogies with respect to the teaching of English. A thorough exploration and analysis of the English K-6 Syllabus will take place. A functional model of language will be considered together with ways of integrating English into the curriculum. Literary theories as they relate to using literature in the classroom will be explored. An appreciation of the diversity of language learners and the importance of catering for individual needs will be fostered.

024713
Teaching English to International Students (revised)
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: R Brill
This subject develops students’ understanding of the learning of a second language. It examines a range of practices for teaching English to speakers of other languages and raises awareness of cultural and linguistic diversity. Students devise and implement an English language program with international students. The practical teaching component can be conducted in an overseas context or at a local site in Australia. This subject is offered in Autumn semester only. It is assessed on a ‘Pass’ / ‘Fail’ basis.

025204
Mathematics Education 4
BTeach, BEd T Lib, BTeach/BA
3cp; 3hpw; prerequisite: 025202 Mathematics Education 2
subject coordinator: G Barnsley
This subject develops an appreciation of principles of teaching and learning elementary numeration and number concepts; develops awareness of the need to explicitly consider individual and social issues relating to equality of opportunity in the provision of mathematics education and develops strategies and approaches which will enhance the opportunity of all pupils, regardless of background and gender, to gain access to mathematical knowledge and skills; increases awareness of the pervasive influence of mathematics and ways in which this influence can be addressed in other curriculum areas.

025211
Mathematics Education 1
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
4cp; 3hpw
subject coordinator: S Schuck
This one-semester subject aims to encourage students to become aware of their beliefs about the nature of mathematics and the teaching and learning of mathematics. Students will examine the implications that these beliefs can have for their teaching. Students will consider the importance of reflection about their learning in mathematics and will become familiar with various theories of learning that are dominant in mathematics education. A comparative study of mathematics education in a variety of cultural and historical contexts will emphasise the socio-cultural nature of mathematics. The study of measurement concepts will involve the modelling of participative and collaborative learning approaches.

025212
Mathematics Education 2
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
4cp; 2hpw; for two semesters
subject coordinator: S Schuck
This year-long subject aims to encourage students to use problem-solving approaches in the teaching and learning of mathematics. Students will use problem-solving approaches to develop their own understanding of geometrical and number concepts and to develop strategies and techniques for teaching geometry and number concepts in the primary school. Participative and collaborative learning approaches will be employed and the use of portfolios will be modelled. The link with the practicum will help students to develop the professional insights and competencies necessary for a reflective practitioner teaching mathematics in the primary school.
025213

Mathematics Education 3
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
4cp; 3hpw; prerequisite: 025212 Mathematics Education 2
subject coordinator: G Foley
The subject allows students to further develop their own personal philosophy on the teaching and learning of mathematics; examines the construction of sound methodological principles for the development of concepts in rational number, introductory algebraic concepts, elementary number theory, and basic ideas in probability and statistics; strengthens students' own concepts relating to the topics of rational number, introductory algebraic concepts, elementary number theory, and basic ideas in probability and statistics; identifies and analyses some of the critical issues in contemporary mathematics education, and develops an awareness of their implications for the teaching and learning of mathematics.

025411

Mathematics Major Study 1: Statistics
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: G Barnsley
This subject provides an introduction to the analysis and presentation of data and to elementary concepts, computational procedures and applications of statistics; increases students' awareness of the pervasive influence of statistics and enables them to assist their pupils to acquire knowledge and develop skills which encourage critical evaluation of assertions based on numerical data, particularly in contexts appropriate to the primary and junior secondary school levels; assists students to develop some facility in the interpretation of statistical information in research literature.

025412

Mathematics Major Study 2: Finite Mathematics
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: G Foley
This subject provides an introduction to a selection of finite mathematical structures; develops an awareness of finite mathematical processes and the systematic, logical framework within which quantitative relations can be described and analysed; and develops students' appreciation of some applications of finite mathematical processes in areas which are particularly relevant to primary and junior secondary school levels.

025413

Mathematics Major Study 3: The Historical and Societal Context of Mathematics
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: S Schuck
This one-semester subject highlights the social and historical contexts of learning and teaching mathematics. A deeper understanding of the nature of mathematics will be developed and students will be able to apply their new insights to the teaching of mathematics in the primary school. Students will understand the importance of mathematics in determining the nature of societies, develop greater understanding of the relationships between different branches of mathematics, and appreciate the influence of geography, economics and technology on the development of mathematics. They will develop sensitivity to the cultural, gender and class differences which affect access to mathematics for individual members of communities.

025414

Mathematics Major Study 4: An Introduction to Graph Theory
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: S Schuck
This one-semester subject develops useful mathematical ideas of increasing importance in a technological world. Students will gain insights into the study of graph theory and its applications to problem solving, both in primary school and in other contexts. A deeper understanding of the nature of mathematics will be developed and students will be able to apply their new insights to the teaching of mathematics in the primary school.

025701

Advanced Mathematics Teaching
BEd (Prim) FIT P/T
advanced teaching study
3cp; 4hpw for seven weeks
subject coordinator: G Barnsley
This subject familiarises students with the purposes of assessment of pupils' progress and considers the appropriateness of a variety of assessment procedures including diagnostic instruments; encourages the realisation that all pupils, regardless of different abilities and interests, are entitled to the opportunity to acquire optimum levels of mathematical knowledge and skills; ensures that students are aware of the needs of the talented and the under-achieving pupil; and considers appropriate procedures, strategies, technologies and other resources to support and enhance the mathematical learning of pupils with these special needs.

025702

Remedial Mathematics

BEd (Prim) FIT P/T

advanced teaching study

5cp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: G Foley

In this subject students will: acquire a knowledge of the nature and common causes of children's learning difficulties in mathematics; develop an awareness of various methods of identifying specific concept and skill deficits; develop expertise in the planning and implementation of suitable learning experiences including the use of appropriate resources; and demonstrate a knowledge of strategies and resources for individualising mathematics instruction.

025703

Curriculum and Resource Design in Mathematics

BEd (Prim) FIT P/T

advanced teaching study

5cp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: S Schuck

In this subject students will develop an awareness of theories and research relating to mathematical learning and development, develop skills in the analysis and development of mathematical curricula, and design and evaluate materials for instruction in mathematics.

026202

Music Education 2

BEd T Lib, BTeach/BA

3cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 026201 Music Education 1

subject coordinator: to be advised

Students will develop further skills in music literacy and performance skills; gain an understanding of how skills are acquired; and develop skills in programming for musical concept and skill acquisition in the K–6 classroom.

026211

Music Education 1

BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/IBA

4cp; 3hpw

subject coordinator: to be advised

This subject focuses on the development of basic skills and understandings in music literacy; classroom-based performance skills; and appropriate teaching strategies in the areas of vocalising, movement and playing.

026212

Music Education 2 (revised)

BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/IBA

4cp; 3hpw

subject coordinator: to be advised

In this subject students will develop further skills in music literacy and performance; gain an understanding of how music concepts and performance skills are acquired; and develop skills in programming and lesson planning for musical concept and skill acquisition in the K–6 classroom.

026301

Music and Society

BEd T Lib

general study elective

3cp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: to be advised

The subject develops an awareness that music is both a reflection and a product of the society from which it comes. Musical genres and traditions from a variety of musical cultures will be studied.

026411

Music Major Study 1

BEd (Prim)

6cp; prerequisite: HSC 2–unit Music (or higher, or equivalent)

subject coordinator: to be advised

There are four strands in this one-semester subject. These are Musicianship, Computer Studies in Music, History and Style in Music and an Applied Study. Musicianship is concerned with the establishment of a thorough grounding in the basic skills and abilities of the musician. It focuses upon theoretical knowledge, literacy skills, aural perception and keyboard awareness. Computer Studies in Music introduces students to elements, concepts and skills involved in the notation of music and the creation and manipulation of synthetic music on computers and synthesisers. History and Style takes an overall view of the history of music in Western civilisation. In the Applied Study the student will propose a unit of work in an area of personal interest. This may form part of an extended study.

026412
Music Major Study 2

BEd (Prim)
6cp; prerequisite: 026411 Music Major Study 1 (or equivalent)
subject coordinator: to be advised

There are four strands in this one-semester subject. These are Musicianship, Computer Studies in Music, History and Style and an Applied Study. Musicianship is concerned with the development of skills fundamental to the musician. It focuses upon theoretical knowledge, literacy skills, aural perception and keyboard awareness. It is concerned with the evolving languages peculiar to the fields of traditional and computerised music. Computer Studies in Music focuses upon elements, concepts and skills involved in the notation of music and the creation and manipulation of synthetic music on computers and synthesisers. History and Style is concerned with the developments in music of the late Renaissance and early Baroque. In the Applied Study the student will propose a unit of work in an area of personal interest. This may form part of an extended study.

026413
Music Major Study 3

BEd
6cp; prerequisite: 026412 Music Major Study 2 (or equivalent)
subject coordinator: to be advised

There are four strands in this one-semester subject. These are Musicianship, Computer Studies in Music, History and Style and an Applied Study. Musicianship is concerned with the development of skills fundamental to the musician. It focuses upon theoretical knowledge, literacy skills, aural perception and keyboard awareness. It is concerned with the evolving languages peculiar to the fields of traditional and computerised music. Computer Studies in Music focuses upon elements, concepts and skills involved in the notation of music and the creation and manipulation of synthetic music on computers and synthesisers. History and Style looks at the influences upon, and the influences of, the Classical period. In the Applied Study the student will propose a unit of work in an area of personal interest. This may form part of an extended study.

026414
Music Major Study 4

BEd (Prim)
6cp; prerequisite: 026413 Music Major Study 3 (or equivalent)
subject coordinator: to be advised

There are four strands in this one-semester subject. These are Musicianship, Practical Studies in Music, History and Style in Music and an Applied Study. Musicianship is concerned with the development of skills fundamental to the musician. It focuses upon theories and practices in composition and analysis of the 20th Century. It is concerned with the new languages of this epoch. History and Style looks at major trends of this period. Practical Studies in Music focuses upon rehearsal techniques and conducting skills with ensembles. In the Applied Study the student will propose a unit of work in an area of personal interest. This may form part of an extended study.

026701
Musical Skill Development in the K–6 Classroom

BEd (Prim) FIT P/T
advanced teaching study
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: to be advised

The subject develops an understanding of the nature of musical skill development and concept awareness in the K–6 classroom and provides appropriate activities and teaching techniques pertinent to lesson planning in the classroom.

026702
Music and Society (revised)

BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: to be advised

The subject develops an awareness that music is both a reflection of and a product of the society from which it comes. Music genres and traditions from a variety of musical cultures will be studied.
027203
Physical Education Teaching and Learning 2
BEd T Lib, BTeach/BA
3cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 027202 Physical Education Teaching and Learning 1 or equivalent
subject coordinator: B Tremayne
This subject is designed to develop students' understanding of the NSW K-6 Personal Development, Health and Physical Education (PDHPE) syllabus, specifically in the areas of content strands 7 (Gymnastics) and 8 (Dance). This understanding will involve a knowledge of these two strands, and a development of skills of teaching and classroom management. Students will be expected to be able to integrate these two specialised areas with the rest of the curriculum area, and with education generally.

027204
Personal Development and Health (K–6)
BEd T Lib, BTeach/BA
3cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 027201 Introduction to Personal Development, Health and Physical Education (K–12)
subject coordinator: D Clarke
This subject further develops skills and strategies appropriate to the teaching of personal development and health through micro-teaching and self-evaluation; identifies and utilises sources of current health information; evaluates a variety of available teaching aids, materials and methods; and assists in the design, production, trial and evaluation of the students' own resource materials and methods for the teaching of personal development and health.

027211
Personal Development, Health and Physical Education I
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
4cp; 3hpw
subject coordinator: B Tremayne
This subject aims to develop students' understanding of and positive attitudes to Personal Development, Health and Physical Education (PDHPE) in primary schools. This will involve a thorough analysis of the NSW K-6 PDHPE syllabus, consideration of children's growth and development, and discussion of the relevance of the subject to community health. Flexible learning is accommodated by recognition of students' involvement in syllabus-related topics and/or completion of coaching sessions.

027212
Personal Development, Health and Physical Education 2
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
4cp; 4hpw; prerequisite: 027211 Personal Development, Health and Physical Education I
subject coordinator: B Tremayne
This subject is specifically designed to build upon the experience of PDHPE 1 and allow students to experiment in completing presentations using innovative teaching strategies and resources in an area of their own choice. It deals with topics that are generally considered to be sensitive and difficult to teach, giving students insights into developing teaching skills and analysing their own values. Flexible learning is achieved by students selecting, designing, implementing and reflecting upon their own research project associated with the NSW K-6 PDHPE syllabus.

027411
PDHPE Major Study I: Fundamental Principles of Sports Coaching
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: D Clarke
This subject is designed to provide students with the opportunity to develop, consolidate and apply physical literacy, understanding and skills related to the principles and practices which enhance sports performances. It focuses on the principles of skill acquisition, enhancement and performance and examines the interrelationship between physical activity and the physiological and anatomical development of the individual.

027412
PDHPE Major Study 2: Issues in Sport, Personal Development, Health and Physical Education
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: D Clarke
This subject is designed to challenge assumptions that underlie students' beliefs and ethical principles associated with the practice of personal development, health, physical education and sport in an educational context. It is also designed to develop skills in problem solving, decision making, reflection and critical analysis as they are applied to these areas.

027413

PDHPE Major Study 3: Advanced Principles of Coaching

BEd (Prim)
6cp; prerequisite: 027411 PDHPE Major Study 1: Fundamental Principles of Sports Coaching
subject coordinator: B Tremayne

This subject builds on the subject Fundamental Principles of Sports Coaching by exploring more advanced techniques of the art and science of coaching. This subject will enable students to do the following: understand the role and responsibilities of the sports coach in the school setting; learn about different coaching styles; put theory into practice by conducting an effective coaching session; understand how to develop a season coaching program; and obtain an accredited coaching certificate.

027414

PDHPE Major Study 4: Sports Administration in the School

BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: B Tremayne

This subject explores the basic principles of administration by investigating different sports administration models and structures in education systems. Students will learn the following: leadership styles, how to communicate effectively to staff, students and parents and resolve conflicts; how to plan school athletic/swimming carnivals etc.; and the most effective way to run the school sports afternoon based on the needs of the school concerned.

027702

Values Education in the Primary School

BEd (Prim) FIT PIT
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: D Clarke

This subject helps students to critically analyse literature related to the theory and practice of values education; analyse contemporary issues and current trends in educational policy and their implications for values education in the primary school curriculum; develop an understanding of theories of moral and social development; devise strategies for developing values education through a personal development, health and physical education curriculum that has societal, cultural and community relevance; and develop skills in teaching values in the primary curriculum.

027703

Personal Development, Health and Physical Education Research Project

BEd (Prim) FIT PIT
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: B Tremayne

This subject helps students to develop fundamental research skills; apply technical and research skills in the investigation of a chosen project of personal and professional relevance in the area of personal development, health and physical education; and develop a scholarly approach to the delivery of project findings.

027706

Sports Science and Education

BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib advanced study elective
6cp; 3hpw
subject coordinator: B Tremayne

This subject is designed to enable students to identify and learn the basics of sports science; understand the principles and practices of curriculum design and implementation for team and individual sports; investigate the latest developments in sports science; analyse how these developments can be applied to the school situation; and apply these developments in a practical situation.
028203
Science and Technology Education 3
BTeach, BEd T Lib, BTeach/BA
3cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 028202 Science and Technology Education 2
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject helps students to investigate different teaching approaches and make informed decisions as to their use; investigate different teaching strategies, applying them to the development of units of work which promote concept, skill and attitude development; match the teaching approach to the purpose of the unit of work; select and organise materials and resources for use in schools; investigate educational resources which can be used in the learning of science and technology outside the classroom; and select content, contexts and investigations which are relevant to the learner.
Not offered in 1999.

028204
Science and Technology Education 4
BEd T Lib, BTeach/BA
3cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 028203 Science and Technology Education 3
subject coordinator: J Griffin
This subject helps students to select appropriate teaching and learning strategies for selected topics; investigate different programs for science and technology in the primary school and plan a full years' program for a specified grade; plan enrichment activities to cater for the needs of all the children in the class; and build assessment and evaluation procedures into the classroom program.

028211
Science and Technology Education 1 (revised)
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
4cp; 4hpw; prerequisite: 028211 Science and Technology Education 1
subject coordinator: G Segal
This semester-long subject assists students to learn and teach science and technology in the primary school. Throughout this subject, students will be encouraged to articulate, reflect on and develop their personal theories of learning and teaching science and technology in the primary school. Students will develop their understanding of the nature of science and technology, of modern theories of learning and teaching science and technology, and of research that informs those understandings. Students will learn how to access information in a variety of forms from a range of sources and how to critically evaluate information and ideas — a preparation for lifelong learning and for developing scientific, technological, information and language literacies. Science and Technology Education locates learning and teaching in intellectual, practical, creative, social, gender-inclusive and culturally sensitive contexts.

028212
Science and Technology Education 2 (revised)
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
4cp; 4hpw; prerequisite: 028211 Science and Technology Education 1
subject coordinator: J Griffin
Science and Technology Education 2 builds on students’ learning in Science and Technology Education 1 and continues to assist students to become lifelong learners. Science and Technology Education 2 guides students in their use of the discipline’s major forms of inquiry (creation of new ideas and using established knowledge) and passes an increasing responsibility for learning to the student. Students will be able to develop a learning unit in science and technology for a particular primary class. In requiring students to use a variety of sources (including the Internet) for accessing, analysing and evaluating information, Science and Technology Education 2 contributes to the development of students’ literacies in science and technology, information and language. As with Science and Technology Education 1, Science and Technology Education 2 locates learning and teaching in intellectual, practical, creative, social, gender-inclusive and culturally sensitive contexts. Hence Science and Technology Education will have played its part in assisting students to gain access to research, theories, practices and experiences so that they might later become ethical and committed primary school teachers and/or scholars and researchers in this field.

028301
Australian Natural History
BTeach, BEd T Lib, BTeach/BA
general elective
3cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: to be advised
In this subject students will investigate the interrelationships of geology, climate and living organisms in a number of different Australian environments. They will develop skills in critically analysing land-use management programs involving our natural heritage. This subject is not offered to those students who are undertaking the Science and Technology elective.

028302
Science and Technology in Australia
BEd T Lib, BTeach/BA
general elective
3cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: G Segal

This subject aims to develop student teachers' ideas about the nature of science and technology, their intimate relationship, and the effects they have in modern society. Students study a selection of the technologies that have been important in Australia's development and are used in today's Australia, and will be increasingly useful in the technological Australia of the future. Another objective is for student teachers to analyse the models of teaching and learning which are used throughout the subject.

028411
Science and Technology Major Study 1: The Human Body
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: J Griffin

This subject will take a multidisciplinary approach to the learning of science and technology content. As the workings of the human body are studied, a number of physical and chemical principles will be encountered. Where possible, examples of these same principles in the 'physical' world will also be investigated. The bulk of the subject will be addressed using a cooperative learning approach in which students achieve their own individual goals by working in combination with others. An interactive approach to learning will allow each group to investigate their own questions in a way chosen by them.

028412
Science and Technology Major Study 2: Science and Technology in Daily Life
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: J Griffin

This subject is designed to provide students with a sound knowledge base from which to draw, as well as a working understanding of the processes and skills of science and technology. It looks specifically at the workings of everyday items and processes, and emphasises Australian scientific endeavour. The emphasis is on broadening and extending understanding in science and technology through an integrated approach which removes disciplinary boundaries.

028413
Science and Technology Major Study 3: Issues in Science, Technology and Society
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: G Segal

This subject aims to develop student teachers' ideas about the nature of science and technology and its impact on society. Students will investigate issues embedded in a range of contexts - social, cultural, political, historical and economic. Ethical considerations will be raised in order to present a reasoned and informed understanding of the issues. Students will acquire knowledge and appreciation of the contribution made to the field of science and technology in Australia and in other cultures. A range of indigenous and appropriate technologies will also be studied. Students will have opportunities to investigate areas of personal interest as part of the assessment criteria. As prospective primary teachers, students will be able to select appropriate strategies for the students in their care, based on an informed understanding of issues relating to science, technology and society.

028414
Science and Technology Major Study 4: Planet Earth
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: G Segal

This subject develops an overall view of the structure and systems of planet Earth incorporating information gained from all science disciplines. Students will study interrelationships between biological and physical systems, a range of environments with particular emphasis on the Australian environment and investigate global issues relating to responsible environmental management. Students will have opportunities to investigate areas of personal interest as part of the assessment criteria. As prospective primary teachers, students will be able to select appropriate strategies for the students in their care, based on an informed understanding of issues relating to this planet.

028415

Science and Technology Major Study 5: Knowledge Engineering

BEd (Prim)

subject coordinator: L. Schaverien

This semester-long subject aims to engage students actively in carefully chosen cybernetic contexts, known to be of cultural and personal value, so they can gain insight into ways knowledge is made. Students will undertake sustained exploration and design within selected technological contexts, making artefacts and developing their explanations and understandings of them. To develop their understanding of their projects, students will draw on other computer-mediated resources (e.g. the Internet) and they will use biological metaphors for thinking which are current in neuroscience and artificial intelligence research. In these ways, students will be able to examine and refine their ideas about how we come to know in ways which will be fruitful for classroom teaching.

028701

Curriculum Planning in Science and Technology

BEd (Prim) FIT PIT

general elective

Scp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 028204 Science and Technology Education 4 or equivalent

subject coordinator: J. Griffin

This subject helps students to consolidate and build upon aspects of learning and teaching science and technology; consider the purpose of learning science and technology in the primary classroom and develop a position on the purposes of science and technology education; devise a plan for the development of whole-school science and technology education in the primary school and incorporate enrichment activities into the school program; and undertake an in-depth study of science and technology education which is of special interest to them.

028702

Teaching Science and Technology

BEd (Prim) FIT PIT

Scp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: G. Segal

In this subject students will develop criteria for the evaluation of science and technology education curriculum materials; analyse some recent research in primary science and technology education; acquire skills in primary science and technology education teaching; analyse learning theory and its application to classroom teaching in science and technology education; and demonstrate an ability to modify activities and teaching units to conform to specified objectives. This subject is suitable for teachers who have little background in science and technology.

028703

Environmental Education

BEd (Prim) FIT PIT

Scp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: K. Walker

This subject helps students to develop an understanding of the nature of our total environment – physical, natural, economic, social and political; develop an appreciation of, and concern for, the quality of the total environment; demonstrate an understanding of the aims of environmental education and justify its inclusion in the primary school; design an environmental education program demonstrating how it is integrated across the curriculum; demonstrate a knowledge of teaching strategies and techniques appropriate to achieving the aims of environmental education; demonstrate an understanding of topical environmental issues; and analyse and discuss these issues in an informed way.

028713

Environmental Education (revised)

BEd (Prim), BEd T Lib, BEd (Spec Ed)

advanced study elective

Scp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: K. Walker

This subject develops an understanding of the nature of the total environment – natural, social, political and economic. Students will acquire an understanding and awareness of the way humans interact with their environment and the impact these demands have on the environment. Through environmental education, students can acquire appropriate knowledge, skills and attitudes which will enable them to participate in environmental decision making in an informed manner. In this subject, topical environmental issues are discussed using a variety of strategies. As prospective primary teachers, students will be able to develop appropriate learning programs which demonstrate the cross-curricular nature of environmental education. Assignments are based around students identifying an environmental issue of personal importance or interest and through investigation of this issue, the development of an action plan.

029202
Social Studies Education 2
BEd T Lib, BTeach/BA
3cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 029201 Social Studies Education 1
subject coordinator: K Amos
This subject relates the theory and practice of social studies to the development of children in the K-6 age group. It also develops skills in school planning and programming; and develops competence in the evaluation of resources and in the preparation of units of work.
Assessment: major assignment 30 per cent; group presentation 30 per cent; examination 40 per cent.

029211
Social and Environmental Education
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
6cp; 3hpw Autumn semester; 2hpw; Spring semester
subject coordinator: K Amos
This full-year subject develops a student's understanding of the NSW primary curriculum area of Human Society and its Environment. Students acquire proficiency in planning, presenting, assessing and evaluating pupils’ learning experiences at the K-6 age-grade levels, consistent with current syllabus approaches. They will also be encouraged to critically reflect on the wider challenges of preparing Australian school children to become community, national and global citizens.

029311
Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander History and Cultures
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
4cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: J Lukabyo
This subject aims to encourage students to develop historical and cultural knowledge about the Australian Indigenous peoples as well as skills that would enhance their classroom discourse in teaching Aboriginal studies in accordance with principles set out in the primary curriculum. They will also become familiar with historical and current political issues pertaining to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders, especially those that affect the education of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children. They will develop understanding and appreciation of Aboriginal culture and its significant impact upon the learning style of Aboriginal children. The link with the practicum will help students to develop the professional insights and appropriate competencies necessary for a conscientious practitioner teaching a social science subject such as Aboriginal studies in the primary school.

029312
Australian Studies
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib, BEd/BA
4cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Amos
This year-long subject aims to give students perspectives on Australia and its development in keeping with the need to have teachers who understand the complex nature of the society in which they will act as a major source of Australian culture, customs and tradition. It is also consistent with the strong Australian emphasis contained in the key learning area of human society and its environment. In addition, it examines, through its interdisciplinary approach, content and issues concerning Australia in other key learning areas.

029410
International Major
BEd (Prim)
24cp; one complete semester
subject coordinator: R Brill
The International Major is designed to enhance students’ cultural awareness and understanding through first hand experience of living and studying in a non-English speaking culture. It provides students with the opportunity to spend one semester at an overseas university studying the language and culture of the host country and participating in Education subjects which are taught in the English language. Students will visit schools in the host country as well as undertaking excursions to places of cultural and historical significance.

The number of places available in the International Major will be determined by the number of overseas students wishing to spend an equivalent semester on exchange studying at UTS. If there are more applications for the International Major than there are places available a ballot will be held to allocate places.

Students undertaking the International Major will be responsible for meeting their own travel and living expenses for the semester abroad. Normal HECS arrangements apply but there are no extra tuition fees. Host institutions include Jonkoping University and Linkoping University in Sweden and the University of Maribor in Slovenia. The International Major takes place in Semester 5 of the Bachelor of Education program.

Not offered in 1999.

029411
History Major Study 1: Australia to 1900
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: K Amos

This subject uses the approaches and methods of history as a discipline to examine the foundations of Australian society, pre-1788 to 1901. Students are exposed to differing interpretations and given the opportunity to use and evaluate a variety of relevant sources, including field sites.

029412
History Major Study 2: Australia in the 20th Century
BEd (Prim)
6cp; prerequisite: 029411 History Major Study 1: Australia to 1900
subject coordinator: K Amos

This subject uses the approaches and methods of history as a discipline to examine the development of Australian society in the 20th century. Students are exposed to differing interpretations and given the opportunity to use and evaluate a variety of relevant sources, including oral history.

029413
History Major Study 3: Europe in the 20th Century
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: K Amos

The specific content of this subject will present students with major issues about the nature of modern society raised by the history of Europe in the 20th century. Assessment will be by essay, tutorial presentation and final examination.

029414
History Major Study 4: Aspects of Asia from Ancient Times to the More Recent Past
BEd (Prim)
6cp
subject coordinator: K Amos

This subject will engage students with Asian history and, by implication, with the cultures of Asia. It will demonstrate the diversity and achievements of Asian civilisation and enable students to study Asian history at significant points from ancient times up to the more recent past. Assessment will be by essay, tutorial presentation and final examination.

029701
Aboriginal Studies
BEd (Prim) FIT P/T
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Amos

This subject explores the Aboriginal experience in Australia from the time of earliest known habitation to the present day, to provide an enhanced understanding of Aboriginal history, culture and race relations with non-Aboriginal Australians. Knowledge and attitudes so gained are applied to the task of developing a range of strategies and awareness of suitable resources to teach Aboriginal studies at the K-6 level.

Assessment: objective test 30 per cent; essay 20 per cent; assignment 50 per cent.
029702
Teaching Social Studies: An Intercultural Approach
BEd (Prim) F/T P/T
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Dr K Amos
This subject focuses on the attitudes, knowledge and skills required to design, implement and evaluate programs for intercultural understanding. It enables students to: gain knowledge of the multicultural nature of Australian society and the classroom; understand the psychological, cultural and linguistic needs of children in the multicultural classroom; clarify objectives for classroom policies (including policies in language across the curriculum) which will promote intercultural understanding; acquire skills in programming social studies in the culturally diverse classroom; evaluate critically existing programs and resources; and develop a set of teaching resources for use in the multicultural classroom.

029703
Family History
BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: B Robertson
This is an Advanced Studies Elective designed to provide students with skill in basic historical research, together with an appreciation and understanding of the achievements of people in earlier times.

029704
Initiatives and Innovations in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Education
BEd (Prim), BEd T Lib, BEd (Spec Ed)
6cp; 2hpw; subject coordinator: J Lukcobyo
Initiatives and Innovations in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Education will provide substantial insight into the current issues, policies and pedagogy in the field of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander education. The aim of the subject is to provide knowledge and essential support for the teacher in the field of indigenous education and to invite the teacher to use this insight to reconceptualise their own perspective and understanding of knowledge-sharing within the context of culture.

Students will explore the history of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Education in Australia and be made aware of the supportive role of various Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander educational organisations and networks. The role of teachers as agents of change and the associated responsibilities of the educator in relation to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community consultation will be addressed, emphasising the observance of cultural protocols and how teachers can be collaborative learners in the enterprise of education.

A comparative overview of developments in indigenous education in countries such as Canada, USA and New Zealand will assist students in understanding the global indigenous education experience and how indigenous scholars and educators have contributed to education generally.
POSTGRADUATE SUBJECTS

University Teaching and Learning
6cp
This subject will enable participants to develop and critically reflect on their professional expertise by enhancing their confidence and skills in fostering educational change. Participants will develop their understanding of university teaching and learning including: teaching methods and learning activities; assessment; course design; and flexible learning. Participants will be encouraged to reflect on their own teaching approaches and have opportunities to become familiar with a variety of innovations in university education. They will be required to select an aspect of their own teaching, subjects or course on which to base a negotiated development project.

01011
The Academic Profession
3cp
This subject is designed to develop an insight into the academic profession and foster an appreciation of the broader context within which university learning and teaching occurs. It aims to encourage participants to reflect on their own academic roles, careers and discipline areas and their understanding of higher education issues in the light of recent developments and perspectives offered by the literature. Participants can use a negotiated assignment to explore issues of relevance to their own academic careers and interests within the broad context of the subject, and are required to further develop their academic portfolios.

01012
Student Learning and Evaluation
3cp
This subject is in two modules. The Student Learning module will encourage participants to reflect on all aspects of their teaching from the perspective of research in student learning, including the ways students go about their study, the influences of learning environments on students’ approaches to learning, and relations between learning approaches and the quality of the learning outcome. Assessment involves participants investigating aspects of their students’ learning. The Evaluating to Improve Student Learning module will enable participants to use this knowledge, and a range of other evaluative approaches, to thoughtfully evaluate their teaching and, where appropriate to aspects of their teaching and subjects. Participants in this module complete a negotiated evaluation project.

01013
Exploring Adult Basic Education Practice
GradDipABE
6cp; 2hpw
This subject provides participants with some concepts and strategies to critique their own practice in the broader socio-cultural and political contexts in which they work. A critical perspective on taken-for-granted concepts such as pedagogy and practice is explored. Participants undertake a limited field study in their own classrooms in which they explore some aspect of the impact of the wider society on their own practice.

01020 Foundations of Adult Education
GradDipABE
6cp; 2hpw
This subject aims to bring together the theories about adults as learners which are central to all subjects in the course. Adult learning theory is critically considered in terms of these understandings, and different approaches to adult education are studied. Participants are encouraged to recognise the values and assumptions which guide these different approaches and, from this, to recognise their own guiding values and assumptions. A second area of focus is on increasing participants’ awareness of the scope and future direction of adult basic education provision within Australia and overseas.

01023
Adult Teaching and Learning
GradCert AdultEd Community
6cp; 2hpw
In this subject participants will be encouraged to survey certain adult learning principles and a number of adult learning theories. This will lead to a review of teaching and learning techniques which place an emphasis on facilitation and dialogue and which draw on the theories and practice of educators with experience in the fields of community development and social action.
010157
Teaching and Learning in Adult Numeracy
GradDipABE
6cp
This subject engages participants in thinking about numeracy from three perspectives: as a learner of numeracy; as a practitioner in ABE; and as a citizen in society. The question 'why numeracy?' is considered in the contexts of these three perspectives. The subject seeks to illustrate that numeracy is more than being able to perform mathematical operations. Learning numeracy will be explored as a process of meaning-making and problem-posing. Teaching numeracy will be critically examined by problematising the 'discipline' of numeracy, and numeracy teaching and learning in their historical contexts. It will then be explored as a process involving negotiation, provocation, and facilitation of learning.

011001
Perspectives on Public Education
GradCert in Public Education
6cp; 2hpw; corequisite: 011002 Communication Strategies for Public Policy
This subject aims to develop participants' understanding of professional practice in public education. It provides a number of perspectives on the field including adult learning, community education, policy analysis and public communications and examines the range and extent of public education campaigns.

011002
Communication Strategies for Public Policy
GradCert in Public Education
6cp; 2hpw; corequisite: 011001 Perspectives on Public Education
This subject develops participants' competencies in the analysis of public policy for the identification of communication challenges and the design of appropriate strategies for effective public education campaigns. Participants will develop research, planning and evaluation skills for the design of these strategies, liaising with clients in the workplace. They will practise writing media releases and design other publicity products for the implementation of their strategies.

011003
Adult Learning and Community Action
GradCert in Public Education
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 011001 Perspectives on Public Education; 011002 Communication Strategies for Public Policy, corequisite: 011004 Case Studies in Public Education
This subject introduces participants to the major theories that inform the practice of adult education in Australia and examines how adult learning can arise from, contribute to, and be embedded in, public campaigns and social and community action.

011004
Case Studies in Public Education
GradCert in Public Education
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 011001 Perspectives on Public Education; 011002 Communication Strategies for Public Policy; corequisite: 011003 Adult Learning and Community Action
This subject provides an opportunity for participants to consolidate their understanding of professional practice in public education by analysing case studies in public education. The subject is seminar-based and participants critically review the design of a selected campaign, its strategies, their implementation and evaluation.

013205
Adult Communication Management and Team Work
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Carl Rhodes
In this subject the adult communication management perspective is used to examine applied theory and research on developing a team-focused, contemporary organisation. In particular, team leadership and strategies for building and maintaining best performing teams are investigated.

013206
Adult Communication Management and Organisation Frames
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Carl Rhodes
In this subject the adult communication management perspective is used to examine the applicability of a select number of organisational frames for mapping and transforming the culture of human systems. In particular, variables influencing the successful implementation of specific frames for organisational design and analysis are investigated.

013210

Skill Learning and the Development of Expertise

MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Ian Cornford
Skill learning and effective performance are important concerns of all adult learners but particularly those engaged in vocational education. This subject aims to provide insights into the different phases of skill learning and the stages in the development of expertise to assist adult educators to better understand, plan for and teach skill development in their specialist subject areas and help in their own development as expert teachers.

013214

Education Evaluation – Plans and Procedures

MEd
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 013350 Issues in Educational Evaluation
subject coordinator: James Athanasou
This subject is designed to provide opportunities for students to develop the practical skills needed to conduct a theoretical understanding of program evaluations across a range of adult education and training contexts.

013215

Adult Career Development

MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: James Athanasou
This subject aims to provide participants with a range of perspectives on adult educational and vocational development. It focuses on some of the key facts which influence the course of post-compulsory education and adult careers. Topics include theories of career choice and career development as well as the interaction of employment, education and training in Australia.

013216

Program Development in Adult Career Education

MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Malcolm McKenzie
This subject ensures that participants develop the core adult career education practitioner competencies for designing and facilitating adult career experiences. It is designed to promote an understanding of the theory and practice of career education curriculum and program development from adult education perspectives. The subject emphasises advanced career programming skills to meet the needs of clients.

013217

Adult Career Guidance and Counselling

MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Lann Dawes
This subject will enable participants to develop knowledge and understanding of guidance and career counselling skills, tools and protocols and to apply these skills in practice. It is designed to focus on the practitioner as a facilitator of educational and vocational development.

013313

Academic and Professional Literacies

MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Alison Lee
The subject will cover the broad debates within the field of literacy studies with a particular focus on literacy within university teaching and learning and literacy practices in professional settings, as well as on the relationship between these. The subject aims to develop students’ understandings of the centrality of reading and writing practices to learning and work. It seeks to broaden students’ understandings of literacy away from a notion of generic skills towards a more contextualised and integrated conceptualisation. This shift, in turn, has important implications for teaching in all areas. The impact of new technologies and in particular the new information technologies on literacy in learning in universities and workplaces will be an important focus.
013314

Adult Development and Learning

MEd

6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Mark Tennant

This subject aims to help students to engage critically with the psychological literature on the development of identity during adulthood. The subject is motivated by a concern with how adult education can effect both personal and social change, but with an emphasis on individual subjective change and the extent to which it is intertwined with social change. The central theme is the nature of identity change and transformation and the role of education in this process. The subject explores the way in which psychology has attempted to introduce the social into its theorising. Early attempts in developmental psychology and psychoanalysis are evaluated. Recent work is analysed which attempts to respond to the critique of post-modern theory. A link is then made with existing practices in adult education which, intentionally or otherwise, imply a view of the process of identity change and the role of educational intervention. The potential of adult education as a vehicle for self-transformation is then explored.

013315

Autobiography and Lifelong Learning

MEd

6cp; 2hpw

This subject is designed to provide students with the opportunity to become familiar with current thinking about autobiographical approaches to lifelong learning and to experience the process of writing and reflecting on their own educational life history.

013316

Concepts of Flexible, Open and Distance Learning

MEd

6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Viktor Jakupec

This subject introduces students to theoretical and practical concepts of flexible, open and distance education. It encourages the process of critical self-reflection which is important to good educational practice. Through the concept of critical self-reflection this subject enables the students to understand other students in the learning process in a context of various institutions and organisations in which they work. The subject has the broad aim of developing awareness of the wide diversity of people and practices involved in flexible, open and distance education through a critical study of some of its literature. The idea of flexible, open and distance education raised in this subject enables students to address theoretical and practical issues and processes relevant to interaction in educational and training settings.

013317

Course Development in Higher and Professional Education

MEd

6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: David Boud

This subject is designed to further develop students' knowledge and skills in the design, implementation and evaluation of educational programs in higher and professional education contexts.

013318

Culture Difference and Curriculum

MEd

6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Rick Flowers

Planning education and training for people with different needs is a central political challenge for those concerned in building a just and democratic society. It is a popular assumption that people of 'different' cultural backgrounds have different educational needs. This subject critically examines this notion that difference can usefully be defined by culture, and looks also at such factors as class, history, identity, gender and politics. The subject links debates about culture and difference directly to the practice of planning curriculum which will meet the needs of groups with marginal or minority status.

013319

Educational and Organisational Leadership I

MEd

6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Bob Pithers

This subject should enable students to develop their understanding of current educational and organisational leadership as applied to a range of people and contexts. Effective leadership is required to meet most educational and organisational challenges, including learning and other forms of change management; otherwise, the organisation may not stay competitive. This subject is one of the core subjects for this major and it may also be taken alone.

013320

Educational and Organisational Leadership 2

MED

6cp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: Bob Pithers

The subject Educational and Organisational Leadership 2 should continue to enable students to develop their understanding of current educational and organisational leadership as applied to a range of people and contexts. Its focus is educational and organisational leadership in practice, including strategies and tactics. This subject is the second of the core subjects for this major.

013322

Learning in Flexible, Open and Distance Education

MED

6cp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: Viktor Jakupec

This subject provides students with the necessary understanding of issues concerning learning and teaching in flexible, open and distance education. The subject is structured so that learning and teaching are problematised and at the same time it allows students to reflect on their own practice and the position they wish to take in flexible, open and distance education. Students will be introduced to the nature of education and to competing perspectives on teaching and learning, ranging from vocational education to liberal and humanistic concepts of education and subsequently to the critical social perspective of education. Students will be encouraged to review and reflect on their own learning experiences and to debate various models of student learning.

013323

Forms and Traditions in Popular Education

MED

6cp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: Mike Newman

Popular education refers to education and learning which serve the interests of ordinary people and are controlled by them. It includes education and learning associated with social movements of all kinds, such as the women’s, workers’, indigenous people’s and environmental movements. It embraces education and learning connected with social justice and social action. This subject will examine contemporary manifestations of popular education and learning as well as earlier traditions, especially those connected with the great emancipatory movements of the 19th and 20th centuries: the workers’, women’s, anti-colonial, environmental and peace movements. Popular education is an underdeveloped area of study. Consequently this subject is explicitly theoretical and scholarly. One of its purposes is to provide preparation for research degrees in the field. An associated subject, Pedagogy and Curriculum in Popular Education, will focus on popular education practice. These two subjects, together with three others – The Economics and Politics of Adult Learning, International Perspectives on Education and Development, and Culture, Difference and Curriculum – provide a concentrated course of study in popular education designed for both Australian and international students.

013324

International Perspectives on Education and Development

MED

6cp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: Rick Flowers

The subject will examine relationships of education, learning and economic and social development from a global perspective, focusing in particular on the distribution of wealth and poverty. The subject will examine competing meanings given to the notion of development and a range of perspectives on how education does and can contribute to development. Emphasis will be placed on studying experiences and issues of development and education from the perspective of Third World peoples.

013325

Issues in Assessment

MED

6cp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: Tony Holland

The subject is designed to provide educators occupying strategic and higher level positions with a theoretical framework so that they can evaluate assessment practices and policies in their own context. Students will be able to systematically and critically reflect on assessment practices in their chosen field and learn from their experience and that of others.

013326
Lifelong Learning: Psychological Perspectives

MEd
6cp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: Ian Cornford

Maintenance of currency of knowledge and skills has been made difficult by technological and economic revolutions. This subject aims to create awareness of a range of cognitive learning strategies needed for effective lifelong learning. It will examine the links between skill, will and self-regulation and provide the knowledge and skills to assist adult educators to teach selected cognitive learning strategies necessary for effective lifelong learning to their students and to use these strategies themselves.

013327
Post-Compulsory and Vocational Education and Training Reform

MEd
6cp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: Ian Cornford

This subject aims to provide an overview of recent policy developments in the areas of post-compulsory and vocational education. It is also intended to develop critical skills of analysis and evaluation in order that those taking the subject are better equipped to implement relevant new policies and engage in informed debate in policy development stages.

013328
Practice and Pedagogy in Popular Education

MEd
6cp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: Mike Newman

Much is said and written in popular education circles about the virtues of working in participatory ways and pursuing emancipatory goals. Less is said about the complexities of engaging with the practice and pedagogy of popular education. In this subject students will study and practise a range of pedagogical strategies and tools used by people and groups who engage in popular education. Particular attention will be paid to the theoretical influence of Paulo Freire and the strategies and tools he advocated and inspired.

013329
Text, Media and Technologies

MEd
6cp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: Viktor Jakupec

This subject provides students with an understanding of issues concerning texts, media and technologies in flexible, open and distance education. Its aim is to enable students to conceptualise these issues and to provide them with the skills required to become critical practitioners, interested in what is represented and produced in flexible, open and distance education. It will focus on flexibility and openness in education and training in broad national and social contexts in which texts, media and technologies are used in education and training for socially disadvantaged students, as well as in the industrialised world.

013330
Transformative Learning and Spiritual Traditions

MEd
6cp; 2hpw

subject coordinator: Alex Nelson

Theories and practices of adult learning offer diverse explanations for personal and social transformation. Likewise, major spiritual traditions, indigenous spiritualities, feminist and environmental spiritualities, religious cults, and New Age theories and practices also propose ways of transformative learning. This subject provides scope for adult educators to appreciate and critically evaluate diverse approaches in both these domains of learning and education, and to explore the relation of tradition and experience in transformative learning. Students will have an opportunity to explore questions of significance for personal and social transformation in their learning and teaching experience and to integrate their learning.

013331
Women and Learning

MEd
6cp; 2hpw

Sue Knights

This subject is designed to provide students with an understanding of the needs of women learners in adult education. Drawing on a range of literature from women's studies and adult education, students will explore the implication of feminist approaches to learning and the implications for their own practice as adult educators.

013332
Understanding Adult Education and Training
MEd
6cp; 2hpb
subject coordinator: Griff Foley
The subject aims to assist adult educators to think more clearly about their work and to act on it more effectively. The subject begins with an exploration of students' practical theories and conceptual frameworks. Students are then introduced to a variety of theories relating to the core activities of teaching, group work, learning facilitation, program design and evaluation, policy formation and implementation. The subject also examines debates related to such significant contemporary issues as the relationship of adult education and workplace change, and the mass media as a force for propaganda or education. The subject enables students to make the transition to postgraduate study by providing them with opportunities to write in both experiential and scholarly ways.

013333
Adult Learning and Program Development
MEd
6cp; 2hpb
subject coordinator: Sue Knights
This subject allows students to explore the skills needed to become competent in designing and facilitating adult learning experiences and to become familiar with significant literature in this area. It provides an introduction to the areas of adult learning and program development for students with no previous academic experience in these areas.

013334
The Economics and Politics of Adult Learning
MEd
6cp; 2hpb
subject coordinator: Griff Foley
This subject is designed to help people to understand the impact of politics, economics and sociology on adult education and learning. Particular attention will be paid to the following issues: the historical development of economic theory and policy; human capital theory and vocational education; economic crisis, globalisation and adult education; workplace learning; the mass media, consumerism and adult learning; popular movements and adult learning.

013335
Australian Adult Education: Influences and Tendencies
MEd
6cp; 2hpb
subject coordinator: Roger Morris
This subject is designed to enable students to clarify their own personal beliefs about adult education by providing opportunities for them to develop a sound understanding of the historical and social contexts of Australian adult education.

013336
Contemporary Issues in Adult Education
MEd
6cp; 2hpb; prerequisite: 013332 Understanding Adult Education and Training
This subject is designed to provide an opportunity for the student to consider in some depth a range of emerging and sometimes contentious issues in adult education. Skill in critically analysing significant issues in the field will be promoted.

013337
Managing Change in Adult Education
MEd
6cp; 2hpb
subject coordinator: Geoff Scott
This subject will enable teachers, trainers and managers in a range of educational contexts to manage the change process in education more efficiently and effectively. Practice-based research on effective management of program change and on how best to develop a workplace supportive of continuous improvement and innovation will be outlined, illustrated and tested. The attributes of effective change leaders will be discussed and the implications for students identified. The subject addresses the urgent need to enhance educators' capability to manage the relentless demands for change now faced by all educational institutions and groups across Australia.
013339
Skills, Technology and Workplace Learning
MED
6cp, 2hpw
subject coordinator: Laurie Field
This subject examines a number of issues relating to the links between skill formation and changing workplace technologies. Specific focuses include changing skill requirements, the social dimension of skill, factors that influence choices about technology and ways in which technology is used to control us to facilitate learning.

013340
Higher Level Competencies in Adult Education
MED
6cp, 2hpw
subject coordinator: Paul Hager
Competency-based learning is receiving increasing attention in Australia and will continue to do so as issues to do with economic and workplace restructuring and educational accountability dominate the adult education agenda in Australia over the next decade. This subject will develop students’ capacity to design and critically analyse competency-based adult education programs.

013341
Policy Analysis in Adult Education
MED
6cp, 2hpw
subject coordinator: John McIntyre
The subject aims to increase students’ ability to analyse policy and critically respond to policy changes in adult education by having students deepen their understanding of the policy process, develop frameworks for the critical analysis of policy activity and carry out policy-related research.

013342
Ethics and Leadership in Adult Education Administration
MED
6cp, 2hpw
subject coordinator: Andrew Gonczi
This subject will examine organisations from various perspectives with a view to helping adult educators/trainers function more effectively in their particular environments. Emphasis will be placed on the impact of different organisational theories and the implications of these for the management function in adult education. Particular emphasis will be placed on the role of ethics in educational decision making.

013343
Adult Communication Management 1
MED
6cp, 2hpw
subject coordinator: Carl Rhodes
In this subject participants develop their ability to apply the adult communication management conceptual framework to professional practice. Particular attention is given to core abilities: language, nonverbal communication, listening, assertiveness and inter-cultural communication competence.

013344
Adult Communication Management 2
MED
6cp, 2hpw;
subject coordinator: Carl Rhodes
In this subject the adult communication management perspective is used to examine applied theory and research on management practices and organisational development strategies. In particular, the various roles of the communication manager in learning organisations and systems are investigated.

013346
Computer-Mediated Adult Education and Training
MED
6cp, 2hpw
subject coordinator: Viktor Jakupec
In this subject students are introduced to various concepts, approaches and research findings in Computer-Mediated Communication. The aim is to enable students to develop a conceptual understanding of computer-mediated communication used in adult education and training. This subject examines various types of CMC and their respective features and will focus on conceptual, generic and specific features of CMC as a tool for education and training in various settings. It will promote the understanding and critical analysis of types of CMC application, emphasising its educational features and effective utilisation in various education and training settings.
013347

Issues in Computer-Mediated Adult Education and Training

MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Viktor Jakupec

This subject is designed to provide students with an understanding of computer-mediated communication enabling them to critically evaluate technological, social, educational, historical and gender-based issues involved in new information technologies in education and training. Particular emphasis will be given to the analysis of equity and access issues.

013348

Research Perspectives in Education

MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: John McIntyre

This subject introduces students to ways of approaching educational research through two strands which inform each other. Strand 1 is a personal exploration of interests in and understandings of educational inquiry in the student's context of practice, while Strand 2 develops formal knowledge of research perspectives in educational research and introduces students to key debates regarding the nature of educational inquiry. This subject is a requirement for the MEd (Honours).

013349

Design and Method in Educational Research

MEd
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 013348 Research Perspectives in Education
subject coordinator: John McIntyre

This subject builds on its pre-requisite by developing competencies in designing and conducting research in education. Whereas 'Research Perspectives in Education' introduced participants to the range of perspectives or frameworks for research, this subject aims to deepen their understanding of research practice and methodological issues in educational research.

The subject makes a number of assumptions about the teaching of research to postgraduate students. It emphasises learning to design research as well as the exploration of methodology. It assumes that methodology encompasses more than technique, raising important questions about the philosophies, ethics and politics of research. The subject is designed in three concurrent strands which will: ensure that researchers develop expertise in using a range of appropriate research techniques; assist them to propose, develop and critique a research design employing at least one major research method; and require them to identify a range of methodological issues raised by their proposed research.

Through exploration of relevant research perspectives and traditions and their associated methodologies, participants will define a research problematic and draw out the research issues this problematic implies. They will design research to investigate these issues, seeking insights from different fields and identifying the methodological issues raised by the research approach taken. This thinking will be brought together in a formal research proposal.

This subject contributes to the aim of deepening knowledge of research design and methodology. In doing so, it also contributes one of the components in a pathway to the MEd Honours research degree.

013350

Issues in Educational Evaluation

MEd
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 013332 Understanding Adult Education and Training
subject coordinator: James Athanasou

This subject provides opportunities for students to develop a greater understanding of the operation of program evaluation in a broad range of adult education and training contexts. The issues related to program evaluation dealt with include: concepts, need, purposes, performance indicators and ethical issues.

013353

The Enrichment Tradition in Adult Education

MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Alex Nelson

Proponents of 19th century liberal and humanistic adult education valued the enrichment of learners' lives and the realisation of their potential. Changes in Western society's understanding of human potential and enrichment have altered adult education practices in the fields of community education, human resources development and training. Is enrichment both a valid purpose and necessary constituent of adult education? Dilemmas and opportunities facing adult educators who use processes drawn from therapeutic practice are critically evaluated.

013356
Independent Study Project 1
MED
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 013348 Research Perspectives in Education; 013332 Understanding Adult Education and Training
This subject will enable students to develop higher level skills and knowledge in an aspect of adult education not dealt with in depth in other subjects in the course. The Independent Study Project will involve a student in designing and carrying out, in consultation with a member of academic staff, an individual course of study on a field-based project dealing in depth with an aspect of adult education.

013357
Independent Study Project 2
MED
6cp; prerequisites: 013348 Research Perspectives in Education; 013332 Understanding Adult Education and Training
This subject will enable students to further develop higher level skills in and knowledge of an aspect of adult education not dealt with in depth in other subjects in the course. The Independent Study Project 2 continues the work of Independent Study Project 1. It is conducted in consultation with a member of academic staff and involves an individual course of study or a field-based project dealing in further depth with an aspect of adult education.

013358
Experience-based Learning 1: Learners' Perspectives
MED
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Ruth Cohen
This subject is designed to explore ways in which adults learn from experience in a variety of educational and non-educational settings and how this process might be enhanced. It will examine issues from the learners’ perspective and focus on the learner in context.

013359
Experience-based Learning 2: Facilitators' and Animators' Perspectives
MED
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 013358 Experience-based Learning 1: Learners' Perspectives
subject coordinator: Ruth Cohen
This subject is designed to explore ways in which adults learn from experience in a variety of educational and non-educational settings and how this process might be enhanced. It will examine issues from the perspective of the facilitation of learning and focus on facilitation in context.

013360
Language and Power
MED
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Alison Lee
The subject will cover work within critical linguistics, social semiotics, and post-structuralist theories of discourse and language. The focus is on how discourses work in the construction and maintenance of relations of power in society. The subject aims to develop and strengthen a critical understanding of theories of language and discourse and to apply this understanding, using specific methods of analysis, in different contexts. Case studies of sites for specific analysis will include: policy legislation, classroom and workplace interaction, official documents, the written language of the workplace, academic writing, the media and information technology.

013361
Women and Adult Education
MED
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Sue Knights
This subject offers an opportunity to study the roles of women as teachers and managers in adult education in the community and the workplace. It also covers issues relating to women's participation in adult education in Australia and internationally and women's contribution to theory, policy and research in adult education.
Improving Educational Practice
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
The emphasis of this subject is on ways to improve educational practice through small-scale, local investigations. A range of models and frameworks suitable for researching one’s own practice will be examined and discussed in the light of the particular interests and working contexts of participants. The subject is not about educational research methods in general or about research aimed to foster wider understanding of educational phenomena. However, it draws upon ideas and concepts from both the research and evaluation literature and professional practice.

Supporting Workplace Learning and Reform
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Laurie Field
This subject examines the process by which an enterprise becomes more like a learning organisation against a backdrop of the current industry and enterprise reform agenda. It introduces a number of conceptual shifts that need to occur in areas like work organisation, employee relations and training in order to move in the direction of a learning organisation.

Philosophy of Adult Education
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Paul Hager
The methods of philosophy provide an important complement to the other ways of researching and understanding adult education, e.g. empirical, historical and sociological. This subject will develop students’ capacity to critically analyse adult education literature and deepen their understanding of key concepts, theories and practices in adult education.

Workers’ Education: Comparative Perspectives
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Roger Morris
This subject focuses on the historical development of workers’ education from 1890 to the present in Australia, Britain and North America. Particular attention is paid to the following issues: the nature of historical inquiry and its role in the study of adult education; the nature and purpose of the comparative perspective; themes in worker education, e.g. control of the educational process; pluralism of ideology among adult educators; and the adaptation of imported structures to meet local needs.

Action Research in Adult Education
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
This subject provides the theoretical basis for various forms of action research and action learning which are being increasingly used to improve practice among adult educators and trainers to achieve organisational change. The focus is on doing action research to provide participants with an opportunity to pursue, in depth, an issue or researchable problem related to their practice as adult educators.

Cultural Diversity in the Workplace: Management and Learning
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Nicky Solomon
Cultural diversity is a critical issue in the contemporary workplace. This is in part due to the rapid pace of globalisation and the increasing local demographic diversity as a result of immigration and a more fluid international labour market. At the same time the restructuring of work puts a greater emphasis on culture as a management concept. This subject examines the consequences of these changes for workplace learning whether located in education institutions or in the workplace.
013368
The Psychology of Adult Development
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Bob Pithers
This subject is designed to promote an understanding of the psychology of adult development and ageing. It will focus on those aspects of adult development deemed to be most useful and relevant to the teaching - learning process. It will examine some of the current myths about adult development and ageing using research findings. No prior knowledge of developmental psychology is required, although completion of a prior subject such as Educational Psychology would be useful.

013369
Critical Literacies
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Rosie Wickert
This subject draws on what might loosely be termed the sociology of reading and literacy education. In so doing it explores the kinds of claims made for literacy and how these figure in the various literacy debates. Concepts such as multiliteracies and literacy practices will be examined. Students will be introduced to a range of techniques to develop their own critical literacy. Theoretical perspectives are drawn from critical linguistics, social semiotics and post-structuralist theories of discourse and language. Texts for analysis will include policy reports, classroom and workplace interaction, official documents, the spoken and written language of the workplace, research reports, the media and multimedia. Students will develop materials and negotiate assignments appropriate to their work contexts.

014103
Educational Development and Instructional Design for Flexible Learning
GradCert Flexible Learning
6cp
subject coordinator: Viktor Jakupec
This subject focuses on course development employing a range of educational development and instructional design principles. The aim of this subject is to provide students with an understanding of generic instructional design and educational development features and practices for the purpose of planning, designing and developing flexible learning materials.

014105 Technologies for Flexible Learning
GradCert Flexible Learning
6cp
subject coordinator: Viktor Jakupec
This subject introduces students to a variety of contemporary technologies used in flexible learning settings. The aim is to provide learners with an understanding of characteristics of educational technologies including the advantages and disadvantages. Its purpose is to provide a framework in which educational technologies and their role can be examined in a context of supporting flexible learning.

014107
Principles of Interactive Multimedia
GradCert Flexible Learning
6cp
subject coordinator: Viktor Jakupec
This subject introduces students to a range of theoretical concepts and practical applications in interactive multimedia. The aim of the subject is to allow students to explore principles of interactive multimedia in a context of education and training and to develop a basic understanding of its advantages and disadvantages. The purpose of this subject is to provide students with the knowledge about using interactive multimedia in such ways as to bring about optimal levels of interactivity and synchronicity for a flexible learning situation. It is envisaged that this subject will be developed and offered jointly with the Institute of Interactive Multimedia.
014108

Computer-Mediated Communication
GradCert Flexible Learning
6cp
subject coordinator: Viktor Jakupec
In this subject students are introduced to various concepts of computer-mediated communication. The aim is to enable students to develop a basic understanding of computer-based approaches used in support of flexible learning. This subject will examine various types of CMC and their respective features and will focus on generic and specific features of CMC. It will promote the understanding that each type of application emphasises certain features and ways of working with learners in flexible delivery settings. It is envisaged that this subject will be jointly developed and delivered with the Institute of Interactive Multimedia.

015116

Project
MA AppLing Lang and Lit, TESOL
6cp
This subject encourages students to think analytically and critically about their professional work. It explores the socio-cultural, political, economic and ideological factors that influence educational contexts. By building on the subject 015126 Research Methodologies, it provides opportunities for students to address particular issues or questions relevant to their work contexts by undertaking a small research project.

015117

Professional Skills I
GradCert AdultEd Community
4cp; 2hpw
This subject will develop participants’ skills in helping adults learn in the following ways: by specifying various kinds of learning objectives; by designing and conducting learning events in both formal and informal contexts; by facilitating learning through effective presentation, dialogue and discussion and group work; and by designing and conducting various kinds of experiential learning activity.

015118

Workshop I
GradCert AdultEd Community
4cp; 2hpw
This learning experience provides opportunities for participants to develop and apply knowledge in any of the areas of adult education theory and practice studied in the course.

015119

Theories of Numeracy
GradDip ABE, TESOL TLOTE MA Lang & Lit
6cp; 2hpw
This subject examines the need for a theorising of numeracy and numeracy pedagogy. It analyses existing theories of numeracy, mathematics education, and language education and literacy in order to provide theoretical frameworks for practitioners of numeracy education and training to inform and reflect upon their own practice.

015120

Curriculum and Methodology (TESOL)
GradCert TESOL, GradDip TESOL, ABE MA TESOL; MA Lang and Lit, AppLang
6cp; 2hpw
This subject explores the role of English language teaching in contemporary society and critically examines the theoretical assumptions that underpin various approaches to TESOL. It explores different approaches to syllabus design, methodology and program evaluation with particular emphasis on the teaching of spoken language. As part of this subject, students will be expected to demonstrate competence in teaching TESOL.

015121

Curriculum and Methodology (ABE)
GradDip ABE, TLOTE, TESOL; MA Lang and Lit, AppLing
6cp
Curriculum is viewed as a social construction, shaped by the beliefs and values of the individuals or groups who produce it. Students explore the relationships between curriculum and the broader society, and identify their own assumptions and beliefs about curriculum. They are presented with theoretical frameworks in which to develop skills for implementing and evaluating learning programs for adult literacy and numeracy students in a range of contexts. Consideration is given to assessment of student progress and issues of program evaluation. Students will be expected to demonstrate competence in teaching practice.

015122
Assessment, Programming and Evaluation
GradDip JapLangTech, TLOTE TESOL, ABE, MA Lang and Lit, ApplIng
6cp
This subject has two parts. The first part is programming, which aims to provide students with a framework and skills for planning and evaluating learning programs in TESOL, ABE and LOTE contexts. The second part is assessment which develops a range of assessment and evaluation tools for use in language, literacy and numeracy contexts. A range of approaches to assessment evaluation and program design will be considered. Current issues affecting programming and assessment will be discussed.

015123
Language for Specific Purposes
GradDip TESOL, TLOTE, MA Lang and Lit MEd
6cp
This subject engages students in designing programs to meet the needs of particular groups of learners and in describing language demands in its different contexts of use. The subject will be targeted to the needs of LSP, LOTE, ABE teachers, or school teachers concerned with language across the curriculum.

015125
Phonology and Pronunciation
GradDip TESOL, TLOTE, MA TESOL, Lang and Lit
6cp
This subject aims to provide students with theoretical and practical perspectives on the teaching of pronunciation within a functional approach to language. Phonemic and prosodic aspects of language will be considered, and the role of prosody in contributing to the construction of meaning will be explored. Students will develop strategies for the teaching of pronunciation to learners of a second language, and will also consider phonological aspects of the first language.

015126
Research Methodologies
MATESOL, Lang and Lit, ApplIng
6cp
This subject introduces students to a range of research methods for investigating language, literacy and numeracy learning and teaching. It develops skills for critical reading of research literatures and appropriate academic writing skills. It also develops the skills and knowledge to identify a research topic, design a feasible project and write a research proposal.

015127
Grammar and the Construction of Meaning
GradDip TESOL, TLOTE, ABE, MA TESOL, Lang and Lit, ApplIng
6cp
This subject builds on the functional approach to language and social context introduced in the prerequisite subject 015152 Language in Social Context. It explores the functional organisation of grammar and how it creates meaning both through the classification of our physical, social and psychological worlds, as well as through the dynamics of negotiating and maintaining social and interpersonal relationships. This subject will enable students to develop practical skills in the analysis of the grammar of real-life texts and to develop skills in evaluating the appropriateness and effectiveness of language use. This subject aims for students to develop understanding of the nature and structure of grammar and text and to develop a terminology to talk about the competencies and needs of language learners in the effective teaching of language, literacy and numeracy.

015128
Socio-Political Contexts of Language, Literacy and Numeracy Education
GradDip JapLangTeach, TESOL, TLOTE ABE, MA Lang and Lit, ApplIng
6cp; 2hpw
This subject aims to develop students' knowledge and understanding of the historical, social, political, economic and cultural contexts of language, literacy and numeracy teaching. It explores the multicultural, multilingual society in which Australians live and examines the factors and events which have influenced the development of Adult Basic Education (ABE), Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) and Teaching Languages Other than English (TLOTE). The focus will be on factors at classroom, institution and system level – on past policies and developments and future trends. Techniques of analysis will be developed. Students wishing to develop their knowledge and understanding of language policy and planning in international contexts should refer to the subject 015130 Language Policy and Planning.

015129
Critical Literacy
GradDip TESOL, TLOTE, ABE, MA Lang and Lit, AppLing
6cp
This subject builds on the introduction to relations between language and the social in the subjects: Language in Social Context, Teaching and Learning Literacy, and Teaching and Learning Adult Numeracy. The focus is on how language and discourse work in the construction and maintenance of relations of power in specific sites. The subject aims to develop and strengthen an understanding of theories of language and discourse and to apply this understanding in different contexts. Case studies of sites for specific analysis will include: policy legislation, classroom and workplace interaction, official documents, the spoken and written language of the workplace, academic writing, the media, and information technology. Students will develop teaching and learning resources in critical literacy based on understandings gained in this subject.

015130
Language Policy and Planning
GradDip TESOL, TLOTE, ABE, MED MA Lang and Lit
6cp
This subject will introduce students to social, political and economic perspectives on language planning, language policy and language teaching in an international context. It will examine the way in which some languages become dominant through socio-political forces, and the implications for other languages. The ways in which language planning and policy decisions are implemented through a country’s education system will be examined critically, and the implications for teachers of English or LOTE will be considered. Students will be encouraged to apply the theoretical frameworks presented to the analysis of language planning in a country with which they are familiar or where they intend to teach. The subject 015128 Socio-Political Contexts of Language, Literacy and Numeracy Education focuses on policy and planning issues in the Australian context.

015132
Adult Education
GradDip TESOL, TLOTE, MA Lang and Lit
6cp
This subject is designed to introduce teachers of adults to the field of adult teaching and learning. The major traditions of adult education are covered and students are encouraged to develop their own theoretical stance to their teaching and learning and explore how this translates into their experience as teachers and learners. The impact of recent developments on adult education are also explored.

015152
Language in Social Context
GradCert TLOTE, TESOL, GradDip TESOL, TLOTE, MA TESOL, Lang and Lit, AppLang
6cp, 2hpw
This subject is an introduction to the nature and organisation of language and the relationship between language, text and context for teachers in the fields of TESOL, TLOTE and ABE. It focuses on a functional approach to language. It explores the functional relationship between text and context and the generic organisation of text. This subject aims to develop practical skills in text analysis relevant to educational and workplace contexts and to serve as a foundation for further language studies.

015153
Teaching and Learning Literacy
GradDip TESOL, TLOTE ABE, MA TESOL, Lang and Lit, AppLang; GradCert TESOL, TLOTE
6cp, 2hpw
This subject aims to provide students with the knowledge and skills to enable them to teach literacy in a variety of contexts. It provides an introduction to the relationship between language use and power relationships in our society and an understanding of the nature and development of literacy practices. Students explore the research which supports different concepts of literacy, with particular attention given to the understanding of literacy as social construct. Literacy teaching and learning strategies in L1 and L2 contexts are examined and evaluated in the light of the theoretical frameworks provided in this subject and in the subject 015152 Language in Social Context.

015157

Curriculum and Methodology (TLOTE)

GradCert TLOTE; GradDip TLOTE; JapLang Teach, MA Lang and Lit, AppLang

6cp; 2hpw

This subject is designed to provide an introduction to the theory and methodology in the teaching of LOTE. It includes an overview of past and present trends in methodology and syllabus design and examines goals of language learning. It emphasises the relationship between theory and classroom practice. The practical application of theories of language, learning and teaching to the design of communicative tasks is examined in detail. Students will be expected to demonstrate competence in the effective teaching of LOTE.

015158

Language Development

GradCert TLOTE; MA TESOL Lang and Lit, AppLang, GradDip TLOTE, TESOL

6cp; 2hpw

This subject provides a critical introduction to research into first and second language development with particular emphasis on social and functional perspectives on language learning, drawing out implications for classroom practice.

015163

Phonetics and Phonology and Sociolinguistic Variation in Spoken Language

MA AppLang

6cp; 2hpw

This subject is an introduction to the phonetic and phonological structure of language. It introduces students to the basic conventions and skills in the transcription of spoken language data. Students will develop practical expertise in working with the data of spoken language. The subject also introduces students to the sociolinguistic study of the speech variation in modern urban societies.

015164

Technology-Based Language Learning

GradDip japLang Teach

6cp; 2hpw

This subject provides students with the initial computing and multimedia competencies applicable to the teaching and learning of language. Participants will learn skills in the application and evaluation of a range of computer-based technology within the specific context of language learning. The emphasis is on learning through experience and participants will be expected to undertake projects relating to the classroom applications of the technologies to which they are introduced.

015165

Project

MA AppLang

18cp

This elective subject provides an opportunity for students to undertake an in-depth investigation of an issue or question that is of interest and relevance to them in their professional role. It draws on work undertaken in the subject 015126 Research Methodologies in assisting students to refine a research proposal and then to carry out an investigative study under the guidance of a supervisor. This subject is particularly relevant to students who are thinking of undertaking an EdD or PhD and wish to demonstrate their capacity to undertake research.

015170

English for Academic and Teaching Purposes

GradDip japLang Teach, TESOL, TLOTE, MA Lang and Lit

6cp; 2hpw

This subject is open to all students, but is particularly designed to assist overseas students. It will develop students’ ability to meet the language and technology demands of university courses. Students will develop effective reading and writing strategies for academic literacy needs, drawing on knowledge of reading and writing processes. This subject will analyse key readings from other subjects in the course and provide support to students with writing needs. Other key areas will include the analysis of the discourses of learning and teaching and an examination of the cross-cultural dimensions of these in Australian and overseas contexts.
015245

Learning Journal I
GradCert AdultEd Community
4cp; 2hpw
This subject is aimed at developing participants’ ability to reflect on their practice and to develop their own learning skills. Participants will be required to record significant learning events and to reflect critically upon them. A major criterion is that journal entries should relate to the participant’s work in the field.

015250

Practicum I
GradDip JapLang Teach, ABE, TESOL, TLOTE
6cp
This subject aims to develop initial, practical teaching skills with a focus on management of the learning context, lesson planning and evaluation. The development of these skills is assisted by observation and analysis of lessons given by experienced teachers in the fields of language, literacy and numeracy; by self-evaluation and peer evaluation; by discussions with cooperating teachers before and after teaching sessions; and by keeping a reflective journal.

015253

Practicum 2
GradDip JapLang Teach, ABE, TESOL, TLOTE
6cp
This subject provides students with an opportunity to extend the expertise developed in 015250 Practicum 1. It focuses on practical teaching skills including management of the learning context, and the development and evaluation of teaching and learning activities. Students will observe and analyse lessons given by experienced teachers in their field. They will also undertake supervised teaching and complete a reflective practicum journal.

015261

Developing Community Adult Education Programs
GradCert AdultEd Community
6cp; 2hpw
In this subject participants will examine the theory and practice of designing and implementing a range of educational activities and courses for differing kinds of communities. By examining the work of adult educators from a number of fields, participants will be encouraged to develop their own theoretical framework to guide their practice.

015277

Discourse Analysis
MA ApplIng, Lang and Lit, TESOL
6cp
This core subject builds on participants’ knowledge of functional grammar to introduce them to a range of techniques for discourse analysis which can be applied to spoken and written texts. The orientation will be to the social construction of text and the ways in which features of text are responsible to characteristics of the social and cultural context.

015278

Project
MA ApplIng, Lang and Lit
12cp
In this elective subject participants work with an individual adviser to implement an in-depth study related to a self-chosen topic relevant to any aspect of the MA (TESOL). The completed study will count for 50 per cent of the MA (TESOL) and will be written up as a 12,000-15,000 word research project.

015342

Programming for Diabetes Education
GradCert Diabetes Ed and Mgt
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 015343 Teaching and Learning in Diabetes Education
This subject aims to help participants develop their understanding of the theory and practice related to developing, implementing, supporting and evaluating a variety of diabetes education programs in response to the needs, demands, capabilities and interests of diabetes education clients and providers.
015343
Teaching and Learning in Diabetes Education
GradCert Diabetes Ed and Mgt
6cp; 2hpw; corequisite: 92844 Clinical Management of Diabetes
This subject aims to help participants: identify and critique an overall framework which links the many elements that make up the teaching and learning process; use this framework to improve their professional performance in the design, delivery and evaluation of diabetes education learning sessions in both group and one-to-one contexts; identify various assumptions about what constitutes effective teaching and learning and evaluate their own levels of performance against these indicators; identify and develop the skills necessary for effective self-directed professional learning; and use these to guide their own development as diabetes educators.

015374
Foundations of Experiential Learning
GradCert in Experiential Learning
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Ruth Cohen
This subject is an introduction to experiential learning, its values, theories and practices, historical developments, cultural perspectives, varieties of approach and the application of reflection and critical analysis. Participants will be required to keep a reading log, engage in group work and write a critical essay.

015375
Experiential Learning Strategies
GradCert in Experiential Learning
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Ruth Cohen
In this subject participants learn about the application of experiential learning in diverse educational settings while taking account of different learning styles, and practical and ethical issues. It covers games and simulations, reflective journals, learning workshops, outdoor education, management development, workplace learning, leisure and tourism, art and the theatre. Participants will be required to develop a resources package aimed at the development of high quality practice within their own area of work, document a learning event; maintain a reading log; and develop strategies for peer appraisal.

015376
Program Design, Implementation and Evaluation of Experiential Learning
GradCert in Experiential Learning
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: Ruth Cohen
Parts 1 and 2 of the two subjects under this title are linked and comprise a study of the methods and values characteristic of experiential learning, and the constraints and opportunities for implementation in specific settings. Part 1 allows individuals to research their own practice and carry out field studies to provide evidence of the status quo of experiential education. There are two skills workshop requirements. Participants will have the opportunity to work collaboratively in small teams to design and implement a one-day experiential learning workshop and be expected to attend and participate in one other. These workshops, like the group classes, will take place at weekends. Participants will also be required to maintain a reflective learning journal over the period of the course to record significant learning events and critically reflect on their experience, learning skills and work practices. Assessment includes a personal workplace study, field studies, group research reports and self-assessment and peer assessment.

015377
Facilitating Adult Learning at Work
GradCert Mgt Development
6cp; 2hpw
This subject is designed to ground management development in the process of facilitating adult learning and to link this to the development of 'the learning organisation'. As a core foundation subject it explores how managers can facilitate cultural change and address diversity. It provides a foundation in adult learning theory as well as opportunities to link it to other educational electives. Attendance for this subject will be negotiated over a semester or six one-day weekend (Saturday) workshops, plus set readings.

015378
Advanced Curriculum Design
MA LangLit, MA Applied Linguistics
6cp; 2hpw
This subject explores in-depth curriculum development issues in TESOL, covering the current theoretical debates underpinning TESOL curriculum design and good practice in needs analysis, curriculum development and evaluation.

015379
Program Design, Implementation and Evaluation of Experiential Learning 2
GradCert in Experiential Learning
6cp; 2hpw
Part 2 of this subject primarily focuses on collaborative group research. It moves the focus from local practice to implementation in another setting or to a whole institution or program implementing experiential learning. Participants will examine planning and design of activities, approaches to management and facilitation, methods for appraising outcomes, and monitoring and evaluating the learning process. Attention will be given to the socio-cultural, industrial, institutional and political implications of implementing experiential learning in a range of different settings and approaches that can be taken to facilitate successful implementation of experiential learning. Participants will produce a major collaborative report identifying the status quo and developing recommendations, strategies and advice for practitioners wishing to implement experiential learning. Participants will also be required to maintain a reflective learning journal to record significant learning events and critically reflect on their experience, learning skills and work practices.

015384
Issues in Indigenous Social Research Ethics
MA in Indigenous Social Policy
8cp
This subject explores issues surrounding social research ethics where research involves Indigenous communities. It aims to develop in students a deeper understanding and appreciation of the goals which Indigenous communities might wish to achieve when they initiate or agree to participate in research. Students will be made aware of the impact of research upon Indigenous communities through exposure to issues such as Indigenous intellectual and cultural property rights, responsibilities and custodianship in relation to cultural heritage and the concept of collective ownership. The history and nature of the participation of Indigenous and non-Indigenous peoples within the area of social research will be explored as a means of providing an informed context for contemporary research partnerships.

015385
Research Methods for Social Policy
MA in Indigenous Social Policy
8cp
This subject aims to equip students with competencies in designing and conducting research related to social policy. The approach taken in the subject assumes that methodology encompasses more than technique and raises questions about the philosophies, ethics and politics of research relating to Indigenous social policy.

015386
Indigenous Social Policy: International Experiences
MA in Indigenous Social Policy
8cp
This subject will facilitate comparative study of the relationship between Indigenous communities and social policy process in countries such as Canada, USA, Aotearoa (New Zealand) and Australia. Contemporary perspectives will recognise the increased participation by Indigenous communities in policy process as governments acknowledge Indigenous people's rights to self-determination and self-governance. Critical analysis of past government policies in these countries will heighten student awareness of international trends and diversity within the area of Indigenous social policy process.

015387
Research Design and Appraisal
MA in Indigenous Social Policy
8cp
This subject is designed to assist students in the development of a research design for a substantial project at Masters level (subjects Project 1 and Project 2). The elements of research design and strategies for implementing it will be clarified and analysed. Topics addressed will include identifying a problem or issue for investigation, conducting a literature review, critiquing existing studies and adopting an appropriate methodology. Participants will be required to develop a proposal and critique the proposals of some other participants in the class.
015388/015389
Independent Subject A/B
MA in Indigenous Social Policy
8cp each
These elective subjects enable a student to design and carry out an individual study project relating to Indigenous social policy on a topic not dealt with in depth in other subjects in the course. Examples of projects might include a detailed literature survey in a particular area, a work-based project applying theoretical or analytical tools developed in earlier subjects in the course or an interdisciplinary study using approaches from a number of different subjects.

015390
Project 1
MA in Indigenous Social Policy
8cp; prerequisites: 015384 Issues in Indigenous Social Research Ethics; 015385 Research Methods for Social Policy
Building on the knowledge and skills developed in the subjects Issues in Indigenous Social Research Ethics and Research Methods for Social Policy students will design and carry out a project investigating an area of Indigenous social policy.

015391
Project 2
MA in Indigenous Social Policy
8cp; prerequisites: 015387 Research Design and Appraisal
This subject offers students the opportunity to extend their work for Research Project 1 into a more substantial research project.

015392
Extension Elective
MA in Indigenous Social Policy
2cp
This two credit point subject allows students taking 6 credit subjects from other courses to undertake an additional assessment task which will bring their total credit points to 8 as required for the MA or Graduate Diploma in Indigenous Social Policy.

015393
Psychology of Secondary Students
GradDipEd, GradDip JapLang Teach
3cp; 3hpw
subject coordinator: M Goninan
The aim of this subject is to provide students with an understanding of the principles and patterns of human growth and development in the secondary school years; a knowledge of types of learning and their interaction with teaching approaches; and a knowledge of effective ways of interacting with students.

016001
Workplace Practice 1
GradCert in Adult Education Training, GradDip VET
6cp; 2hpw
This subject is designed to assist participants to develop skills in critical and reflective practice. The subject focuses upon training practices within organisations and considers how the teaching and learning theories studied during the course impact upon professional practices in the workplace. Participants will work closely with a cooperating trainer to document their own work experiences and develop new professional skills. Reflective practice will be encouraged through the use of learning journals, learning partners, self-evaluation and peer feedback, cooperative group work, negotiated learning contracts and team workshops.

016002
Adult Learning and Teaching
GradCert in Adult Education and Training, GradDip VET
8cp; 2hpw
This subject aims to provide participants with the knowledge and skills to plan, implement and evaluate a range of learning experiences in the workplace and in vocational education contexts. Participants will also be able to identify the major schools of adult teaching and learning theory, to critically evaluate learning in a range of contexts and to critique current approaches and practices used in learning. The participants will be able to identify what technologies and media are available and where and when it is appropriate to use them. Emphasis will be given to the social, economic and political aspects of the use of the various types of media and technology.
016003
Language, Culture and Communication
GradDip VET
6cp; 2hpw
This subject aims to provide participants with an understanding of:
• a social theory of language that looks at how language makes meanings in particular contexts;
• multiculturalism and cultural issues in vocational education;
• contemporary approaches to human communication and interpersonal communication strategies essential for effective vocational and adult teaching;
• implications for developing inclusive teaching and learning practices.

016004
Learner Assessment
GradDip VET
6cp; 2hpw
This subject aims to provide participants with the knowledge and skills to plan, implement and evaluate assessment in the workplace and in vocational education contexts. Participants will also be able to critically evaluate the role of assessment in a range of contexts and critique current approaches and practices. This subject has been developed in response to current developments in vocational education and training in Australia, and especially to the increasing responsibility of educators and industry to assess achievement and certify competency.

016005
Workplace Practice 2
GradCert in Adult Education and Training, GradDip VET
6cp; 2hpw
This subject is designed to further develop the professional training skills of participants. The subject focuses on the relationship between the training practitioner and organisational policies and procedures. Students will learn to use their skills in reflective practice to illuminate relevant issues, such as policy implementation, professional development and quality assurance in teaching and learning. Participants will work closely with a cooperating trainer to develop a portfolio which documents their professional experience.

016006
The Professional Practitioner
GradDip VET
6cp; 2hpw
This subject provides an integrative core to the professional field of vocational education and training practice by focusing on the way practitioners acquire knowledge. It also provides an ethical basis for action in various workplace contexts. This subject will also focus on the acquisition of those skills and attributes that enable practitioners to learn about learning through critical reflection on case studies, workplace action research and other forms of problem-based learning.

016007
Program Design and Evaluation
GradDip VET
6cp; 2hpw
This subject aims to provide participants with the knowledge and skills to develop and evaluate vocational education and training programs in the context of the contemporary education and training environment. It also helps participants to critically evaluate these processes within the context of teaching and learning.

016008
Workplace Context
GradDip VET
6cp; 2hpw
This subject provides participants with an understanding of how key educational, social, economic, political and technological issues affect their roles and work environment. It also provides them with opportunities to examine the impact of these issues on their work as vocational educators/trainers.

016710
Independent Project
GradCert Flexible Learning
6cp
subject coordinator: Viktor Jakupec
This subject is designed to be responsive to individual needs of the learner. The purpose of this subject is to allow students to develop a specific project in the field of flexible learning, with the aim to increase their understanding of theoretical and practical aspects of flexible delivery and at the same time develop skills in implementing flexible learning.
016713
Lifelong Education, Research and Practice
EdD
9cp
This subject explores the concepts of lifelong learning and education. The emphasis is on how a commitment to lifelong learning changes educational practice in school, post-school and non-formal educational settings. Case studies will focus on educational innovations which promote lifelong learning opportunities, particularly those innovations which develop links between the different sectors of education and between education and industry or the wider community. Lifelong learning will also be explored as an ingredient of personal work and life expertise and professional development.

016714
Dissertation Development and Appraisal
EdD
9cp
This subject is designed to help participants develop their dissertation plan. The elements of a dissertation and strategies for conducting it will be clarified and analysed (e.g. choosing an area of investigation, conducting a literature review, critiquing existing studies, identifying a problem or issue to be investigated, adopting an appropriate methodology, the concept of a ‘thesis’, planning writing tasks, obtaining feedback from others, referencing, proof-reading, data analysis and interpretation). Participants will be required to develop a proposal, and critique the proposals of some other participants in the group.

016715
Analysing Professional Practice
EdD
9cp
This subject is designed to help participants develop a critical posture in relation to their educational practice and the sites in which they work. A relevant framework for critically analysing practice will be discussed and then applied, illustrated and refined using the participants’ educational sites as case studies. Participants will be required to present their own case study and maintain a portfolio of written comments on the presentations of other participants.

020961
Leadership in Art Education
MEd
advanced teaching study
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: A Bamford
This subject aims to provide students with the opportunity to examine a range of theoretical perspectives on the teaching of art and to reflect on current practices in art education. Students will analyse attitudes and practices in art education and develop effective models for art planning and instruction. Through a variety of approaches, students will investigate key issues and develop advocacy skills related to leadership in art education.

020962
Visual Arts Practice
MEd
advanced teaching study
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: A Bamford
Through involvement in the making of artwork for exhibition, students will critically appraise various pedagogies related to the practice of art making. Students will examine the merits of an artist-based approach within art education and art research. The emphasis on practice within this subject will allow students to extend personal capabilities in art making and exhibition and critically examine the issues of discourse and critique related to visual arts practice. It is intended that students entering this subject have experience in art making in a range of forms.

020963
Arts in the Community
MEd
advanced teaching study
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: A Bamford
Students will access and evaluate a range of community groups and organisations involved both directly and indirectly in arts education. Students will study local, national and international projects where the arts community has worked collaboratively with an arts education provider. Students will develop analytical skills in determining the success of community initiatives in an art education context.
020964
Visual Arts Method
MEd
advanced teaching study
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: A Bamford

Students will be expected to research in-depth current national and international models for arts teaching and to use the information gained to formulate significant models for teaching visual arts. Students will use the latest technologies to access peak bodies in visual arts teaching and to apply this knowledge to develop enhanced teaching skills in secondary and primary schools and in non-school educational situations.

023001
Psychology of Secondary Students
GradDipEd, GradDip Jap. Lang Teach
3cp; 3hpw
subject coordinator: M Goninan

The aim of this subject is to provide students with: an understanding of the principles and patterns of human growth and development in the secondary school years; a knowledge of types of learning and their interaction with teaching approaches; and a knowledge of effective ways of interacting with students.

023002
Meeting Special Needs in the Secondary School
GradDipEd, GradDip Jap. Lang Teach
3cp; 4hpw
subject coordinator: N Todd

The aim of this subject is to provide students with: effective ways of interacting with students; strategies for identifying students with learning or behavioural difficulties; knowledge of how secondary school teachers can meet the challenges presented by students with special needs, including those with learning or behavioural difficulties, and gifted and talented students; and an understanding of the educational issues relevant to the use of alternative curricula and learning contexts, including alternate pathways in post-compulsory education.

023003
The Secondary School: Social Bases and Critical Issues
GradDipEd
4cp; 4hpw
subject coordinator: K Forster

In this subject students will learn about the nature of educational problems in the school and the education system in New South Wales in terms of their social and philosophical underpinnings. They will also: examine the role of the Federal Government in education; explain how social characteristics influence the educational outcomes of certain social groups and identify appropriate policies and programs which address these outcomes; identify and analyse the direction of social and educational change and the interaction between schools and society in this regard; analyse and evaluate alternative viewpoints in relation to some critical educational issues raised; determine their own reasoned and logically supported position in relation to such issues; move towards a commitment to specific policies and practices that follow from the position they have adopted.

023191
Secondary Practicum 1
GradDipEd
12cp; 4hpw plus practical experience
subject coordinator: J Griffin

This subject introduces students to professional practice in the secondary school by combining the theory and practice necessary for effective practitioners. It enables students to examine skills, understandings, procedures and policy issues which are essential for effective practice. The subject further assists students in combining the knowledge and insights which are provided by their experiences in the other subjects undertaken in the program.

023192
Secondary Practicum 2
GradDipEd
12cp; 3hpw plus practice experience
subject coordinator: G Segal

This subject prepares students for implementing current developments in learning and teaching by addressing a range of policy issues and their implications for professional practice. An emphasis is placed upon the development of professional commitment and its implications for lifelong learning. Further integration of theory and practice occurs as students engage in and reflect upon their school-based practice.

023851

Educational Perspectives on the Management of Challenging Behaviours

GradDip Spec Ed

6cp; 3hpw

subject coordinator: M Goninan

This one-semester subject develops an understanding of the theoretical approaches to programming for students who have challenging behaviour. It will also explore the ways in which these approaches have been researched. It examines the criteria for selecting different preventive and management approaches. Students will be given the opportunity to discuss concepts raised in the lecture/workshop sessions, from the perspectives of their experiences in practicum.

023852

Reading and Spelling Instruction for Students with Special Education Needs

GradDip Spec Ed

6cp; 3hpw

subject coordinator: J Jardine

This subject examines the teaching of early reading and spelling to students who fail to learn from normal instructional techniques. Participants analyse and evaluate research on reading and spelling acquisition, apply the findings to the instructional needs of students, and examine and evaluate diagnostic and assessment tools both formal and informal in reading and spelling.

023853

Written Text and Students with Learning Difficulties

GradDip Spec Ed

6cp; 3hpw; prerequisite/corequisite: 023852 Reading and Spelling Instruction for Students with Special Education Needs

subject coordinator: J Jardine

This subject examines ways in which teachers can support and assist students who have difficulty in understanding their school texts and in school writing tasks. Strategies for increasing comprehension, and their applicability to classroom situations, are investigated. The effectiveness of various approaches to facilitating writing is evaluated, and attention is given to both upper primary and high school reading and writing, with an emphasis on non-fiction content areas.

023854

Numeracy Instruction for Students with Learning Difficulties and Disabilities

GradDip Spec Ed

6cp; 3hpw

subject coordinator: N Todd

In this subject participants will critically examine key issues, research and approaches in numeracy instruction for students with learning difficulties and a range of disabilities. They will be provided with information and experiences which will assist them to determine and utilise appropriate assessment tools and develop programs based on the assessment results. Participants will examine adaptation of mainstream mathematics curricula and functional numeracy based on individualised ecological inventories. The role of language in numeracy instruction is also examined, and appropriate and motivating activities and teaching strategies to assist students to effectively learn will be investigated in detail.

023855

Instructional Issues in the Education of Students with Moderate and High Support Needs

GradDip Spec Ed

6cp; 3hpw

subject coordinator: N Todd

In this subject participants will critically examine key issues and approaches in the education of persons with moderate and high support needs. Assessment models and tools appropriate for students with moderate and high support needs will be a component of this subject. Use of assessment data to develop individual education programs to meet students' needs across a range of curricula domains will also be examined. Participants will be given the opportunity to evaluate commercially produced curricula. This subject also involves examination of a variety of transition processes that persons with high support needs may be involved in throughout their lives.
023856
Delayed or Disordered Communication: An Educational Approach
Grad Dip Spec Ed
6cp; 3hpw
subject coordinator: J Jardine
In this subject participants acquire an understanding of language delays and deficits in the context of current theories of language acquisition in oral and non-oral forms. They also learn to evaluate the validity, reliability and educational usefulness of commonly used methods of assessment, consider the issues and procedures involved in the choice of a communication system, and identify effective facilitation methods for both oral and non-oral language in a wide range of contexts.

023862
Practicum 2: Future Directions in Special Education Service Delivery
Grad Dip Spec Ed
6cp; 4hpw
subject coordinator: M Goninan
This subject will examine ways in which services are provided to students with special needs. It will utilise practicum experiences and lecture/workshop sessions to explore delivery systems. In addition, it will focus on how service deliverers and clients can work together to achieve optimum results. There will be a specific focus on the development of collaborative strategies, and an analysis of how these strategies can be used in inclusive service delivery models.

023860
Researching Practice in Special Education
MEd
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: Practicum 1: Exceptional Teaching (includes field experience), or equivalent.
May be taken concurrently with present subject
subject coordinator: M Goninan
This subject helps participants to develop an understanding of the theoretical approaches to programming for people who have learning difficulties and disabilities, and the ways in which these approaches have been researched. It explores research designs used in special education, and analyses their validity and efficiency. Students will be given the opportunity to apply their research skills in a practical situation.

023871
Learning Difficulties and Learning to Read and Spell
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: J Jardine
The purpose of this subject is to enable students to develop expertise in the fields of literacy acquisition and learning difficulties through a systematic study of relevant research. There are two main emphases: issues in the diagnosis and evaluation of reading and spelling; and effective programming and teaching of students who have difficulty in learning to read and spell.

023872
Curricula and Programs for Students with High Support Needs
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: N Todd
In this subject students consider assessment issues for persons with high support needs; review the range of options available for persons with disabilities; and develop their proficiency in devising educational programs and teaching. Research findings are analysed and evaluated as a guide to practice.

023873
Educating Students with Behaviour Disorders I
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: M Goninan
This subject describes the factors which indicate the need for a change in managing student behaviour; discusses the relevance of different theoretical approaches to behavioural intervention; discusses the 'preventive' versus 'remedial' approach to behavioural programming; identifies principles that are successful in changing mild behavioural difficulties in the regular classroom; and analyses the ethical and practical issues that arise in implementing behaviour change programs.
023874
Learning and Communication Disorders
Med
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: J Jardine
This subject is designed to look at the influence of theoretical issues of program design for children who have difficulty establishing oral communication systems. It will examine issues related to the use of augmentative communication and communication in social contexts.

023875
Numeracy-related Programming for Students with Intellectual Disabilities
Med
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: N Todd
This subject develops an understanding of the theoretical approaches to numeracy-related programming for people who have learning difficulties and disabilities, and the ways in which these approaches have been researched. It explores curricular issues in relation to the diverse needs of people with intellectual disability. Students will be given the opportunity to apply their research skills in a practical situation.

023876
Integration
Med
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: M Goninan
This subject examines the philosophical, practical and research bases for integration of students with learning and/or behaviour difficulties into regular educational settings. Students will learn to identify research methods used to evaluate the effectiveness of integration programs; analyse research evaluating educational programs integrating students with learning and/or behavioural difficulties, and conduct a small piece of action research; identify existing support services available to teachers who integrate students with learning and/or behavioural difficulties and analyse the extent to which these incorporate research-based principles.

023877
Reading Comprehension: An Instructional Approach for Primary and Secondary Students with Learning Difficulties
Med
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: J Jardine
This subject investigates how instructional theory develops. It helps students to derive a set of theoretical principles to assist in constructing instructional programs, evaluate existing programs, and measure the effectiveness of instructional procedures with those who fail to learn using normal instructional techniques. It also examines methods of diagnosing and assessing comprehension.

023890
Children with Language Delay and the Language of Learning
Med
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: J Jardine
This subject develops an understanding of the differences between spoken and written discourse and of the challenge these differences present to children whose language is delayed. It also evaluates language delay and language differences in the context of normal language development in reading and writing, and identifies and develops effective teaching strategies for promoting language development.

023901
Managing Change in Education
GradCert in Managing Change in Education
6cp; 2hpw; corequisite: 023902 Workplace Reform and Changing Structures in Education subject coordinator: G Scott
This subject is designed to introduce students to important concepts and strategies relevant to managing change in education. It develops an understanding of the process of educational change in schools and the skills of reflective management necessary to support the innovation process.
023902
Workplace Reform and Changing Structures in Education
GradCert in Managing Change in Education
6cp; 2hpw; equivalent; corequisite: 023901
Managing Change in Education
subject coordinator: G Scott
This subject identifies the attributes of an educational workplace which actively supports the process of continuous quality improvement and innovation.

023903
Managing Innovations: Curriculum Change
GradCert in Managing Change in Education
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 023901 Managing Change in Education; 023902 Workplace Reform and Changing Structures in Education
subject coordinator: K Forster
The content of this subject will vary according to curriculum changes introduced by the government, such as the introduction of Personal Development, Health and Physical Education Syllabus K–12, the proposed new Creative Arts syllabus K–6, and other mandated workplace reforms.
Note: Later, some of the existing Teacher Education subjects will be redeveloped to match the mode of delivery in this course.

023904
Managing Innovations: New Technologies in Education
GradCert in Managing Change in Education
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 023901 Managing Change in Education; 023902 Workplace Reform and Changing Structures in Education subject coordinator: J Ekland
This subject examines how to use new technologies productively in education.

023905
Managing Innovations: New Approaches to Teaching and Learning
GradCert in Managing Change in Education
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 023901 Managing Change in Education; 023902 Workplace Reform and Changing Structures in Education
subject coordinators: J Griffin/G Segal
Within the framework set by the compulsory subjects Managing Change in Education, and Workplace Reform and Changing Structures in Education, this subject provides students with an opportunity to apply concepts of change to the introduction of an innovatory teaching and learning strategy in their school context.

023906
Managing Innovations: Teaching and Learning for Informed Citizenship
GradCert in Managing Change in Education
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 023901 Managing Change in Education; 023902 Workplace Reform and Changing Structures in Education
subject coordinator: K Forster
This subject aims to increase participants' awareness of current approaches to civics and citizenship education; to assist them to critically analyse and evaluate these developments; and to respond effectively in the context of their own professional practice.

023907
Managing Innovations: Changes in Assessment and Reporting
GradCert in Managing Change in Education
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 023901 Managing Change in Education; 023902 Workplace Reform and Changing Structures in Education
subject coordinator: K Forster
This subject aims to increase participants' awareness of new developments in assessment and reporting; to assist them to critically analyse and evaluate these developments; and to respond effectively in the context of their own professional practice.

023961
Educational Leadership in a Technological Society
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: D Hoermann
This subject develops the knowledge and skills associated with the theories of effective leadership as they apply in the educational context. It also identifies and evaluates the technology and technological changes affecting the school and helps to apply this knowledge, and reflects on personal experience of leadership and technology with reference to both the professional literature and the demonstrated effects on the school.
023963
Gender, Power and Education
MED
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject critically analyses theoretical and research approaches to the understanding of gender and power in education; examines critical issues related to the operation of gender and patriarchy in Australian education institutions; critiques literature related to the culture of gender and socialisation processes in the family, school and community; examines gender equity policies and their implications for current and future options in Australian education; and investigates the operation of gender in specific educational contexts.

023965
Introduction to Educational Research
MED
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: L Schaverien
This subject helps participants to: analyse philosophical issues that underpin educational research; examine critical relationships between research and educational practice; develop understandings of methodologies typically employed in educational inquiry; develop skills in selecting methodologies that are most suitable for the problems that students are likely to investigate; and examine the general issues in data analysis.

023970
Curriculum Design and Management
MED
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: L Brady
This subject examines the design, implementation, management and evaluation of curriculum in schools. Situational analysis and the application of the substantive elements of curriculum development to NSW curriculum documents are considered, along with the implementation of new outcomes-based syllabuses, their management in the school situation and the evaluation of curriculum in terms of both policy and practice.

023971
Issues in School and Community Relations
MED
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 023601 School and Community Relations or equivalent
subject coordinator: K Forster
This subject addresses a number of important theoretical issues in the area of school and community relations that require close reflection and analysis. Issues include: participation, representation and democracy in educational decision making; teacher professionalism; accountability to the local community; and community education for social empowerment. The implications of these issues for practice and the improvement of school and community relations are addressed throughout.

023972
Managing Change in Educational Settings
MED
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Forster
This subject seeks to provide students with the knowledge and skills appropriate for managing change in a range of educational settings, especially schools. It is based on a recognition that educational situations are dynamic and that continual modification is essential for the effectiveness of any educational institution. Successful management of change in education, as elsewhere, requires understanding of the processes involved, skill and sensitivity. This subject analyses the requirements of successful implementation of educational innovations by reviewing and appraising current literature in the field, examining and discussing relevant case studies. It also examines and evaluates various models of educational change; develops students' understanding of the issues relating to the evaluation of educational innovations and develops their ability to effectively evaluate a specific innovation; develops or extends students' skills in negotiation, team building, conflict resolution and submission writing, in order to effectively address change; and teaches them to apply literature-based insights and relevant skills for professional practice by undertaking a change project or analysing a case of attempted change arising from experience.
023973

Supervision: The Developing Teacher
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: A Scully
This subject develops the knowledge and skills associated with the principles of clinical supervision as they apply in the educational context, and critically evaluates supervision strategies used in the professional development of both pre- and in-service teachers. Students will select and apply educationally defensible supervision practices, and reflect on their own supervision practice.

023978

Problem-based Learning
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject critically analyses the perceived advantages/disadvantages of PBL; analyses the perceived success or otherwise of PBL in different types of curricula with different groups of students; identifies desirable learning outcomes from the use of PBL techniques; identifies and formulates strategies which may be applied in professional practice; and identifies special difficulties which may arise in the use of PBL techniques and plans strategies to help overcome these difficulties.

023976

Politics in Education
MEd
6cp; 1hpw
subject coordinator: K Forster
This subject develops an understanding of the power relations within education at both the school and system level; examines and evaluates various decision-making models as they apply to the exercise of power in educational contexts; develops skills and knowledge to contribute to the empowerment of school communities; and develops an awareness of how political processes enter into some key policy issues in education.

023979

Special Study in Education
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: G Barnsley
After consultation with a full-time member of staff who agrees to advise and examine the student, and subject to certain conditions, a student may study a selected topic in education which is not available in any other subject.
This subject may be taken only in exceptional circumstances. It does not belong to any of the categories identified above, and students may only undertake one such study.

023977

Action Inquiry into Classroom Discourses
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: C E Deer
This subject examines interactions which arise in the classroom, and uses an action inquiry model to develop and implement procedures which will lead to improved classroom practice. The subject examines the way classroom interaction has been described in education literature, and analyses how the classroom practitioner can describe, implement and evaluate pedagogically sound 'discourses' or interactions.

023981

Qualitative Research in Education
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: L Brady
This subject undertakes a critique of literature related to philosophical, ethical and theoretical considerations for conducting qualitative research in education; develops understanding of a range of traditions such as phenomenology, ethnography, symbolic interactionism, critical ethnography and action research as they apply in educational research methodology; formulates appropriate research problems and designs qualitative research strategies for examining such problems; develops systems and techniques in data collection, reduction, analysis and interpretation; and examines issues of reliability, validity, credibility and reproducibility in qualitative research.
023987
Education for Gifted and Talented Students
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: G Barnsley
Students will be given an introduction to a contemporary, theoretical framework of reference for the design, implementation and evaluation of programs for gifted and talented students. They will develop awareness of, and critically analyse, contemporary mainstream programs and reflect on their own experiences in catering for gifted and talented students in the mainstream.

023991
Minor Independent Study
MEd
12cp; prerequisites: 023965 Introduction to Educational Research or 023981 Qualitative Research in Education; plus two subjects cognate with the topic of the independent study; plus a credit average
subject coordinator: G Segal
This subject allows students to carry out an independent study in an area of their choice, subject to the availability of a supervisor and the approval of the Post-Initial Teacher Education Committee. Students have the opportunity to extend and use their understanding of research in a particular area as well as developing their knowledge of research strategies and skills.

023992
Major Independent Study
MEd
24cp; prerequisites: 023965 Introduction to Educational Research or 023981 Qualitative Research in Education; plus two subjects cognate with the topic of the independent study; plus a credit average
subject coordinator: G Segal
This subject gives students the opportunity to refine a research proposal and to engage in an in-depth study of an issue or problem in education. It provides students with the scope to develop their research abilities and techniques in a serious and sustained way.

023999
Research Literacies
EdD
9cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: A Lee
This subject will enable participants to become competent, sophisticated readers of commissioned research which is intended to inform the teacher on educational policies and practices. The subject has been designed to enable participants to engage in collaborative appraisal of recent research studies as well as to individually analyse and evaluate a study pertinent to the student's field of practice.

024901
Children's Literature 1
GradDip/MA Children's Literature and Literacy
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: R Johnston
This subject develops a critical appreciation of the range of literature available for children in the early childhood to mid-primary age range. It also provides an understanding of the importance of literature in the development of children in this age range, and explores ways of developing the appreciative and critical responses of children to literature.

024902
Children's Literature 2
GradDip/MA Children's Literature and Literacy
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 024901 Children's Literature 1
subject coordinator: R Johnston
This subject traces the evolution of the modern children's novel from traditional tales through the classics, to contemporary writing. It also examines the phenomenon of the 'young adult' novel, explores the social and cultural significance of the literature studied, and considers techniques for enhancing responses to literature.

024903
Research Methodology
GradDip/MA Children's Literature and Literacy
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: R Brill
This subject develops the skills necessary to understand and appraise appropriate research literature, and to plan and implement action research projects. Students will develop a proposal for the independent work they will undertake in Semester 4.
024904

Issues in Children's Literature and Literacy
GradDip/MA Children's Literature and Literacy
12cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: all subjects in Semesters 1, 2 and 3
subject coordinator: R Johnston

In this subject, students will undertake an individual exploration of an aspect of children's or young adult literature or literacy. They will be required to practise research skills and develop expertise in the analysis and synthesis of information. They will present a written assignment of approximately 5,000 words and make an oral presentation to the class group, based on this assignment.

024911

Literacy 1
GradDip/MA Children's Literature and Literacy
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: R Brill

This subject develops an understanding of current theories of language and literacy learning and their implications for literacy learning from early childhood to mid-primary. Students will examine children's early reading and writing behaviours, formulate guiding principles for the design and implementation of a literacy curriculum for this age range, and design and evaluate strategies for the teaching of literacy from early childhood to mid-primary.

024912

Literacy 2
GradDip/MA Children's Literature and Literacy
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 024911 Literacy 1
subject coordinator: R Brill

This subject develops an understanding of the functional model of language and its implications for literacy learning from primary to junior secondary. Students will explore the roles of the proficient reader, the social functions and social construction of literacy, and examine the principles and practices of current curricula.

024913

Literary Theory and Children's Literature
GradDip/MA Children's Literature and Literacy
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: all prior subjects
subject coordinator: R Johnston

This subject considers children's literature in relation to movements in general literature and literary theory. Students will become familiar with the major concepts in structuralist and post-structuralist literary theory and be able to apply these concepts to children's literature so as to develop insights into the nature and value of that literature.

024914

Major Study
MA Children's Literature and Literacy
12cp; prerequisites: all subjects in Semesters 1, 2 and 3
subject coordinator: R Brill

This subject allows MA students to carry out an independent study in an area of their choice. They will identify a topic which justifies investigation and an extension of understanding, survey the current information pertaining to the topic, develop and implement their study and present a report of approximately 15,000 words.

024961

English Teaching Issues
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: R Brill

This subject critically examines current issues which affect the primary English curriculum. It also develops an understanding of the theories of language learning which underpin current issues in English teaching, and develops the ability to reflect critically on, and change, English teaching practices that are problematic.

025001

Learning in Mathematics
GradDipEd
14cp; 8hpw
subject coordinator: G Foley

This year-long subject aims to encourage students to develop their own consistent philosophy of teaching mathematics and to provide a framework on which they may base their teaching of mathematics in the secondary school. They will become familiar with aspects of child development and theories of learning as they relate to mathematics education, and develop understanding of the principles underlying curriculum construction. The link with the practicum will help students to develop the professional insights and competencies necessary for a reflective practitioner teaching mathematics in the secondary school.

025961
Issues in Mathematics Education
MED
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: G Foley

This subject examines aspects of the social context of mathematics education and the nature of mathematics education; identifies and analyses some of the critical issues relevant to the teaching and learning of mathematics; develops awareness of the implications and impact of these issues on mathematics learning; and considers curriculum provisions and teaching strategies which may contribute to the addressing of these issues.

025962
Mathematical Communication
MED
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: S Schuck

This subject encourages the development of research, analytical and professional skills in the investigation of the relationship between mathematics and communication; examines the teaching of mathematics from the perspective of mathematics as a language; considers the extent to which socio-cultural factors influence children’s acquisition and understanding of mathematical language; and investigates and analyses practices and procedures pertaining to the role of communication in the development of children’s mathematical thinking.

026901
Music Therapy Practice 1
GradDip Music Therapy
5cp; 1hpw; 224 hours clinical training practicum
subject coordinator: to be advised

This subject provides a framework of reference for understanding the basic practice of music therapy. This is done through an examination of current methods in music therapy, a review of research trends and an investigation of the philosophical principles on which music therapy is based. The subject includes a study of the physiological and psychological responses to music. Students undertake 224 hours of clinical practice in an institution.

026902
Music Therapy Practice 2
GradDip Music Therapy
6cp; 2hpw; 224 hours clinical training practicum; prerequisite: 026901 Music Therapy Practice 1
subject coordinator: to be advised

This subject approaches the practical aspect of clinical music therapy. It integrates current psychological and theoretical ideas into the context of music therapy method. This subject also extends a student’s communication skills in order to facilitate music therapy practice. Students undertake 224 hours of clinical practice in an institution.

026903
Music Therapy Practice 3
GradDip Music Therapy
7cp; 2hpw; 232 hours clinical training practicum; prerequisite: 026902 Music Therapy Practice 2
subject coordinator: to be advised

This subject addresses the need for the therapeutic process in casework to have direction and purpose. An understanding of the therapeutic processes and programming possibilities is the main concern of this subject. Students undertake 232 hours of clinical practice in an institution.

026904
Music Therapy Practice 4
GradDip Music Therapy
7cp; 3hpw; 232 hours clinical training practicum; prerequisite: 026903 Music Therapy Practice 3
subject coordinator: to be advised

This subject contributes to the professional development of the music therapist by raising the awareness of current concerns, standards, practices and research interests. A case study is made, research project position papers are presented and students undertake 232 hours of clinical practice in an institution.
026911
Music Skills I
Grad Dip Music Therapy
3cp; 1hpw; prerequisite: music skills as required for entry to the subject
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject addresses the consolidation and extension of music knowledge and practical music skills peculiar and essential to the study and practice of music therapy. It is concerned with the student's ability to theoretically and practically harmonise melodies, memorise melodies, construct songs and transpose music. The subject involves the student's ability to accompany songs using a portable instrument. It is also concerned with the development of a personal folio of works suitable for therapeutic application with the young.

026912
Music Skills 2
Grad Dip Music Therapy
3cp; 1hpw; prerequisite: 026911 Music Skills I
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject addresses the development of those skills essential to the practice of music therapy. It looks at the effects of certain harmonic progressions, and at cohesion in tonal and atonal music. It is concerned with the development of skills in basic improvisation. The subject involves the development of basic skills in the use of movement with music. It is also concerned with the development of a personal folio of works suitable for therapeutic application with adolescents.

026913
Music Skills 3
Grad Dip Music Therapy
3cp; 1hpw; prerequisite: 026912 Music Skills 2
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject addresses the development of those skills essential to the practice of music therapy. It is concerned with formal structures and techniques in improvisation, and song composition for specific objectives. Relationships between music and movement are investigated, and sensitivity in improvisatory accompaniment of movement is developed. The subject is also concerned with the development of a personal folio of works suitable for therapeutic application with adults.

026914
Music Skills and Application 4
Grad Dip Music Therapy
3cp; 1hpw; prerequisite: 026913 Music Skills 3
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject addresses the development of those skills essential to the practice of music therapy. It is concerned with the development of the facility to notate and chord from memory and to extend this into performance. The subject deals with accompanying skills both on the student's main instrument and upon a portable instrument and with modes of application with respect to improvisation. It is also concerned with the development of a personal folio of works suitable for therapeutic application with older adults.

026921
Musicianship 1
Grad Dip in Primary Music
3cp; 1hpw
subject coordinator: to be advised
This is a foundation subject of the course in that it establishes a basic understanding of musical concepts and ensures competency in basic skills essential to the teaching of music in the classroom.

026922
Musicianship 2
Grad Dip in Primary Music
3cp; 1hpw; prerequisite: 026921 Musicianship 1
subject coordinator: to be advised
This is a foundation subject of the course in that it is concerned with acquiring knowledge and developing skills essential to the teaching of music in the classroom. It is concerned with the teacher's own musical abilities and understandings, both aurally and theoretically. It introduces various tested devices for the teaching of music such as the use of improvisation in the teaching of concepts and skills. It introduces the teacher to methods of creating rhythmic teaching games, and examines the principles of curriculum construction in connection with musicianship and the child.
026923
Musicianship 3
GradDip in Primary Music
3cp; 1hpw; prerequisite: 026922 Musicianship 2
subject coordinator: to be advised
This is a foundation subject of the course in that it is concerned with acquiring knowledge and developing skills essential to the teaching of music in the classroom. It is concerned with extending the teacher’s own musical skills and understandings, in the aural, theoretical and practical spheres. This subject extends the teacher’s relative pitch sense and harmonising skills and looks at methods of analysing music as well as arranging for voices and instruments.

026924
Musicianship 4
GradDip in Primary Music
3cp; 1hpw; prerequisite: 026923 Musicianship 3
subject coordinator: to be advised
This is a foundation subject of the course in that it is concerned with acquiring knowledge and developing skills essential to the teaching of music in the classroom. It is concerned with extending the teacher’s own musical skills and understandings, in the aural, theoretical and practical spheres. This subject extends the teacher’s relative pitch sense and writing skills.

026931
Issues in Music Education 1
GradDip in Primary Music
3cp; 1hpw
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject has bearing upon the implementation of music programs within a school. It looks at optimum and current practice. It is also directed towards the development of sound research techniques in the area of music education.

026932
Issues in Music Education 2
GradDip in Primary Music
3cp; 1hpw
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject is concerned with developing a secure foundation for the teaching of music and for the devising and implementing of music programs in the school. It looks at curriculum design and the sequencing of concepts and skills in a developmental music program.

026933
Issues in Music Education 3
GradDip in Primary Music
3cp; 1hpw
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject has bearing upon the implementation of music programs within a school. It looks at optimum and current practice. It is also directed towards the development of sound research techniques in the area of music education.

026934
Issues in Music Education 4
GradDip in Primary Music
3cp; 1hpw
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject has bearing upon the implementation of music programs within a school. It looks at optimum and current practice as well as research directions.

026941
Performance Studies I
GradDip in Primary Music
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: to be advised
Students will develop confidence and skills in the performance and selection of vocal and recorder repertoire for the K-6 classroom; develop an understanding of sequential development of vocal and recorder skills; and become familiar with a variety of appropriate teaching strategies using vocal and recorder repertoire.

026942
Performance Studies 2
GradDip in Primary Music
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 026941 Performance Studies I
subject coordinator: to be advised
Students will develop confidence and skills in the performance and selection of movement and dance repertoire for the K-6 classroom. They will also develop an understanding of sequential development of movement and dance skills, extend performance skills on the descant and treble recorders, and develop elementary performance skills on the tenor and bass recorders.
026943

Performance Studies 3
GradDip in Primary Music 3
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisite: 026942 Performance Studies 2
subject coordinator: to be advised

Students will develop confidence and skills in the performance and selection of percussion and ensemble repertoire for the K–6 classroom. They will also develop skills in arrangement and composition for classroom and extracurricular ensembles, including vocal and percussion ensembles and recorder consorts.

026944

Technology and Music Education
GradDip in Primary Music
6cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: basic skills in the operation of the Macintosh computer
subject coordinator: to be advised

This subject develops skills in the use of the Macintosh computer, related MIDI devices and relevant software application programs as they apply to the teaching of music in the primary classroom.

027001

Learning in Personal Development, Health and Physical Education
GradDipEd
14cp; 8hpw
subject coordinator: D Clarke

This subject provides students with the opportunity to examine relevant school syllabuses and policies and apply these documents in their preparation of programs and lessons. It develops students' professional understanding and skills and encourages them to develop as reflective practitioners by providing models of teaching excellence. The subject comprises compulsory modules which enhance students' ability to teach PDHPE.

027901

Dance Method 1: Performance and Teaching
GradCert in Dance Education PIT
6cp; over one semester
subject coordinator: D Clarke

This subject provides an opportunity to explore the techniques of Modern, Jazz, Folk and Latin and American dance within the context of safe dance. It assists participants to translate the content of Modern, Jazz, Folk and Latin and American dance into teaching strategies. The emphasis of the subject is on teaching dance in the school context.

027902

Dance Method 2: Composition and Teaching
GradCert in Dance Education PIT
6cp; over one semester
subject coordinator: D Clarke

This subject examines the processes and structures of dance composition as well as the performance skills necessary to interpret, express, communicate and sustain the intention of the choreographer in Modern and other dance styles. Participants develop two complete dances and will engage in improvisation tasks related to problem solving and reflective thinking. They discuss the part played by these processes in their own approach to dance composition and the way they teach it to their students.

027903

Historical Perspectives: Appreciation of Dance in the 20th Century
GradCert in Dance Education PIT
6cp; over one semester
subject coordinator: D Clarke

This subject covers the history of Modern and related dance styles in the century. Participants study international seminal artists and choreographers, as well as significant Australian dance artists, choreographers and companies, within the context of K–12 dance curricula.

027904

Issues in Dance Education
GradCert in Dance Education PIT
6cp; over one semester
subject coordinator: D Clarke

This subject explores issues related to the variety and quality of dance education offered in schools in NSW, K–12.

027962

Teaching Controversial Issues in Personal Development, Health and Physical Education
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: D Clarke

The subject aims to improve teaching practice in the areas of personal development, health and physical education by critically analysing the implications of current educational trends and issues for curriculum development. It helps students to review curriculum documents; develop skills in contextual analysis that will enable them to develop and improve curricula; evaluate available resources for teaching controversial topics; and develop teaching units for the presentation of sensitive topics.

027963
Values Education in Personal Development, Health and Physical Education
Med
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: B Tremayne
This subject examines the pluralistic nature of Australian society and analyses political issues in relation to the role of school, in particular to the provision of values education. It helps students to critically review the literature related to theory, research and practice of values education; identify and analyse contemporary issues and current trends in educational policy and their implications for values education; critique theories of moral and social development; devise strategies for developing values education through personal development, health and physical education curriculum that has societal, cultural and community relevance; and develop skills in teaching values in the primary personal development, health and physical education curriculum.

027965
School, Sport and Society
Med
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: to be advised
This subject helps students to analyse the role of sport in Australian society and its relationship to education; analyse school sport structures; compare and contrast school sport in Australia with international models; examine controversies that influence sport in an educational context; and examine policies which will improve the quality of sports delivery in schools.

028001
Learning in Science 1
GradDipEd
7cp; 8hpw
subject coordinator: G Segal
This subject aims to develop the craft of teaching science while blending professional skill with suitable academic insights. The students will develop a range of approaches and strategies to use in the classroom and laboratory which reflect research findings in science education. They will develop a philosophy of teaching science consistent with current syllabuses and policies and demonstrate understanding of the professional insights and demands of the practising science teacher.

028002
Learning in Science 2
GradDipEd
7cp; 8hpw
subject coordinator: J Griffin
This subject aims to prepare proficient beginning teachers in science. It is intended as a foundation for continuing professional development. On completion of this subject students will be able to apply their educational studies to the teaching of science; to design, organise and evaluate methods and materials for science teaching; and to use the theoretical framework as a basis for their future careers in science teaching.

028961
Learning in Science and Technology
Med
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: G Segal
This subject equips students with advanced theories on learning and methods for investigating and recording learning within a developmentalist framework. It requires critical reflection on those theories, methods and conclusions.

028981
Advanced Science Education
M Teach
8cp; 2hpw; corequisite: 028982 Research in Science Education subject coordinator: M Cosgrove
This subject, the core of the course, presents (1) an overview of the major developments in science curricula over the past 200 years,
(2) the theoretical and cultural influences which shaped those curricula, and (3) opportunities to review alternative learning environments such as those mediated by television, the Internet, interactive multimedia and science centres and museums.

028982
Research in Science Education
MTeach
8cp; 2hpw; corequisite: 028981 Advanced Science Education
subject coordinator: L Schaverien
This subject will assist students to become knowledgeable, confident and discriminating science education researchers as they review the studies of the major research groups, identify the various ways of conducting science education research and prepare a research proposal.

028983
Studies in the History of Science and Science Education
MTeach
8cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 028981 Advanced Science Education; 028982 Research in Science Education
subject coordinator: M Cosgrove
This subject provides opportunities to study aspects of the histories of the sciences and to examine their relevance to science education. Students will consider the evolution of the sciences from natural philosophy (from a study of Kuhn's, Popper's, Ziman's and Musgrave's descriptions of the scientific process). Particular attention will be given to understanding the paradigm location of scientific theory as a foundation for scientific principles and facts, thus opening up the possibility of comparing scientists' world views with those of others seeking to make sense of the world, including children. Students will have the opportunity to read original treatises in a field of science.

028984
Issues in Science Education
MTeach
8cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 028981 Advanced Science Education; 028922 Research in Science Education
subject coordinator: G Segal
This subject enables students to survey issues associated with current science teaching practice (e.g. issues of knowledge, of delivery and of inclusion) which are seen as barriers to successful learning by large or small proportions of the student population.

028991
Research Project
MTeach
8cp; 2hpw; prerequisites: 028981 Advanced Science Education; 028982 Research in Science Education; 028984 Issues in Science Education
subject coordinator: M Cosgrove
In this subject students will have the opportunity to examine the theory and practice of science education by making an in-depth and original study of an aspect of that field. The aim of a thesis study in this course is to engender the view that science teaching and learning are likely to be advanced where critical scholarly practices are brought to bear on classroom practice and curriculum development by teachers themselves.

029901
Aboriginality, Power and Education
MEd
6cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: J Jardine
This subject helps students to critically analyse theoretical and research approaches to the understanding of Aboriginality and power in education; examine critical issues related to the suppression of Aborigines in Australian education institutions, particularly in primary and secondary education; critique literature related to Aboriginal culture and the socialisation process in the family, school and community; examine Aboriginal education policies and their implications for current and future options in Australian education; and reflect on one's own assumptions to develop a personal professional philosophy of Aboriginal education in specific educational contexts.
SUBJECTS OFFERED BY OTHER FACULTIES

21717
International Management Postgraduate
6cp
Encourages participants to study how people in other countries go about conducting business and managing their enterprises; ascertain the reasons behind their various management practices; assess their effectiveness; and determine the implications for Australian managers. Helps develop an integrated world view to provide a better basis for decision making within the international business arena.

21719
Organisational Behaviour
Postgraduate
6cp
Uses research and theory from the behavioural sciences to explore human behaviour at work. Introduces students to the basics of individual psychology which is then critically applied to the fields of motivation and job design. Applies social psychology's work on group dynamics to the management of work groups and committees. Various theories of leadership are examined and critically addressed. The question of intergroup behaviour and organisational conflict is discussed. The subject takes a more critical approach to management theory and practice.

21720 Employment Relations
Postgraduate
6cp
This subject presents an introduction to the areas of industrial relations and human resource management. Topics covered include historical steps in the development of the human resource function and the forces that have shaped its development; major functions of employment relations managers; the relationship between the human resource and industrial relations functions in the modern organisation; the nature of industrial relations and the contribution to understanding made by several conflict theorists; the structure and functioning of formal industrial relations; the form and function of the employer and employee organisations, parties to employment relations; and the nature of efficiency restructuring and enterprise bargaining and their impact upon the management of employment relations.

21724
Human Resource Management
Postgraduate
6cp
Develops the ability to locate, critically analyse and explain the relevance of the recent literature in key areas of Human Resource Management (HRM). Emphasises strategic models of HRM, and the links between HRM and recent trends in management theory and practice.

21725
Organisational Change and Adaptation
Postgraduate
6cp
Develops an understanding of strategies, methodologies, and intervention techniques and skills in managing planned oradaptive organisational change. Consists of two components—a knowledge component and a skills component. The former will be presented through normal lecture discussions. The skills component will be covered through group involvement in an ongoing or potential organisational change problem, through which a group will act as a team of change agents. Results of their efforts will be presented in a two-day non-residential workshop at the end of the semester.

21755
Australian Management
Postgraduate
6cp; for Master of Business in Management students only Provides an appreciation of the management processes and frameworks through an examination of various theoretical and empirical studies, with special consideration of developments within the Australian business environment. Students are given the opportunity to apply their understanding of management to Australian case studies. Based on a consideration of the skills, knowledge and resources required for effective management, students will prepare an action plan for their own development as managers.
50140

Modernisation and Social Change

(Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences)

8cp; 4hpw

The aim of this subject is to provide students with an understanding of the processes of modernisation and social change in a comparative context using case studies in countries of Western Europe, Latin America, East and South-East Asia. The lectures will highlight a number of key issues, for example whether the processes of social change are universal or specific; the consequences of modernisation in and for the economy, politics, society, culture and ideology of non-Western societies; and whether the established Eurocentric analytical models are still useful in understanding the modern world. It will be emphasised that differing interpretations of modernisation flow from various relations of power which lead to a multiplicity of views on its meanings and significance.

50290

Australian Indigenous Social Policy

8cp

This subject will introduce students to the goals and initiatives which Aboriginal communities in Australia have demonstrated over time as they have tried to establish meaningful survival strategies in colonised Australia. Students will develop skills in analysing the interactions between Aboriginal community policies and initiatives and those of their colonisers, from the initial invasion and ‘dispersal’ through the management of pastoral labour, the removal of children and enforced moves away from country, to the more recent conflicts over the meaning of ‘self-determination’, ‘native title’ and ‘reconciliation’. The differences and contradictions between the policies of various states and later between Federal and state governments will be studied to investigate how Aboriginal people have pursued their goals in the face of sustained repression and conflicting, complex policy environments.

50291

Australian Political and Social Systems

8cp

In this subject students will become familiar with the broad structures of contemporary Australian political, legal and social systems, in both the public and private spheres. Students will strengthen their skills in identifying social groups and their interrelationships, as well as learning to utilise the tools of class, gender and ethnicity analysis to understand power relationships across the many formations in Australian societies. Indigenous people’s relationships with the colonising society in Australia will be studied in relation to these broader patterns, to identify the unique aspects of those relationships but also to locate commonalities with the experiences of other social groups.

50292

Policy Processes in Australian Indigenous Settings

8cp

This subject offers the opportunity to study the development and implementation of a number of social policy initiatives in Australian Indigenous settings. Using case study material, field visits where possible and input from visiting speakers with first hand experience of the implementation and impact of different social policies students will be encouraged to apply a critical approach to Indigenous social policy management in its cultural and social setting.

52220

Aboriginal Social and Political History

8cp; prerequisites: Aboriginal Cultures and Philosophies or Social and Political Theory

This subject is a campus-wide elective and also a second core subject for the Aboriginal Studies major. It will examine and analyse the impact of colonialism on indigenous peoples, with particular reference to the Aboriginal inhabitants of this region. The emergence of Aboriginal social and political movements will be presented as the basis for repossession of traditional heritages in land and culture.

52221

Gender at Work

8cp

Gender is a central organising principle of work. This subject examines patterns of women’s and men’s participation in paid work and the social, historical, economic and political factors implicated in these patterns. Segmentation in the labour market and segregation in the workplace are analysed with particular reference to gender inequalities and relations of power. Taken for granted assumptions about gender fundamental to the way work is organised at the wider social level, and to how individual jobs are designed, are examined and various explanations for the gendered nature of work are critically evaluated. Particular emphasis is given to the experiences and meanings of work in men's and women's lives, and to the relationship between work and gendered personal identity. The subject evaluates anti-discrimination legislation, and equal employment opportunity and affirmative action programs as strategic interventions aimed at de-gendering the institutions and conditions of work. How the principles of gendered work organisation operate will be studied in various workplace settings, enabling students to relate theory to practice.

Gender, Culture and Power

8cp; prerequisite: Gender at Work or 16cp at the 200 Level in the major

This subject addresses the social and historical construction of gender and sexuality, and the relation between social structure, cultural practices and power relations. Strategic points for the operation of power—such as the family, work and sexual relations—are examined and analysed from a range of perspectives and in terms of interactions with representational and discursive practices.

55108

Practicum 7: Managing Information Services in the School Library

BEd T Lib

8cp; 13 days in primary school library and information provision project (17 days); prerequisites: Practicums 1 to 6; corequisite: Issues in Teacher Librarianship 3

subject coordinator: to be advised

This year-long subject aims to provide an understanding of the management role of the teacher librarian within the school library as it relates to management of information, services, systems, facilities, and to budgeting and personnel supervision. Students also assess their own professional development needs and implement a plan to meet these.

55431

Information Science 1

BEd T Lib

4cp; 3hpw

subject coordinator: to be advised

This subject provides a foundation for the study of the theory of information science. It presents an overview of the historical development of information science and an introduction to basic concepts such as information and information transfer. The subject draws on a range of theoretical and empirical literature to demonstrate the development of thinking about information science. It is also designed to make students aware of the environment for information provision and the variables influencing this environment.

55432

Information Science 2

BEd T Lib

4cp; 3hpw; prerequisite: 55431 Information Science I

subject coordinator: to be advised

This subject introduces students to the constructs, concepts, models and theories relevant to information-user behaviour and information behaviour models, and presents the assumptions or world views underlying them. Particular attention is paid to the variables which differentiate groupings of information users and are thought to predict or influence information behaviour. Empirical research findings are used to illuminate and evaluate concepts and models. A marketing model provides a framework for the unit in that it is devoted to target groups and market segmentation.

55433

Information Science 3

BEd T Lib

4cp; 3hpw; prerequisite: 55431 Information Science I

subject coordinator: to be advised

This subject examines and evaluates principles, theories and conceptual frameworks for the organisation of information and information resources for eventual retrieval in relation to a specific need. It deals with approaches to organisation and control based on intellectual content as well as those based on physical arrangements of information and information resources, against the background of a consideration of a variety of approaches to analysis. Further development of the skills of analysis, description and evaluation will be stressed.

55434
Information Science 4
BED T Lib
4cp; 3hpw; prerequisites: 55432 Information Science 2; 55433 Information Science 3
subject coordinator: to be advised

This subject examines the theoretical foundations of information retrieval, including the principles on which information retrieval systems are based and the human and technical processes in the interaction between end-users, intermediaries and systems.

55435
Information Science 5
BED T Lib
4cp; 3hpw; prerequisites: 55432 Information Science 2; 55433 Information Science 3
subject coordinator: to be advised

This subject introduces students to theories, concepts and principles relevant to the design of information services and products. Students will read the work of major contributors to the area, explore various approaches to designing information services and products and apply the concepts and principles of information service and product design to the presentation of information.

55441
Issues in Teacher Librarianship 1 (revised)
BED T Lib
4cp; 2hpw; over two semesters; corequisites: 55431 Information Science 1; 55432 Information Science 2
subject coordinator: to be advised

This full-year subject will enable students to assess the role of the teacher librarian as an information professional who functions within the educational environment. Students will critically read and apply the professional literature; evaluate information resources appropriate for the educational context; apply knowledge of information behaviour and use to the school/school library environment; and assess issues related to the provision of information services in schools.

55442
Issues in Teacher Librarianship 2 (revised)
BED T Lib
6cp; 3hpw over two semesters; prerequisite: 55441 Issues in Teacher Librarianship 1; corequisites: 55433 Information Science 3; 55434 Information Science 4
subject coordinator: to be advised

This subject enables students to apply theories and principles for the organisation of information and information resources to the school library environment. Students will analyse information resources according to content, subject and form and will apply methods of classifying and indexing information materials and compiling subject heading lists. Students will also apply principles of information retrieval to the school library and its users.

55443
Issues in Teacher Librarianship 3 (revised)
BED T Lib
6cp; 3hpw over two semesters; prerequisites: Issues in Teacher Librarianship; corequisite: 55435 Information Science 5
subject coordinator: to be advised

In this full-year subject students will evaluate the range of information resources, products and services appropriate for educational purposes and assess their role in developing, supporting, extending and enriching the curriculum. The role of information literacy development will be stressed. In addition, the management role of the teacher librarian will be emphasised. Students will also have the opportunity to explore the range of current issues related to information provision within the educational environment.

92814
Clinical Studies 1: People and Health Care
Grad Dip Music Therapy
5cp; 2hpw
subject coordinator: K Kellehean

This subject aims to give students a foundation knowledge of the growth and development of the person across the life span, within complex environments including health care settings. It examines the contribution of theories of human growth and development to an understanding of people in health care. Students analyse the multiple factors that impact upon the delivery of health care.

92815

Clinical Studies 2: Health, Illness and Disability

GradDip Music Therapy 3cp; 1hpw; prerequisite: 92814 Clinical Studies 1: People and Health Care

subject coordinator: K Kellehear

This subject will enable students to understand patterns of health, illness and disability in the community. It will enable students to understand the aetiology, clinical features, therapeutic interventions and management programs for people with selected disorders, relevant to music therapy practice across a range of settings.

92816

Clinical Studies 3: Interventions in Health Care

GradDip Music Therapy 3cp; 1hpw; prerequisite: 92815 Clinical Studies 2: Health, Illness and Disability

subject coordinator: K Kellehear

This subject is concerned with the range and scope of interventions and management strategies available for clients requiring health care. It looks at intervention for clients with a range of mental health problems and psychiatric disorders. It looks at therapeutic interventions using behavioural interventions and psychotherapeutic interventions. It is concerned with counselling skills and with loss and grief counselling. Legal and ethical rights and responsibilities of clients and therapists are also addressed.

92844

Clinical Management of Diabetes

6cp; workshop

This subject aims to help participants base their understanding of the clinical management of diabetes upon a sound theoretical foundation in the pathophysiology of the disease process; relate physiological processes of diet, exercise, foot care and medication to the clinical assessment and management of diabetes; appreciate the psychological, social and spiritual aspects of living with a chronic illness such as diabetes.

92845

Primary Health Care

Postgraduate 6cp; workshop; prerequisite: 92844 Clinical Management of Diabetes

This subject aims to help participants to understand the influence and impact of cultural, political and socioeconomic systems on individual's and communities' health and wellbeing; examine ways of developing partnerships within a primary health care framework in relationship to diabetes education; and apply research principles in the investigation and examination of resources for the education and treatment of diabetes.

95556

Technology, Society and Change

BEd (Prim), BEd (Spec Ed), BEd T Lib 6cp; weekly and/or flexible mixed mode delivery; pre/corequisite: 48cp or permission of subject coordinator

subject coordinator: L Schaverien

This interdisciplinary subject, offered to students across the University and taught by a cross-Faculty teaching team, will consist of three or four modules, each of which examines and illustrates the interdependence and tensions between technology, society and change. Students will identify the need for, the power of and the limitations of theories which explain and shape interfaces between technology and society. Critical analyses of well-chosen case studies will provide students with a basis for constructing a conceptual framework with which to evaluate social and technological developments and change.
